Movie-goers who love the gay, the lavish and the utterly different in screen entertainment ought to hold a public celebration — complete with dancing in the streets—for the first Erik Charell film production made in Hollywood.

In 'Caravan,' the memorable Fox Film musical spectacle which comes to The New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, October 29 and 30, this noted continental director has created one of the most brilliant and original screen plays ever shown in a local playhouse. For sparkle, color and gayety, it is unsurpassed.

Lavishly produced at the Fox studios, with Hungarian villages, castles, inns and vast Gypsy caravans swiftly alternating as backgrounds, 'Caravan' tells a romantic love story in a delightful new vein. The setting is idyllic — the grape country of Tokay during the wine harvest—and a quartet of leading players as vivid as the setting carries forward the story to a spectacular finish.

Charles Boyer, favorite stage and screen star of the continent, heads the cast as a dashing Gypsy musician. The glamorous Loretta Young appears as a gay young countess. Jean Parker and Phillips Holmes complete the steller quartet. All four of them are superbly cast.

Though 'Caravan' does not classify a the conventional screen 'musical' in any sense, music plays an important part in the smooth and effortless flow of its story. So stirring and radically different is the use of music that probably the picture will introduce a new era of musical production.

Charell has evolved a new technique to insure the smooth flow of action in 'Caravan.' This he has termed 'rhythmic fluidity.' Abolishing the usual jerky pattern of 'close-ups' and quick 'cuts,' he moves his camera freely from one phase of his story to the next, without breaking the easy movement of his players or the mood they have established.

The music, especially composed for 'Caravan' by Werner Richard Heymann, is of enormous value in gaining this effect of ease and flow. Three songs are outstanding, the romantic 'Wine Song,' a bubbling dance number, 'Ha-Cha-Cha,' and 'Happy, I Am Happy.' Other melodies are employed throughout to point the moods and movement of the gay comedy.

In addition to the four leading players, such personalities as Louise Fazenda, Eugene Pallette, C. Aubrey Smith, Charley Grapewin, Noah Beery and Dudley Digges offer fine performances in strong roles. Semson Raphaelson transcribed 'Caravan' to the screen from a story by Melchior Lengyel. Robert T. Kane is listed as executive producer.

Cecil B. DeMille motion picture director, and master of the spectacle, has turned to the pages of history for his newest Paramount film which is entitled 'Cleopatra,' and which shows on Wednesday and Thursday, October 31 and November 1, at the New Lyceum.

With Claudette Colbert, Warren William and Henry Wilcoxon playing the principal parts, 'Cleopatra' brings to the screen all the talent of this pioneer dirctor, who has come up from the beginning of motion pictures, more than twenty years ago, with each new film topping his previous one.

That his metier is the kind of film making shown here is beyond all doubts. In every lavish, glittering, fascinating sequence, the genius of DeMille speaks out in bold, clear strokes. 'Cleopatra' is indeed the finest thing he has done.

Taking the exciting love affairs of Egypt's glamorous queen for his story basis, DeMille weaves his pattern on a background of Rome and Egypt in all their glory and grandeur. More than 5000 people appear in the film, which tells in dramatic fashion how Cleopatra and Marc Antony, the Roman leader, linger at love while mighty Empires totter about their very feet.

The supporting cast is complete with many of Hollywood's best players. Amng those whom you will see are Ian Keith, Joseph Schildkraut, C. Aubrey Smith, Gertrude Michael, Irving Pichel, William Farnum, Bryant Washburn, Robert Warwick, Edwin Maxwell and Harry Beresford.

Waldemar Young and Vincent Lawrence wrote the screen play which was adaptd to the screen by Bartlett Cormack.

The program at the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, November 2 and 3 will consist of the usual big week end double feature special. 'The Sude Ranger' strange George O'Brien is a new western hit and 'I'll Fix it' with Jack Holt in the leading role is a thrilling comedy from Columbia pictures.

160 YEAR OLD FORMULA USED IN SCHMIDT ALE

In 1774, two years before the Declaration of Independence was signed, Rbert Smith began brewing a rich, ripe, creamy ale which took the American clonies by storm. This rich October ale, which Smith named Tiger Head Brand Ale, was conceded the best in those thirteen colonis; even better than that brought from England.

Although Robert Smith died, his work lived on as the Robert Smith Company continued to use the same formula their founder had perfected. In 1880 C. Schmidt & Sons Brewing Company, then in business 20 years and well known for beer, purchasd the Robert Smith Company and continued the brewing of this ripe, golden ale, still using R obert Smith's original recipe.

Schmidt's continued using the same formula until Prohibition. During those 15 years of drought Tiger Head Ale was never forgotten. It lingered fondly in the memories of those who like good ale.

Last week this famous old brew had a triumphant return, being again available in pint bottles and on draught. In taprooms, restaurants, clubs and homes its golden color again delights the eye while its rich flavor soothes the palates of old friends and hosts of new ones. Uniform, fine quality and wholesome goodness is insured by Schmidt's special ale equipment, plus three generations of brewing experience and Robert Smith's 160 year old formula.

As a companion brew, Schmdt's Tiger Head Brand Porter also returns as full of good cheer and good health as ever. This strengthening, health building tonic is especially recommended for invalids, convalescents and nursing mothers.

With the popularity that Tiger Head Brand Ale enjoyed before Prohibition, its return will be welcomed by all those who appreciate an honest ale of quality.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless use of strong laxatives may do more harm than good.

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gently helps the average person's bowels while nature is restoring their regularity. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. At all druggists, ready for use, in big bottles.
