WILLIAM S. COLLINS

Now the big affair is over it is about time for things to click. Better attendance at everything. Aside from church suppers there has been a report of poor attendance from every source. Boxing bouts at Centreville drew a rather small crowd last Friday evening but a first rate card and a better attendance is expected next week. A first rate fish fry and oyster scald staged at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club by Mr. Crouch and sons, of Piney Neck was poorly attended, and, by the way, it is the first event that has not been a howling success since Mr. Philip G. Wilmer has been chairman of the entertainment committee. Even the Cross Street celebration was not quite the howling success of former years. Although it drew a tremendous crowd, it has all been blamed on the electon. Now that is over, et's see things step.

The defeat of Governor Ritchie came as no surprise to many Democrats. It has been known that some of the smaller Democratic leaders in the city have been openly working for Nice. Many of the Federal officials in the State were talking Nice. News of Ritchie's defeat was greeted with delight in official Washington.

The waterman of the State were almost solidly against Ritchie and nothing could change them. Ritchie's group were well aware of this fact. In St. Marys' it was reported that Nice made some promises and that it was impossible to shake the watermen. The Democrats knew it was going to be close, but they thought they could win. In the State-wide contest they lost by 6,000. The Eastern Shore did better for Ritchie in this election than they did four years ago. Baltimore City and the Southern Maryland woods turned the tide.

All over the Country since the Hoover election, the 'Ins' have been going out and 'Outs' have been coming in. Taking Maryland as a whole the Democrats made out very well. In Kent we lost on the Governorship and sheriff, but won every other office.

The local Republicans waged a hard fight and out-worked the Democrats. Before the election they were telling 'Us' Democrats that they would win the Senatorship by a good majority and likewise the Register of Wills and Sheriff. Also they claimed they would win every office except the clerk. Needless to say this worried the Democrats. The results except in two cases were very pleasing. There will be several appointments in Kent County by the Governor and there will no doubt go to the defeated candidates should they desire them.

One defeated candidate tells us he was very much disappointed in not being elected and disappointed still more at the majority piled up against him. He says it was the best chance in along while the Republicans have had and in that we agree with him.

The sheriff situation for the Democrats is getting bad and defeats the principle of primary elections. Primaries are good for a party but certainly not of the backers of the defeated bolt in the election.

And there is also those who love to have their fun. Bates Russell, Jr., is claiming the job of Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and is telling the boys just to send him the money. Tom Gale is slated to be way up in there.

Leaving all fun aside there are some that think a rather young salesman in town will be Police Justice.

Washington College Alumni Meetings are getting to the point where they are real peppy affairs and in all probability will be great successes in the future.

PERSONALS

Dear Roamer,

Just a note this week to tell you that I am thinking of you, but that news of a social nature is sadly lacking. All I've heard, and I'm sure you are in the same boat with me where you live, is election. Now that it is all over, perhaps my news will pick up and I'll have something for you next week.

We have all been staying home, I can't say going to bed early exactly, for the very election itself has kept as up many night, but that comes under politics and not social wanderings.

Ducking season opened Thursday and now when husbands come trailing home with ducks over their shoulders, the sweet little wives will immediately think of someone or ones to whom she owes a dinner and then, well—the annual ducking dinner parties become the vogue. So dear Roamer, I am asking your pardon for my nonenity and hoping to do better by you next week.

Yours for ducks,
The Wanderer.

Charles Dole who was recently operated on for appendecitis, is home for a visit to his mother, Dr. Esther M. Dole, until Monday.

Mrs. Allan Harris spent a few days in Baltimore this week as a guest of Mrs. Arthur Bradley.

Mr. James G. Metcalfe has returned from a hunting trip in Virginia.

Mr. Herbert Hartman will leave next week expects to motor for a visit with friends in Kentucky.

Mrs. Alice Derringer returned to her home Monday after an extended visit to Virginia and Washington.

MUSICALE AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

VISITING ARTISTS HERE NEXT THURSDAY

THURSDAY MORNING MUSICALE

The Washington College Assembly period of November 15th will be featured by a musical program by two members of the faculty of the Delaware School of Music, Wilmington, Delaware. The guest artists will be Edna B. Woods, piano soloist and Mr. Daniel Healy, baritone.

The program presented by these two artists in an assembly program of last college year will be remembered with pleasure by many music lovers of Chestertown who were privileged to hear Mrs. Woods and Mr. Healy.

The public is cordially invited to this progarm.
