Women's Page

There is a great battle among professional models, because Society women are acting in that capacity and thus depriving the professionals of their living. Amateurs and professionals are paid $10.00 an hour for posing when they allow their names to be used in advertisement.

Among these posers, we find Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, Donna Marina Lorlona, Mrs. James Russell Lowell and many others prominent in Society. One of the most popular of these is Miss Mary Taylor, whose sleek figure and aristocratic look, shows off new styles so well that manufactures and modistes are willing to pay her the $50.00 per hour, the price which she asks.

Meanwhile the professionals find themselves cast out in the cold, by their employer and they are protesting. They are holding meetings to devise ways and means to prevent the rich society women, who wish only to use it for pin money, from posing as models, while the society women, replies that the professional can not show off the garments as they do.

Alpha

There was a robot carried up to the fifth floor of Macy's great store in New York. This robot was made by one Professor Harry May, who began it fourteen years ago. Its name is Alpha and it weighs a ton. Prof. May stands be side it and commands, 'Raise your arm' and the robot obeys. Then the Professor asks him his name, 'Alpha,' replies the robot and then it it asked other questions to which the robot replies.

It is needles to say that crowds are there watching the strange creation. Within this automoton is an ordinary cathode ray which is converted into electrical impulses like the telephone.

Orpheus

There is no more beautiful story told in Mythology than that of Orpheus, the musician, who charmed birds and beasts with his lovely music. He is always remembered as the god of music.

There is to be a fountain erected to him in Stockholm executed by Carl Milles, a noted sculptor, who has just departed for Stockholmn with his many plaster models which he began ten years ago. There are many figures in the fountain, the chief of which is Orpheus with his lyre resting on his shoulder while his hand is plucking at the strings.

There is a pathetic figure of Beethovan, his lean arms reaching up, as if imploring that his deaf ears might, too, hear the exquisite music.

Carl Milles was born in Sweden, and having a desire to travel, started to run away to sea but was stopped by his father. Afterward he studied sculpture under Rodin in Paris, and has become quite famous.

WHEN MA IS IN THE KITCHEN

When Ma is in the kitchen
She's not the same at all
As when she's in the living room,
The dining room or hall.
She's always sort of flustered
And easy, like, to rile,
And never lets me hang around,
Not even for a while.

When Ma is in the kitchen
And I go in she'll say,
'For land sakes, keep from under foot
And go somewhere and play!'
Or, 'Johnny, are you sticking
Your fingers in that jam?
How often must I tell you
You mustn't do that? Scram.'

Yeh, Ma, when in the kitchen,
Is not the same a bit
As when she's in the sitting room,
For then she'll calmly sit
And likes to have me near her,
At least I'm never chased;
But maybe that's because in there
There's nothing I can taste.

EMBROIDERED MOTIFS

A small detail may be the clinching note of chic on the simplest kind of dress, and our foremost designers have done some striking things with this season's clothes.

A costume we have in mind at present is conspicuous by a single embroidered motif on the dress, and the ensemble is lovely in a new carbon-blue crepe with a taupe wool coat trimmed with moleskin. The dress is quite plain, and the motif, about three inches wide and five deep, is embroidered on the left side of the bodice where a pocket might be. It's done in heavy gold-colored thread and the design resembles a monogram.

DUVETYN RETURNS

The popularity and fashion value of velvet this season has probably influenced its sister fabrics like duvetyn velours and bagheera wools and silks. At any rate, these fine, dull, mossy silks are seen in the richest gowns to come out of high-cass shops. One lovely duvetyn evening gown was shown recently in a reddish chestnut brown. Stiffish shoulder caps swung out from the low-cut V neck and the skirt flared from the knees down. The secret to the crisp flare is hidden in a heavy black satin petticoat.

The Road To Better Health

TIN AS A MEDICINE

By DR. WILLIAM J. SCHOLES

In Beauce, a district lying to the south-west of Paris, the majority of the inhabitants are tin-workers. And for many pears it has been a well-known fact that these people never suffer from boils.

The Medicinal Value of Tin

Observing the immunity of tin-workers to boils, carbuncles, and similar conditions, two French scientists, Gregoire and Frouin, decided to put the matter to a scientific test. The result was that they made findings of great value in the treatment of staphylococcus infections.

The far-reaching worth of their researches is apparent when we consider that the staphylococcus is the most wide-spread of all disease producing germs. They are the cause not only of boils and carbuncles, but they play an important part n the production of styes, acne, abscesses and ulcers, suppurating wounds of all kinds, and the mixed infection in tuberculosis.

The Effect of Tin on Germs

When tin was added to a culture of staphylococci in the absence of air their growth was markedly inhibited. So much so that when the germs were transplanted to fresh media at forty-eight hour intervals only a few colonies remained in existence after three or four such removals. When this was done with other cultures which were supplied with air the growth of the germs remainded unaffected but their virulence was greatly reduced.

Clinical Application of Findings

Realizing that tin really was antagonistic to the staphyococcus these investifators next devised a suitable preparation for the treatment of abnormal conditions due to this germ. The clinical results folowing its use have been just as gratifying as the laboratory tests.

Without altering his mode of life, going on a special diet, or even wearing a local dressing over his boil, all the patient has to do is take a little tin and in a few days the boil is gone. No lancing, no local dressings, no vaccines.

By the end of the second day the itching is gone and the pain much reduced. By the end of the fourth day the inflammation has subsided. Next the walls of the boil break down and its base begins to soften. Further formation of pus stops and the core is absorbed. A thin crust forms over the site of the boil, which drops off about the tenth day.

Hints for the Household

FOR NOVEMBER

By BETTY WEBSTER

So many things I want to discuss—or, I should say 'gossip' about this time—I don't know where to begin. So I'll just put them in a series of questions—each of which contains interesting data I know my readers would like to have. Now—

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

1. An old carpet may be used as a substitute for linoleum by tacking it to the floor, appying a cooked starch of four and water to the surface, allowing it to dry and then covering with two coats of paint?

2. A splendid floor polish may be made of one pint of linseed oil, one pint of cold tea, two ounces of spirits of salts and the whites of two eggs mixed thoroughy and bottled? This must be shaken well before using. Apply with a piece of silk and polish with another piece of silk.

3. Anchovy or sardine paste generally needs an additional seasoning of lemon juice or paprika before using?

4. Dried currants and peanuts, chopped, make a tasty sandwich filling?

5. Aluminum and enameled ware are the best utensils to use for canning?

6. Table linens ought to be quite damp and ironed with a heavy hot iron in order to have that desirable sheen?

7. Almost any vegetable may be candied in the same manner as the sweet potato and will be delicious?

8. Late in the autumn many plants can be saved from frost by protecting them with a light covering of cloth or newspaper?

9. Tulips can be forced for winter blooming by placing one or more bulbs in a hot and putting them away in a dark cool place until rooted?

10. Window boxes can be made just as pretty in the winter with evergreens as they are in the summer when planted with tender plants?

11. Mexico produces the best vanilla beans although Madagascar, portions of South America and Tahiti are important rivals?

12. The quick drying lacquers are just as satisfactory for use on metal as on wood?

13. The white of egg is soothing if applied to a burn?

14. Stearate of zinc powder is cooling and healing for sunburn and will prevent chafing?

RECIPES

Date Loaf

1 pound of dates
1 pound of walnuts
1 cup of pastry flour
1-2 teaspoon of salt
4 teaspoons of baking powder
1 cup of sugar
4 eggs
1 teaspoon of vanilla

Sift flour, salt, baking powder and sugar together three times. Wash and stone dates and shell nuts leaving both dates and nut meats whole. Sift over them the dry ingredients; mix thoroughly. Separate the eggs; beat the yolks well and mix evenly through the cake mixture. Beat the whites of the eggs until dry and add. Add vanilla. Bake one hour in a moderate oven in a pan lined with buttered paper.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, attacks of dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains; feel "all worn out."

Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your headaches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.
