WILLIAM S. COLLINS

The planting of boxwood around the little park was certainly a forward step in the beautifying of the town. This work is sponsored by the Garden Club and was made possible by generous donations. It is a memorial to Mrs. Hope H. Barroll.

You have to be in your late twenties at least to remember it, but Mrs. Barroll used to stage plays, hold bazaars, etc., to raise funds for town improvement. In having the old marsh filled in on the North side of the town she did much for the improvement of health. A public play ground was something she was interested in, besides making the town more beautiful. It was a shame that the play-ground was never completed and it would be very fitting for some of our local organizations to go to work for it.

Now that the boxwood is planted the town has a sacred duty in seeing it is protected. The council realizes its responsibility and I understand is making plans to have the park fenced. They should go further and pass an ordinance against trespassing or molesting plants in the park. Also they should see to it that the officers strictly enforce this ordinance. By giving the Garden Club full cooperation a great deal of improving can be done.

There is another angle to the above. The little park has been used in the winter as a market place for buying hides. This has been quite a good thing for the business men, as it put a lot of ready money into the hands of the trappers while right in the heart of the shopping district. This will now have to be stopped and the council should see to it that another place is provided so as not to lose this business for the merchants.

The Washington College Alumni meeting which was heralded as such a success among the Alumni, received a real lambasting in the Elm, the official student publication.

The editorial on the affair was titled 'The lost Generation' and used adjectives such as bawdy, rowdy.

Well, 'The lost Generation' made enough noise for somebody to find them. A suggestion for the program the next time. Instead of football, let it be a lecture on the classics. Instead of a supper at the Voshell House let it be a Y. M. C. A. banquet. Instead of a dance, let it be tea with talks by the faculty. And to top it off, all attend church together in a body on Sunday morning. This would draw no unfavorable comment from the student body and draw a large number of alumni?

I hear a certain newspaper writer in town got in trouble for making the statement, that there is two sides to the prohibition question. He was accosted on the street by one of the leading 'Drys' and I understand several things were straighened out. It should have been very interesting.

Personally I do not see how a 'Wet' should have any objection to the 'Drys' putting on an educational campaign among the youth of the nation. Just let us hope they educate them to be personal abstainers and do not educate them to pass dry laws. We do not want all that to go through with again.

One big factor in the argument is overlooked and that is the financial side. All those employed by the 'Association against the 18th Amendment' lost their jobs when the country went for repeal.

The Prohibitionists reaped a harvest for a long while, but lately I hear the pickings have not been so good. A student at one University, by speaking for the 'Dry' cause in Texas was able to make enough money in one summer to complete a course in the graduate school. His job was to go from town to town and lecture. His pay was a certain percentage of the collections. He judged the success of a meeting by the collection. You would too, under the circumstances, eh what?

Well the 'Wet' wrkers have now lost out altogether but the 'Drys' are trying to stage a comeback.

FROSH AND SOPHS DIVIDE HONORS

The Freshmen and Sophomores broke even in the annual clash on Monday evening of this week. In the tug-of-war the Sophomores were victorious and dragged the first year men through a stream of water from a fire hose. This cold shower however pepped the Freshman up and they made short work of tieing the Sophs up in a string tieing battle. In this latter contest an equal number of men from each class stood around a large circle and a pile of short pieces of rope were placed in the center. At the signal they all rushed in picked up a piece of string and proceeded to tie the legs of their opponents and drag them outside of the circle. The contest resulted in torn clothes, a few bruises and the complete humiliation of the Sophs.

The Freshman-Sophomore game will be the next contest between these two classes.

INAUGURATES EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

The Y. M. C. A., of Washington College has initiated a plan to assist students of that institution, who desire part time employment, in securing it from the business men in Chestertown. Most any business here can find efficient help by applying to the College bureau.

The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer,

It seems like a long time since I have chatted with you at full length. I hope you received my brief note of apology last week, but I'll try to wax a little more prolific today.

News has picked up a bit, and I hardly know where to plunge in relating what I've learned to you.

Guests in ton are always interesting, so let's begin there. Church news does not come under my heading, but in connection with it, three charming visitors, who were speakers as representatives of the National Council held in Emmanuel Episcopal Church last Friday night, spent the night in our little metropolis. They were so attractive that I can not let them go unmentioned. Bishop Litell, of Honolulu, who stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Perkins, Rev. Dr. Fenn, of Baltimore, a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Hines, and Mrs. Cross, wife of the Bishop of Spokane, who visited Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Wilmer. Bishop and Mrs. Davenport, of Easton, frequent visitors, who of course were here for the occasin, stayed with Rev. and Mrs. Chas. Atwater. Coming from Baltimore for the event, Miss Rebecca Wickes visited her sister in law, Mrs. Lewin W. Wickes.

Then, while I am still on last week end, guests arriving last Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rodenhousen, to whom Rev. and Mrs. Atwater were hosts. Mr. and Mrs Rodenhousen, who incidentally, were usher and bridesmaid, respectively, in the Atwater's wedding some years ago, were guests of honor at a small bridge party Saturday evening.

Miss Catherine Beck, who makes a weekly trip to Philadelphia during foot ball season, was accompanied last week end by Mrs. Mary B. Roberts. Both were guests of Mrs. Rudolph Tull for the week end. Mrs. Roberts on return from Philadelphia went to Baltimore for a few days as Miss Isabelle Beck's guest there.

Dr. Barrett Catlin, of Baltimore, visited Mrs. James G. Beck, his sister, from Saturday until Wednesday, at the same time enjoying his little daughter, Sally's company, while here.

One interest seems to lap right over into another and now from politics we go right into hunting. Some who came down Wednesday evening to get a good early Thursday morning's start were Mr. James Springer, Mr. Jessop Wilmer, Mr. Rob. Wilson. All of these gentlemen stayed at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hines and remained over Thursday night for the annual gunning dinner out at Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Emory's. I'll wager the game yarns swapped will out class any fish stories you have even heard. While these entrancing days are in season, the ducking widows knit and knit and knit.

I hear from Mrs. Henry Clay Brown that she, after her visit in Baltimore, went to Philadelphia to be a guest of her nephew, and is now in New York having a splendid time, staying with her cousin, a Mrs. Maxwell.

Miss Nelie Walker, who left Chestertown Thursday enroute to St. Louis, was guest of honor at a bridge party, Tuesday evening given by Mrs. Lewin Wickes. It was a farewell party and Miss Nelie's many friends hated to see her leave.

Mrs. Caroline du Pont, who has recently returned from New York where she attended the horse show, has as her guests General and Mrs. Guy M. Henry and Miss Mary Henry, of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stam spent last week end in Washington with Mr. Stam's mother, Mrs. Annie Stam, who returned with them for a few days visit here.

Mrs. Allan Harris, Jr., entertained some of her friends at a beautiful appointed luncheon Friday. I believe this is the first of two luncheons to be given by Mrs. Harris.

Miss Anne Boardman, Miss Ruth Riepe and Mr. Dodson McClellan, of Baltimore, will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr., for the week end, while Mr. Tom Perkins, will be guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Perkins.

Weddings now and more to come almost make our penny boxes look sick. This Saturday we have the marriage of Miss Katherine Smith and Dr. Brinsfield which will be solemnized at the Salem M. E. Church, Fairlee. Then I hear of another to be very soon, and still one more before 1934 goes out, all of which will be very interesting. But one at a time, so I'll leave you now with more anon, yours,

THE WANDERER.

Dr. Lewis B. Whiting and wife, of Baltimore, are visiting the latters parents, Mr. and Mrs. David B. Ford. Dr. Whiting brought with him two bird dogs and is enjoying the sport of hunting for quail, rabbits and ducks.

Mrs. Herbert Strong was taken ill last Saturday and is still in a very serious condition at her home on Queen St.

We are glad to state that Mr. W. W. Hubbard, who has been undergoing treatment at the Johns Hopkins hospital for several weeks returned home last Wednesday very much improved in health.

There is no change in the condition of Mr. Howard Turner who has been desperately ill for several weeks.

SMITH-BRINSFIELD WEDDING TODAY

A wedding of much social interest in this section of the County will be performed at Salem M. E. Church this afternoon at four p. m. when Miss Katherine Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Smith, will become the bride of Dr. William S. Brinsfield, of Rock Hall. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. S. T. Hamblin, of Salem church.

The Maid of Honor will be Miss Helen F. Smith, sister of the bride, and the Best Man will be Mr. Franklin Brinsfield, brother of the Groom. The ushers will be Messrs. F. Wilmer Smith, Jr. and Morris K. Bramble, Jr., of Fairlee, Elwood Grunlalgh, of Philadelphia, and Emil Myers, of Rock Hall. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Dr. Frank W. Smith.

During the ceremony, Mrs. Frank Yarnall, of Washington, D. C., will sing "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Perfect Love." Miss Mildred Hoyle will pay the wedding march.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Washington College and is secretary to Mr. Louis C. Robinson, Superintendant of Schools for Kent County and is very popular among the younger set of the County.

Dr. Brinsfield is proprietor of Brinsfield's Drug Store at Rock Hall and was Druggist at Stams Drug Store in Chestertown before purchasing the drug business at Rock Hall.

ROCHE—CAPEL

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roche, of Ridgeley, Md., announce the wedding of their daughter, Helen Elizabeth, to Mr. William R. Capel, of Chestertown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Medford Capel, on Friday evening, November 9. The ceremony was performed in the Centreville ville M. P. parsonage by Rev. Randall. The bride and groom will make their home in Chestertown where the groom is in the employ of Gill Bros.

CONGRESSMAN GOLDSBOROUGH TO SPEAK HERE

WILL ADDRESS COLLEGE ASSEMBLY NEXT THURSDAY

The speaker at the regular Thursday morning college assembly, November 22, will be the Honorable T. Alan Goldsborough, representative of the Eastern Shore in Congress. Congressman Goldsborough is a member of the Congressional Committee on Banking and Currency and is regarded as an outstanding authority on monetary policies.

The public is cordially invited to hear Congressman Goldsborough.

SPEAKING OF APPOINTMENTS

There has been much speculation as to who will be in on the many appointments to be made by the newly elected Republican Governor, Harry Nice.

Aside from the fifteen appointments in Kent County there are numerous State appointments to be made including the various commissions, etc. Among the outstanding Republicans in Kent County who has been actively engaged in politics for the past forty years is Mr. Robert Hill, of Kennedyville, who will probably be in line for one of the State pumbs. The Democrats have never been able to find him luke warm at election time regardless of which faction of his party was nominated.

GEESE REPORTED PLENTIFUL

Geese are reported to be plentiful in the fields in practically every section of Kent County and those who are baiting and using large numbers of tollers are reporting excellent shooting. In many cases hunters are able to get their bag limit of four geese after two hours of shooting.

Ducks, however, at the present time are exceptionally scarce and those shooting from blinds in the rivers report there are practically no ducks. It is early in the season for river ducks and the weather has not been sufficiently severe to drive them from their northern haunts to Chesapeake Bay waters.

MARYLAND STUDENTS ANTI-COMMUNISTIC

Joseph Elvove, of Baltimore, a graduate student at the Uni. of Maryland, acted as speaker for a group of the University students who attended the National Student League's 'anti-war' conference in Baltimore recently.

The students told the conference that the University of Maryland student body was not in sympathy with their movement and would take on part in anything so outwardly communistic.

SELLS CANNERY AT LYNCH

The cannery at Lynch was sold this week by Mr. Wroth Stavely to the firm of Hacket & Baxter who will operate the cannery next summer.

This cannery operated this summer after being idle for a number of seasons and gave employment to a number of people living in that section.
