THE CHOWS AMD AIRE DALE TERRIER

YOUR DOG AND MINE

By EDWARD C. LOUD, JR.

Head of the Chow—Large and massive, with broad flat skull well filled under the eyes, moderate stop, proudly carried, with characteristic scowl.

Muzzle of the Chow—Short in comparison to length of skull; broad from eyes to end of nose, and of great depth. The lips should be full and overhanging.

Teeth of the Chow—Strong and level.

Nose of the Chow—Large, and black in color.

Tongue of the Chow—A blue—black.

Eyes of the Chow—Dark, deep set, of moderate size, and almond shaped.

Ears of the Chow—Small, pointed, stiffly carried. They should be placed with apart, on top of skull, and set with a slight forward tilt.

Body of the Chow—Short, compact, well ribbed up, and let down in the flank.

Neck of the Chow—Strong, full, set well on shoulders.

Shoulders of the Chow—Muscular, slightly sloping.

Chest of the Chow—Broad, deep and muscular.

Back of the Chow—Short, straight and strong.

Loins of the Chow—Broad, deep, and powerful.

Tail of the Chow—Set well up and carried closely to back, following line of spine at start.

Forelegs of the Chow—Straight, with heavy bone and upright pasterns.

Hindlegs of the Chow—Straight hocked, muscular and heavy boned.

Feet of th Chow—Compact, round and cat like.

Coat of the Chow—Abundant, dense, straight and outstanding; rather coarse in texture, with a soft wooly undercoat. In the smooth coated variety, the topcoat should be of about one and a half inches long.

Color of the Chow—Any clear color, solid throughout, or, with lighter shadings on ruff, tail and breeching.

Size of the Chow—Should be massive and well proportioned.

General appearance of the Chow—Lion—headed, scowling, compact, muscular, short-coupled, dignified, and powerful, with heavy off standing coat.

Head of the Airedale—Long, with flat skull, not too broad between the ears and narrowing slightly to the eyes, free from any wrinkles. Stop hardly visible, and cheeks free from fullness. Jaw deep and powerful, well filled up before the eyes, lips tight. Ears V shaped with a side carriage, small but not out of proportion to the size of the dog. The nose black. The eyes small and dark in color. The teeth strong and level.

Neck of the Airedale—Should be of moderate length and thickness, gradually widening toward the shoulders and free from throatness.

Shoulders and chest of the Airedale—Shoulders long and sloping well into the back, shoulder blades flat. Chest deep.

Body of the Airedale—Back short, strong and straight. Ribs well sprung.

Hindquarters of the Airedale—Strong and muscular, with no droop. Hocks well let down. The tail set on high and carried gaily, but not curled over the back.

Legs and feet of the Airedale—Legs perfectly straight, with plenty of bone. Feet small and round, with a good depth of pad.

Coat of the Airedale—Hard and wiry, and not so long as to appear ragged; it should also lie straight and close, covering the dog well all over the body and legs.

Color of the Airedale—The head and ears, with the exception of the dark markings on each side of skull, should be tan, the ears being of a darker shade than the rest, the legs up to the thighs and elbows being also tan, the body black or dark grizzle.

Size of the Airedale—Dogs, 40 to 45 pounds, bitches less.

"Nerves" "NERVES" "Nerves"

Dr. Miles NERVINE "Did the work" says Miss Glivar

WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nervine which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective

At Drug Stores 25c and $1.00.

The GIFT for the NURSE

On duty—an efficient pulse-reading timepiece, with large sweep second hand.

Off duty—a small, trim, stylish watch in keeping with any costume.

The first watch of its kind . . . very popular with nurses. A fine 15 jewel GRUEN as shown $40. Solid gold case $50.

FINE, BLUE-WHITE DIAMONDS

For That Finest Gift

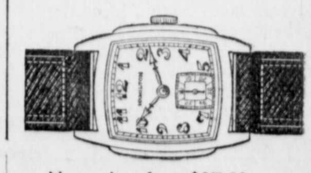

When you give a Diamond, you are giving something more than just a gift. You are giving an object of indestructable beauty; of enduring value. In other words, you are paying to the recipient one of the highest compliments possible.

To convey this meaning, however, it is essential that you choose a diamond of unquestioned worth; a stone of pure beauty skilfully cut and appropriately mounted. One way to insure all of these things at a single stroke s to insist that your gift box bear the name of this store.

MEET THE WINNERS!

Test Proves Hamilton Accuracy

Hamilton's greater accuracy was again proven in a recent test of watch accuracy among 1400 people picked at random. The accuracy of all makes of watches was checked. Hamilton watches came closest to "on time" by a generous margin. Why not own "the most accurate watch"—a Hamilton. Let us show you our new selection of strap and pocket models.
