Lady Assistant

As the lovely and heart-warming "Marie Galante," KETTI GALLIAN dances and sings by night—but weeps by day. The secret councils of great nations watch her every move. "Marie Galante," presented by Fox Film, is the story of a girl caught in a net of international intrigue and innocently made the cat's paw in a mighty plot. 2PE

Whether he's working in a picture or not, it doesn't make much difference to Stepin Fetchit, the famous colored comedian.

The famous apostle of rest explains it thusly:

'When Ahm restin' between pitchers, Ah rests at home. An' when Ahm workin' at my trade of restin' in a pitcher Ah rests on the set, so it don' make much diff'rence.'

Stepin did his resting for a month or so in the Fox Film feature production, 'Marie Galante,' coming on Monday and Tuesday, January 7 and 8 to the New Lyceum Theatre, which co-stars Spencer Tracy and Ketti Gallian, and includes in the cast, Ned Sparks, Siegfried Rumann and Leslie Fenton, among others.

The screen version of the famous Wallace Smith novel, 'The Captain Hates the Sea,' wil be the feature attraction on the bill at the New Lyceum on Wednesday and Thursday, January 9 and 10.

When it first appeared in novel form, the story attracted allmost international atention because of its unique plot and the wealth of true to life characterization it contained. It is a story of various passengers on an ocean-going steamship, among whom are a crook fleeing with a quarter of a million dollars worth of stolen securities; a girl accomplice; a detective on the trail of the pair; a newspaperman who is trying to forget a motion picture star with whom he is in love; a married couple who detest each other; and a captain who hates the sea which provides him with a livelihood.

In the cast are Victor McLaglen, John Gilbert, Walter Connolly, Alison Skipworth Wynne Gibson, Helen Vinson, Tala Birrel, Donald Meek, John Errol; Walter Catlett; Claude Gillingwater, Emily Fitzroy, Arthur Treacher, Akim Tamiroff; Luis Alberni; James Blakeley; The Three Stooges; and the recent importation from the New York stage, Fred Keating.

Lewish Milestone, noted director of such hits as 'All Quiet on the Western Front,' 'Front Page,' 'Two Arabian Knights, and 'The Racket was at the megaphone.

Grown into a tall, bronzed and handsome young man, Jackie Coogan of 'The Kid' fame, returns to the screen for his first adult role in Paramount's 'Home on the Range,' which shows on Friday and Saturday, January 11 and 12 at the New Lyceum Theatre.

And fully accoutred with Stetson hat, high-heeled boots and six shooters, Jackie Coogan proves as hard riding and straight shooting a Western star as Dandolph Scott, Addison Richards, Fuzzy Knight or any of the other three hundrd famous cowpunchers who appear in the film.

With Evelyn Brent and Ann Sheridan providing the feminine interest, 'Home on the Range' is the story of the deadly feud between a gang of crooks and the rancher-brothers, played by Coogan and Randolph Scott.

Through devious channels the crooks get control of the ranch owned by the brothers in order to take possession of the racing horses. But Evelyn Brent, who is a member of the crooks' band. falls in love with Scott and turns the tables on her former colleagues.

There are thrilling fights and a hair raising escape from death in a forest fire. But these are only preludes to the blood tingling horse race in which Jackie Coogan rides his horse, Midnight, to victory, after the crooks have been bested.

'Home on the Range' represents the initial directorial effort of Arthur Jacobson, who turns in a completely creditable and exciting job of direction.

Background music, throughout the film, is furnished by the supremely fine voice of Joe Morrison, famous for 'The Last Round-Up,' who sings 'Home on the Range.'

'The Red Rider,' Universal's lead off serial of the season, starring the greatest cowboy of them all, Buck Jones, and his educated horse, Silver, starts its engagement at the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday January 11 and 12. It is in 15 chapters. Among those well known to both stage and screen supporting Jones are Grant Withers, Marion Shilling, Walter Miller, Richard Cramer and Margaret LaMarr and many others.

Buck sacrifices his office of sheriff and his good name to save his best pal Silent Slade from the noose, following a court decision which sentences him to hang for the murder of Scotty McKee. Believing Slade innocent, Red (Buck) allows him to escape from jail and follows to aid him in proving his innocence. He becomes involved in a fght with a gang of smugglers.

Spectacular feats of horsemanship, desperate gun battles and thrilling action that will thrill you to the core is seen in each episode of 'The Red Rider' while Red and Slade battle for justice.

Don't miss the first exciting episode of this fast moving western, which was taken from the novel, 'The Redhead from Sun Dog', by W. C. Tuttle.

Get a thrill by seeing the first chapter, 'Sentenced to Die,' which begins next Friday and Saturday.
