STRENGTH

Doctor—You've had a pretty close call. It's only your strong constitution that pulled you through.

Patient—Well, doctor, remember that when you make out your bill.

REAL FACTS

Editor—This is a pretty poem of yours. Something tossed off to gratify a whimsical fancy?

Poetess—No, something ground off to pay a board bill.

MAYBE POLL TAX

Professor of Psychology—What is the best method of correcting inherited tendencies?

Freshman—A stiff inheritance tax might do it.

WORSE YET

"It's moved into a restricted neighborhood we have."

"One of them neighborhoods where ye have to built a $10,000 house?"

"Not so bad as that. But we had to get rid of the goat."

UH, HU

"Dear, do you love me yet?"

"Yes, Henri, I love you; but your grammar is simply rotten."

SHOER-SHOT

"I want to get some business where I am sure to get a foothold."

"That's easy. Become a chiropodist."

MR. TOASTMASTER!

"That speaker must be a great athlete."

"What makes you think so?"

"He's so long winded."

A newspaper that recently offered a dollar for personal experiences that were embarrassing received the following epistle:

'I work on an early night shift in a steel plant. I got hom an hour earlier last night and found another man hugging and kissing my wife. I was much embarrassed. Please send me $2, as my wife was also embarrassed.'

The editor sent a check for $3, suggesting that the other man was probably lkewise embarrassed.
