Idling Quartet in "Enchanted April"

Here is the quartet which undertakes a vacation in Italy, divorced from the cares of husbands, habits and homes in 'ENCHANTED APRIL.' ANN HARDING stars with Jane Baxter, Jessie Ralph and Katharine Alexander as fellow vacationers, and Frank Morgan and Reginald Owen are in the leading supporting roles.

Gary Cooper, whose motion picture career has won for him the title of 'fighting man of all nations,' adds a new and more glamorous soldiering role to his extensive record in the leading role of Paramount's 'The Lives of a Bengal Lancer,' whch comes on Monday and Tuesday, February 18 and 19 to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Too young to have seen actual service in the World War, the tall, lean Montanan has worn the uniform of a half-dozen nations and fought on foot, in the air and astride a horse to become Hollywood's most famous warrior.

Cooper's initiation in fighting roles came as an aviator in the sensation film, 'Wings.' Then he fought as a member of the French Foreign Legion in 'Beau Sabreur' and 'Morocco.' For the leading role of the filmization of 'Farewell to Arms,' Cooper portrayed an American in the Italian ambulance service. More recently, he has played a British Tommy in 'Seven Days Leave;' an American doughboy in 'The Shopworn Angel,' and a Confederate officer in 'Operator 13.'

In 'The Lives of a Bengal Lancer,' Cooper wears the most handsome and striking fighting plumage of his long warring career. As a British captain of this world-famous Indian cavalry unit, his dress uniform consists of a brocaded turban and cummerbund in addition to the conventional gold braid and scarlet of the uniform coat.

Cooyer's role in this picture is his most heroic and engaging. In 'The Lives of a Bengal Lancer' he goes courageously into danger to preserve his regiment froc destruction and to save a soldier-father from realzing that his son had betrayed his trust.

Franchot Tone, Richard Cromwell, Sir Guy Standing, Monte Blue, C. Aubrey Smith and Kathleen Burke are only a few of the supporting members of the cast of this enormous adventure-spectacle which required four years of work and over four thousand actors in filming.

Adapted from the novel by Francis Yeats-Brown, the picture was filmed on six separate locations, ranging from the northwestern border of India to the top of Mt. Whitney in California. Henry Hathaway directed 'The Lives of a Bengal Lancer.'

The splendid acting talents of Ann Harding and the fine writing of 'Elizabeth' are deftly combined in a picturization of 'Enchanted Aprii,' one of the more famous novels by the anonymous authoress.

Such a rare combination is made possible through RKO-Radio, which brings the popular story to the screen actors who became known to a reading and play going public of more than a quarter of a million are portrayed by Miss Hardng as Lotty Wilkins; Frank Morgan, Reginald Owen, Katharine Alexandr, Jane Baxter, Ralph Forbes and Jessie Ralph.

RKO-Radio also afforded the picture generous values in the other phases of production. Scenes in Italy, Paris and London, ranging from drab households to medieval castles and sumptuous style shops, were authentically duplicated. The prominent woman players are gowned in the latest fashion creations.

'Enchnted April' recounts the unusual vacation undertaken by four women who wish to get away from it all, forsake the security of the home for their own individuality or find pleasure in thinking about the past. Their holiday leads them to Italy where new love flowers and alters their intentions.

Harry Beaumont directed.

This new feature will show at the New Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, February 20 and 21.

Without a doubt one of the most astounding revelations of the motion picture era, the new Martin Johnson adventure film, 'Baboona,' comes on Friday and Saturday, February 22 and 23 to the New Lyceum Theatre.

It is the guess of this reviewer that 'Baboona' will furnish you with the biggest thrills, the most engaging 'real life' comedy and the most compelling adventure sequences you have ever beheld on a screen.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson—the greatest present-day explorers of wild lands—have dazzled the world time and time again wth their exploits, and with their photographic records of gigantic conquests against tremendous odds. But 'Baboona' relegates to second place anything that they—or anyone else—has ever brought out of the jungle!

This time the Johnsons—Martin and Osa—conquer the jungles, the unexplored lands, the unknown people, from the air. Touring the fastnesses of Africa in their two planes. 'The Spirit of Africa' and 'Osa's Ark,' they look down into an inferno of unexplored lands, unbelievable and fantastic to civilized eyes. In every sense, 'Baboona' is extraordinary.

Surpassing anything that has gone before it, this aerial epic over Africa stnds forth as a masterpiec. If any motion picture released within the past 5 years warrants 'road-showing,' or a $2 box-office seale, 'Baboona' does so. Yet Fox has released it direct to regular motion picture theatres.

More than twenty months were required in the making of 'Baboona', it is stated, and the Johnsons flew some 60,000 mles above Africa while securing the film. Their adventures give added significance to the saying that truth is stranger than fiction, for here is a triumph of reality.

These intrepid air adventures were called upon to batte the elements as well as savages and beasts. One of the most striking sequences in 'Baboona' is the detailed record of a fight round Mt. Kenya, offering views of this lonely snow-bound peak never before glimpsed by human eyes. During the makng of this footage, a sudden and violent storm nearly destroyed the air caravan.

Here is a picture you won't want to miss. 'Baboona' is not only a screen snsaton. It is superlative entertainment for everybody in the family!
