The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

Is your cherry tree still standing or did some little George Washington come along and practice his new hatchet on it? Well, anyway, I hope you enjoyed the holiday, if you took one, and if not, you recalled to memory poor old George crossing the Delaware, and then ran and hugged up to your radiator feeling how lucky you were, ever if your birthday won't be celebrated by the nation for years to come. Mrs. James G. Metcalfe did even more, by honoring the day, with a bridge luncheon. Color schemes and favors were in the spirit of the day, and I hear it was a very pretty party. Georgie's birthday always seems to offer a nice excuse to entertain, and following the luncheon on Friday, a crowd from here will go to Denton Saturday night (tonight) for the dinner and bridge which Mrs. Elias Nuttle will give at her home there. So this week has been a little gayer than usual, with the dinner and bridge which Mrs. Fountain gave on Tuesday night and the Fireman's banquet, which was held in the parish house of Emmanuel Church, on Thursday night, in addition to the parties I have just mentioned.

Miss Anne Welch came on Thursday to stay until Sunday, and will be the guest of her aunts, Mrs. Etta Fountain and Mrs. Skipper. Col. and Mrs. H. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Brown, Jr., and a friend, will be week end guests at Godlington Manor.

Returning to town to live, Mrs. Irving Walker, has taken an apartment with Mrs. Fowler in the old Turner House.

Mrs. Roland Corey has returned from a visit in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Frank Connelly is still away. Mrs. Connelly is up in New York taking care of her sister's baby, while Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Horsefield are taking a trip to Florida.

Mrs. C. Beck Jones who left last Saturday to visit in Alexandria, Va., will remain over this week end, before returning to her home here.

LaGrippe has surely gripped us with a vengeance and there is hardly a household in town that hasn't had a member down. Mrs. James Beck, who planned to accompany Mr. Beck Monday when he left to enter the Union Memorial Hospital for treatment was taken ill Sunday night and has been confined to her bed all of ths week. Others who have been suffering under the grippy spell this week include Mrs. Wm. B. Usilton, Mrs. Allan Harris, Jr., Mrs. J. D. Bacchus and Mr. Eben Perkins. More cheerful news comes from those who have been or still are in the hosptals. Mrs. Phil G. Wilmer, much improved since her operation, returned to her home last Sunday, and Mr. Joseph Wheatley, also fast recuperating, returned on Saturday. Word from, Mrs. Dorsey Hines, although still in the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, tells me of daily improvement and hopes of returning to Chestertown by March 1.

Here's hoping the advent of Spring will dispel sickness from our midst for a good while and that I may have only bright and cheerful news for you.

Yours with Polly Anna,
THE WANDERER.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Needles entertained over the past week end their son, Vernon, and Mr. P. Ervin Wingate, of Lewes, Del.

WORTON

Everyone was shocked to hear of the death of Morris Cooper early Saturday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. ames Matthews although he had been sick for some tme his death was unexpected. The family have our sympathy.

Messrs. George Rasin and Arthur Harris left Wednesday for Miami, Fla., where they expect to spend about two weeks.

Mrs. Wm. Pennington and son, Walter, of Philadiephia, visited relatives here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Money and son, George Gilbert, of Kennedyville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rasin, Sunday.

Mrs. Purnell Jones and daughter, Sarah, spent Saturday in Wilmington.

Harriett Clark spent the week end with Hilda and Hazel Mason.

Mrs. John Duyer and Mrs. Henry Rasin visited Mrs. George Cooper at Easton Hospital Monday and found her much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Matthews and son, Samuel Sheridan and Miss Addie Cooper, of Clarendon, Va., Miss Ann Matthews spent the week end at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Matthews.

The Nurses Training School will meet next Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Duyer.

Mrs. Julian Crew and son, Julian Lee, spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lee.

Mrs. Elizabeth Spear, of Cecilton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Matthews.

Mrs. W. E. Dodson, Jr., and Mrs. Maron Rash have been quite sick with grippe.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clayville Thursday afternoon, March 7th.

IN MEMORIAM

Of our dear father and husband, John Ward who departed this life, February 23, 1923.

In Heaven We'll Know Our Own

Thank God for faith that teaches,
When the struggles of life are over.
We shall meet our own our loved ones,
And shall know them all once more.

What matter though life be dreary.
And we tread its path alone
If when the journey is ended
In Heaven we'll know our own.

And life and its cars grow brighter.
In the light of the precious thought
When the conflict at last is over
And the battle of life is fought.

If we work in faith and submission
The victory shall be won.
And in heaven where red awaits us.
We shall meet and know our own.

Loving wife and children.

IN MEMORIUM

In memoriam of our dear brother, Charlie who departed this life February 9th, 1935.

Our brother is sleeping so free from all pain,
Oh wake him not sweet spirit to suffer again,
He sleepeth so sweetly oh let him sleep on,
His sorrows all needed his pains are all gone.

The years of his life were numbered
When the messenger whispered low.
The master has come and calleth for thee
He answered I am ready to go.

Loving sister Ella.

SQUADRON LOG BY THE STOWAWAY

Peace at any price is the new standard of the Yacht Clubs of Chesapeake Bay. Efforts have been made to eliminate unfair competition and overlapping of racing activities.

The regatta of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club will be held on August 23 and 24. These dates will not conflict with any other Bay water event. Yachtsmen and racing enthusiasts can now attend every race held on the Bay and its tributaries. It will no longer be necessary to choose between two or more interesting places to go.

For those who race their boats, new regulations prevail. Heretofore there has been a great deal of friction over the classification of certain hybrid boats. This coming season when a boat has once been entered as a bateau in a race any place on the Bay waters, a bateau it will remain at all succeeding events.

Handicaps, too, will be uniform. In the Chesapeake log canoe classes, the handicap of each canoe will be fired at its first entry and there after the same handicap will be in force at all times and in all places.

Yachtsmen and racing committee men consider this a great step forward in establishing racing on a fair, sound basis in these waters. Friction over racing dates, registration of classes of boats, and fined handcaps, they hope, will eliminate all unpleasant argument. But just imagine a race without a fight. Half the excitement for the contestants is gone, and the judges are robbed of their supercilliousness. Racing will be like a baseball game where the spectators are forbidden 'to kill the umpire.'

More than likey a new crop of arguments will rise up to take the place of good old fashioned fights about classifications and handicaps. It is hard to believe in peace. As long as men are men they must fight and argue and fume about something.

Plans for the Chester Rver regatta are going forward rapidly. The program is almost completed and is more waried and interesting than ever before. Boating generally has made great strides within the last two years, and the United States Bureau of Navigation reports show an almost unbelievable increase of new, registered, pleasure boats.

With the Chester River Yacht Club now a member of the American Power Boat Association, it has attained a degree of prestige lacking in former years. Then, too, it sponosrs the local activities of the United States Power Squadrons, Inc., most of whose local members are connected with the club. This organization is the greatest recommendation in yachting standards a club or an individual navigator can have.

The committee on entries for the Chester River regatta is enthusiastic over the progress it is making. The committee is A. S. Turner.

Those contemplatng entering their boats in the races are urged to communicate with the committee.

W. C. TRIMS ST. JOHN'S

STATE LEAGUE GAME WON 24-19

In a rather slow and interesting game Washington trimmed St. Johns at Annapolis Thursday night 24-19.

In the first 14 minutes of play only 5 points were scored. St. Johns 3, Washington 2. At half time the score was St. Johns 9, Washington 7.

It is good to note that Washington came from behind to win. They have been winning their game by spurts in the first few minutes and slowng down for the rest of the game.

Washington has two more games in the state league, Western Maryland, Tuesday night at Westminster and Loyola here March 1st. By winning these two games, Washington will tie for the lead.

P. G. WILMER CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

OTHER CANDIDATES NOT ANNOUNCED

In this issue of The Transcript Mr. P. G. Wilmer, announces his candidacy for Mayor of Chestertown to succeed the present incumbent, Mayor C. N. Satterfield.

Mayor C. N. Satterfield is silent as to whether he will seek re-election and will probably make no announcement until next week.

The only other candidate who has openly announced his candidacy at the town election is Mr. George French who will seek re-election for Councilman from the Second Ward. While the names of Messrs. George Rash, Dr. J. S. W. ones and Harry Fallowfield have been mentoned as candidates for Councilmen from the Fourth Ward, no definite announcement has been made.
