The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

Another week has rolled around since I wrote you, and the time has been too short, it seems, to have picked up many items. Of course in Mid-Lent you can't expect much to be going on, and yet the Editor-in-Chief seems to think I must have news, regardless.

Both of the guests in town this week, have been on the go constantly, and I think, have had no dull moments, fortunately. Of course everything in the form of entertainment has been of the most informal nature, with a cup of tea, with some friends here, and another cup there. A little bridge in the evenings, and a movie sandwiched between, comprise the chief form of amusement, but even so what more can we do right now? Miss Elizabeth Brown, had a few friends in one afternoon in honor of Miss Dorothy Quarrels, her house guest, who by the way is a native of Houston, Texas, but is living in Philadelphia, and later in the week Mrs. W. Dorsey Hines likewise invited just a few ladies out for a cup of tea, in honor of Miss Quarrels. Two nights, a little game of bridge was arranged, and on Monday night a small movie party enjoyed Ruggles of Red Gap, all in this young lady's honor. On Thursday, Miss Brown and Miss Quarrels left for a short motor trip down into Virginia, but will return for the weekend.

Miss Annie Woolsey, Mrs. C. Beck ones's guest, also has been very busy with the younger set during her week's stay, all of the goings and comings of which I can't pretend to be up on, I certainly not being under that head, but they have had a grand time. On Thursday Anne was the guest of honor at a luncheon party at the Bell-Haven, and so on, that if I go into all the details, I'll be going over my space.

The young folks from college home for Spring vacations, give their parents little time to tire of them for they are always on the hop,. skip and jump when at home, and generally manage to work in a visit elsewhere during their holiday. Little Elizabeth Fontaine, whom everyone adores, has been having a gay time, and this week end, is visiting in Philadelphia and on up to Lansdowne before returning to Hood how ridiculous they looked and the hostess, entirely unaware that her invited guests were to be gowned in such manner, was dumb-foundered when in a group, these fashion plates of yore, en masse, entered her parlor. Instead of the usual, 'how nice you look ths evening, 'that night it was really heard frequently, 'how awful you do look.' Well, we had fun anyway, and if you don't believe it, haul out a 10 year old model, dress yourself up, and see what kind of a compliment 'friend husband' will give you. I received one, but it is too bad for print.

Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Mead will spend this week end in Washington as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mead. On Saturday evening Dr. Mead will be the speaker at the concluding session of the annual National Meeting of Alumni Council of American Colleges, which will be held at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Mrs. J. P. Clark, who has been spending the winter in California has returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gilbert W. Mead.

Some afternoon, why don't you come down and wander with me up to parlors of Reid Hall at Washington College where there is considerable interest in an exhibition of reproductions and prints of famous paintings. I haven't been yet, but certainly am aiming that way. Everyone is welcome.

Miss Margaret Adkinson, of New York, has been here for a week visiting her uncle and aunts, Capt. Ned Emory and the Misses Emory. Miss Julia Emory who has been quite sick is better, but has not been out of the house yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton C. Jones and little daughter are spending several days this week on a visit to Norfolk, Va.

Yours for fashion,
THE WANDERER.

Mrs. C. A. Harkins, of Wilmington, is guest of Mrs. Rosa O. Howard.

Mrs. George C. Frohine and little son of Canton Ohio, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Smith.

Miss Edna Black, of Charlestown, Md., was married to Mr. Benjamin F. Caulk, of Sassafras at the home of the bride by the Rev. R. Allen Brown on Wednesday the 27th of March. They will reside at Charlestown, Md.

Miss Margaret E. Younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Romie Younger, of Glenside, Pa., was married to Mr. Stewart J. Brackinridge son of Mrs. Harry Brackinbridge, of Ardsley, Pa., on Monday, March 25th, at 4 p. m. at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Weldon, Pa., the Rev. George D. Copeland officiating. Only the immediate family and close friends were present. After a short wedding trip the bride and groom are at home at 510 Maple Ave. Ardsley, Pa.

Mrs. Alan A. Harris who has been spending the week in Baltimore with relatives returned on Friday. And while I am still on returns,' we are glad to say that Mrs. Ringgold Strong is expected to return to her home this week end, from the Easton Hospital, where she underwent an operation.

Last Sunday night, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Strong and Mrs. Eva Kilbourne entertained a number of friends at supper, while on Monday, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Beachley entertained, a number of doctors and some additional friends following the Health Night program which commenced its week on Sunday.

Miss Mable Toulson is enjoying some time visiting friends in Upper St. Clair, N. J.

And while the older folks are travelling hither and you, little folks are in the midst of the annual spring Malady mumps. So as I read one sign on a door this morning, posted by an older brother. Beware of Mumps.

The wedding dress revours of late, have started even those, no longer of a juvenile age, into the craze of 'dressing up.' The other night I was invited out to call on a certain lady, and when I arrived several of the guests, were not adorned in the 1935 Spring fashions but alas those of ten years or more ago. Skirts to the knees, hats so large, that one guest had difficulty in entering the door, and all the jewels and fussy gadgets, so popular in such a short time ago. You will never know

FIGHT SEASON ENDS

CENTREVILLE BOXING BOUTS CLOSED UNTIL NEXT FALL

Boxing is no more. At least it's off Centreville's sports schedule until next fall.

Officials of the Eastern Shore Athletic Club announced that there will be no fight card two weeks from last Friday night, the regular schedule, and with warm weather rapidly approaching as well as the date that scraps would be suspended in the natural course of events, it was decided to ring down the curtain now.

Hostilities are still at a high pitch between Bob Cosden and Henry Gonzales and from the stirrings in the ring last Friday night, another clash appeared imminent. However, the club will not sponosr it, and if these gentlemen tangle it will be under private auspices.

ENTERTAINS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Davis, of Golts, Md., delightfully entertained on Tuesday evening, April 2nd in honor of their son's birthday about one hundred guests being present including relatives and friends.

Many games were played by the young folks. The house was beautiful decorated in white and orange.

After a late hour refreshments was served, and the guests departed, wishing him many more happy birthdays, and expressing, they all had an enjoyable time. Marvin received many pretty and useful gifts.

DR. JAMES HEPBRON TO BROADCAST

Those who have enjoyed the privilege of hearing Dr. James Hepbron speak on his numerous visits to Chestertown will again have the opportunity to hear him next Monday, April 8th when he will broadcast over a National hook-up from 4.30 to 5 p. m.

He will broadcast from New York the occasion being the annual meeting of the National Association of Prisons and Prison Labor, of which he is secretary.
