The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

Spring's here, and everyone has the nomadic urge. Little in the way of entertaining has been done, for the past two weeks except an occasional party here and there. All the rest of my news today is about travelers, to and fro.

So first, I am going to tell you of the parties before I get wound up, and probabily side tracked, on those who traverse the countryside.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolph Townshend who were hosts at dinner last Friday evening prior to the Tackey Ball, entertained another group of friends Tuesday evening at dinner, followed by bridge.

On the same evening as the Townshend's first party, Mrs. T. Herbert Skipper and Mrs. Etta Fountain entertained at a buffet supper in honor of Col. and Mrs. Davidson and Captain and Mrs. Peach of Fort Du Pont. So that Friday turned out to be a very popular evening. I always did love to do things and go places on Friday and Saturday night, anyway.

Mr. T B. Metcalfe, must have read ny thoughts for he, as chairman of the entertainment committee of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club, has announced a series of card parties for four successive Friday evenings in May, beginning Friday, May 3rd. Isn't that elegant? They're always lots of fun and I hope they will have good crowds, as members and their friends are invited to attend.

Miss Frances Silcox, president of the Classical Society of Washington College, and Miss Eloise Hepbron, a seni, or were joint hostesses at a buffet supper in Reid Hall last Friday evening (same popular night that I referred to awhile ago) for the members of that organization.

Mrs. Wilbur Gill, who is still the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hynson Rogers, has been constantly entertained during her visit here. On Thursday Mrs. Rogers was hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon in her sister's honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard and Mr. Wilbur Ross Hubbard were among the guests at a garden party on the White House lawn on Wednesday afternoon.

Well, now let's get on to our touring list. Last week end, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strong motored to Philadelphia and were guests for the week end of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gilpin Brown at Hasings Manor, Overbrook. Mrs. H. Clay Brown accompanied them to Philadelphia, but was a guest of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Brown, while there.

Others who went over for the Maryland Hunt Cup Race and spent the week end in Baltimore were Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Barroll, Mrs. Wm. T. Dixon and her daughter, Miss Josie Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laidman, of Georgetown. Mr. and Mrs. Laidman have recently returned from a visit to Yorktown and Williamsburg, Va., where they visited the old homes and gardens.

Much interest is abroad over Williamsburg, and others who have recently returned from there are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Corey. They were accompanied by Mrs. Alice Derringer, who has remained longer, and is the guest of her son and daughter in law, Lt. and Mrs. Harry Derringer who are stationed at Yorktown.

But as some go to Virginia, they, from Virginia come to us. Mrs. Galen VanSant, and her two little sons, of Chatham, Va., are guests of Mrs. Wm. VanSant and Mr. and Mrs. George W. French.

Baltimore, the mecca, for so many of our residents, is still holding her own. This week, it's colors have been waving over the heads of quite a few of our residents. Mr. Horace Beck, Mrs. C. Beck Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Brooks and little daughter, Jane, all have been guests of friends or relatives there.

News has come that Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck will probably reopen their home on Maple Ave., sometime during the coming week. Mr. Beck's condition is so greatly improved and his many friends are happy to know he is on a fast road to recovery.

We were sorry to learn that little Billy Wilmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilmer is carrying hsi arm in splints, due to a fall while playing. Here's hoping the chipped bone in his elbow will soon be mended.

Mr. Robert K. Pippin, and his Mother, Mrs. Walter T. Pippin, of Severna Park, Md., took advantage of the beautiful week end, and spent it here as guests of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Thos. Kibler, her son, Jack, and her little daughter, Jane, have all been confined to their beds, this past week due to an attack of grip. The children are much improved, although Mrs. Kibler is still uncomfortable. This is such an unreasonable time of the year to be laid up, when everybody is yearning to get out of doors, to motor, to dig in one's garden, to mow the lawn, and even to house clean, which needs must be done. So, I better get busy with the latter, as long as I have no garden and no lawn because, I might find a place to motor this week end, and I want no ties to hold me back.

Yours answering the call of Spring,
THE WANDERER.

Mrs. B. F. Thompson, of Jacksonville, Fla., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Flick, of Baltimore, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fisher on Mount Vernon Avenue.

It looks like the W. C. T. U. convention at Millington jumped into about everything in the county. If they had their way it would be hard for some of us to have any fun.

Here is one thing however they overlooked in the Gross Sales Tax Law. Grain sold to a farmer to feed a cow to make milk, there is a tax on. Grain sold to feed poultry to lay eggs, there is a tax on. But Ladies of the W. C. T. U. grain sold to a brewer to make nasty old beer or whisky, there is no tax. Girls I really think you should see the Governor, and tell him that milk and eggs are better than beer. Quite a slip-up girls.

Mr. Cody Loud has been in the habit of attending most all court proceedings in the county and especially all liquor license hearings. It is reported he did not attend the one Monday. It is further reported that his absence was for the following reason. Mr. Perkins threatened to put him on the stand and ask him, 'If he thought Rock Hall needed another liquor store as they had two already.' It is reported that Mr. Loud would have testified that two liquor stores could not handle the situation in Rock Hall. So, he stayed away.

The liquor hearings held Monday afternoon must have been very good. I regret very much that I was unable to attend if it was half as good as Judge Healey described it to me Thursday evening at 11 p. m.

Mr. Healey staged a one man show for me, taking all the characters. He was at his best as Mr. Culley, defaming the fair name of Brinsfield.

Judge Healey, as Mr. Culley objected to Brinsfield because he allowed children to play the slot machine. Bottles were found in church yard anyhow if a liquor store was across the street there would probably be more empty bottles. Mr. Brinsfield was not always in his store. The crowd that would hang around the store would impede the passage of the people to and from church.

After every assertion there was applause from his backers.

Judge Healey is a first class actor.

Mrs. Flora Crew withdrew her application for a license at Betterton.

Doctor Hughes hopped Mayor Wilmer this week about the town not buying fences or guards of some sort to protect the new trees. Doc said, 'If the town is too tight to buy them I will.' Mayor Wilmer gave him permission to put them in . Doc's. bluff is called, or else he will buy the guards.

My sympathy goes out to George Kellas. In his car he took Harry Russell and Billy Usilton to the Rotary convention at Salisbury on Monday. They kept George down there as long as anything was going on and things lasted late. They were to show George the way home.

Coming home they slept while George drove. First it was the road to Ocean City, and to make a good story of it, George realized he was on the wrong road when the breakers bore down on the car. Turning around it was next a series of nine foot roads. George said he made his mind up that if he hit a wide road that lead to Wilmington he would go there as he knew the road from Wilmington to Chestertown. Four trips were made through Bridgeville, Del., and the total trip was 187 miles. The two passengers returned home refreshed with a nice long sleep in the car but the driver did not feel so good. George makes a good story of the trip anyhow.

Looking at Kings Cost Real Money in Old Days

There is hardly any limit to the prices people will give for seats at any royal show, especially a coronation or a marriage, declares a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine.

Looking at old records we find that people paid a "crokard" for a seat at the coronation of Henry I, and a "pollard" at that of Henry II. At the coronation of King John the price was a "suskyn," but since the value of these coins is doubtful we are not much the wiser.

We get to a figure more understandable when we learn that in Richard II's reign the price for any royal show was a penny. In Henry V's time it had risen to twopence, but these were silver pennies worth nearly a shilling in our money. All through the ages the price rose. To see the coronation or a wedding of Henry VIII, the people paid a groat (4d.), and when Charles I came to the throne seats were sold at a shilling each.

To see the coronation of George I cost half a crown, and after that the cost of seats jumped rapidly; at the coronation of George III, front seats in the gallery at Westminster abbey were let at ten guineas each. At the coronation of Queen Victoria and for her wedding procession the fronts of houses facing the procession fetched £50 to £300.
