COMMENTS ON THE NEWS

Governor Nice promises to sign the Bay Bridge bill if certain power is granted him in the appointment of the entire Bridge Commission and if the Federal Government assures the approval of the loan of ten million dollars. In other words the Governor is sitting in the driver's seat with his power of veto and demands practically the dictation of the activities of the proposed bridge commission. He will get his demands through the resignation of those appointed under the provisions of the bill and past assurance by Federal authorities. As usual the public will have to grin and bear it.

Five people are killed including the two pilots of a large passenger air liner when it crashes while making a blind landing in the fog. An investigation is being made to satisfy the public but commercial aviation will carry on there being enough people willing to chance an occasional tragedy in order to make possible development in transportation. It is this spirit that has developed all things worth while.

The first payment of the one percent gross sales tax was due to be paid this week by all kinds of business in the State and the real pinch of this recently passed law was felt. 3000 merchants of the State have joined in protesting the law and a hearing will be held within a few days. Should these merchants succeed in proving the law unconstitutional it will mean either a special session of the Maryland Legislature or the discontinuance of relief in the State unless the Federal Government is willing to play Santa Claus. A special session of the Legislature would probably result in the adoption of taxation on special articles or the passage of a retail sales tax with the odds on the latter.

At the time of going to press plans were complete for the celebration of the completion of the new fire truck for Chestertown. The celebration includes a parade, fire fighting demonstration and concert in the park. It is hoped that the public at large turned out for the affair as the firemen ask little of the public except encouragement for the hard work service they render.

The Patman Bonus Bill has passed the Senate but will be vetoed by President Roosevelt. The next question is whether it can go back to the Senate and be passed over his veto. Whatever may be the outcome the bonus question has brought more unjust criticism on the part of the ex-service man than any other one thing. This criticism has taken away the honor of having served the country in time of war and unjustly pictured those who were gloriously honored seventeen years ago as unpatriotic citizens. The expenditure of billions of dollars for all kinds of so-called relief seems to meet public approval yet the payment of a Federal debt ten years before it is due is pictured as an unreasonable grab for Federal funds. The fact that it has been made a political issue by aspiring politicians has not added to the veterans cause.

Probably the spediest administration of justice in a major crime occured in Queen Anne's County this week. A murder was committed on Tuesday at a time when the Grand Jury was in session, on Wednesday that body presented the assailant and probably within the week his trial will be disposed of.

Huey Long has been invited to come to Chestertown on the evening of May 30th for the party planned by the Cross Street. Merchants Association. His presence here would assure a big crowd for the same reason that a circus is always a big drawing card.

Wheat growers in Kent County as well as in all parts of the country will vote their opinion as to the continuation of the acreage reduction plan. There is little question as to the result of the vote in Kent County in view of the fact that ninety per cent of the acreage in Kent County is now under the plan and local farmers received $140,000 last year as their share of the processing tax.

A meeting will be held within the near future between the Commissioners of Kent County and the State Roads Commission to discuss Kent's road bond problem. This meeting will be of utmost importance to Kent County as its results will have an important hearing on the tax rate for next year. It is hoped that the meeting will definitely determine the road situation so that no unexpected obligation will arise after the levy is struck.

Kent County Flower Mart will be held next Friday and Saturday, May 17th and 18th and elaborate preparations are being made to make it an outstanding event. The cooperation of the public is needed to make it a complete success and after all those who have worked hard on the preparations deserve this cooperation. deserve this cooperation. The indications are that it will be an enjoyable affair and well worth attending.

The Councilmen from the Fourth Ward of Chestertown, serving for the first time on the Board adopted a new policy by sending letters to residents in his ward asking them what they wanted in the way of improvements. It is understood that the desires were numerous and included a large variety of improvements. This asking for trouble is a new idea in town government.

NATIONAL SOCIETY TO PLACE MARKER AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

SELECTED AS OLDEST COLLEGE IN STATE

The National Society of the Daughters of the Cincinnati, an exclusive body composed of descendants of Washington's generals, will with appropriate ceremonies place a marker before a tree on the campus of Washington College in memory of George Washington next Saturday, May 18th on two o'clock. The tree, a gift of the Society, was planted last fall. Similiar trees were planted in the original thirteen colonies on the campus of their respective oldest colleges, and Washington College, being the oldest in Maryland, was chosen for this honor.

The tree and marker will be formally presented to the college by Mrs. Gustavus T. Kirby, of New York, the national president of the Daughters of the Cincinnati, together with Mrs. J. Harper Skillin, of Easton, Md., member of the Maryland Chapter, in presence of several Cincinnati members from distant points such as New York, Washington, Baltimore and Virginia. Invitations have been sent out by the Washington College Historical Society to Historical and Patriotic societies and to the College Board of Visitors and Governors to attend the exercises, which will undoubtly rank as one of the outstanding events of the college year. A luncheon will be given by the college at Reid Hall for the out of town guests on one fifteenshrdlushrd town guests at 1.15 p. m. The program for next Saturday is being arranged by the Washington College Historical Society with the co-operation of the administration.

FOR THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.
