The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

How the days do creep by and seasons that it seems but yesterday I was discussing, are about gone and before I know it, we'll be writing of Summer activities. Gifts for the graduate, commencement celebrations, June brides, Regatta plans, all make us think of Summer, and Miss Springtime, a topic of but a few weeks ago, will be past history. Mid-summer, makes me think of an item right here. A couple of weeks ago I told you of a wedding to be on May 30, that of Mrs. Catherine Beck Jones and Mr. John Kiskadden. Well, due to some unforeseen circumstances, including a possible change of office to Chicago for Mr. Kiskadden, the wedding has been postponed until July. Let's hope it won't be too hot a day.

But from the future, let's drop back to last week end and work up to the present. Mr. James L. Bacchus, now living in New York, was home for the week end and entertained at luncheon on Sunday in honor of a Mr. and Mrs. Romaine, of New York, who had been married just the day before on Saturday, and were spending only the one day here in Chestertown. Mrs. J. D. Bacchus, returned with her son, Sunday evening to New York, where she expects to remain a month.

Other out of town visitors last week end were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter White and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Smith, of Washington, D. C., who were guests of Col. and Mrs. H. S. Brown at Godlington Manor.

Still more included visitors from Philadelphia to whom Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Huey were hosts. They were: Mrs. Farley, Misses Crawford, Grasse and Andrews, the latter two ladies being formerly of New England and were treated to their first visit to the Eastern Shore.

Now into the present! Mrs. Thomas G. Horsfield and her little daughter, Nancy Ingham, of East Orange, N. J., are guests of Mrs. Horsfield's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Julian Power. They expect to be here about a month, and if you want to see a proud grandmother just call around there sometime, and ask Mrs. Power if she knows of one.

Miss Doris Nichols, a student nurse at the Union Memorial Hospital, Baltimore, is having a week's leave and is visiting her sister, Mrs. Rolph Townshend.

In the way of entertaining, things are a little livelier too. Last Saturday evening, Mrs. Allan B. Harris entertained friends at dinner and bridge and on Tuesday evening, another group at bridge, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Harris. Mrs. Harris and her two sons, Allan and Louis, will shortly be leaving us for the West. Their plans now are to spend part of the summer in Lake Forest and Rockford, Ill., before going to Los Angeles, Cal., where they will make their future home. We all hate to think of how much they will be missed from this community.

Friday, turned out to be another one of those days on which many things occur and you race from one party on to another. Mrs. Karl Melamet entertained at luncheon and bridge at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bacchus, while later in the day, Mrs. James Chapman entertained at dinner and bridge at the home of her mother, Mrs. Frank Simpers. This party was in honor of Mrs. John Dickery, of Belfast, Maine, with whom Mrs. Chapman motored down, and with whom she will return next week. I was wrong a week or two ago when I said Mrs. Chapman was from Sandy Point. I forgot she had moved from there to Belfast.

Still another entertainment that day wil be the third of a series of card parties at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club. And right while I'm at the Club, I hear of a big night due on June 1 there. It's caleld a June Frolic, and what that is, I don't know except that there will be dancing. They want a good crowd, and so if you want to see what a frolic really is, you better go and find out, which is, of course, exactly what the entertainment committee wants you to do.

Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Mead will entertain at a dinner party Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kirkmeyer, of Richmond, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hopkins, of Baltimore. The party who came on Mr. and Mrs. Kirkmeyer's yacht up the Wye River is anchored off Mr. Tom Smith's estate on the Wye and are his week end guests. On Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Mead will be hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Hunt, of Birmingham, Ala., who will remian for a few days. Mr. Hunt will do some research work in the Library of Congress, Washington while in this vicinity.

Still another house party for the week end will include guests from Danville, Va., who will visit Mr. and Mrs. Browne M. Roe, better known as 'Barbee and Bus.' Two of them were ushers in their wedding, which you'll remember took place on New Year's Eve. The Virginia friends are: Miss Agnes Withers, and Messrs. James Prichard and Lee Booth.

Miss Susan Roberts is visiting her sister, Mrs. Annie Stam in Washington, D. C., Miss Roberts expects to be away for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Schrieber have returned after a visit with their son, C. Harry Schreiber and his family, who reside in Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Draper are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby boy born on Wednesday, May 22nd at the Easton Hospital. Mr. Draper who is the newly appointed manager of the A & P store here, will move his family from Easton to the Cooper House on High St. the middle of June.

And now, I hate to draw to a close on a melancholy note, but I know you'll be sorry to hear that Mrs. Thomas Elliott is quite sick at her home on High Street and likewise Mr. Thomas Massey at his home on High Street. Mr. James G. Beck is still at the Union Memorial and did not get home as we had so hoped for and expected last week. I should certainly think he and Mrs. Beck would like to oust the word patience from the dictionary, for they have had to endure about all the patience in every dictionary in the world. Little Hazel Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goldie Jones is very ill at the Easton Hospital. Mrs. Wm. J. Smith is at the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital for treatment. But let's hope for brighter tydings next week, so tili then,

Yours abiding,
THE WANDERER.

FARMERS WILL VOTE ON WHEAT ACT TODAY

POLLING PLACES NAMED

County Agent J. D. McVean has announced final details of Kent's part in the national referendum to be held among all wheat growers of the nation on Saturday, May 25. The purpose of the referendum is to determine the reaction of the farmers to the Wheat Production Adjustment Program. The ballot will contain the question, "Are you in favor of a Wheat Production Adjustment program to follow the present one which expires with the 1935 crop year?"

A meeting was held in the Court House here last night at which details of the program were explained. It was only lightly attended.

Farmers, whether they have contracts or not but which live on farms which harvested wheat in the base period of 1930, 1931 and 1932, are eligible to vote and are urged to take part in the election which will decide the future of the wheat program by majority rule.

The referendum vote will be handled very much like a general election, with election district wheat committees in charge of the voting in their respective districts. Each eligible voter, as he votes, will have his name and address recorded and a record made of the fact that the ballot was placed in the box. The voters mark the ballots in private, deposit them in the box which will not be opened until the polls close. The polls will be open from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Voting places are as follows:

1st District—Office of E. T. Massey, Massey.

2nd District—Farm Bureau Office, Kennedyville.

3rd District—Church Hall, Worton.

4th and 7th Districts—Court House, Chestertown.

5th District—Firemen's Hall, Rock Hall.

6th District—Barnes' Hall, Fairlee.

The Kent directors in the Wheat Association are: A. L. Beaston, Edgar Lusby, Elwood R. Morris, L. A. Sutton, Howard S. Leaverton, J. W. Walbert, W. E. Davis. The executive committee is composed of E. R. Morris, L. S. Sutton, A. L. Beaston. This group, with County Agent McVean, will be responsible for the election, the totaling of the vote and the reporting of the results.

Kent has benefittted greatly from the wheat adjustment plan. Farmers opinion is strongly in favor of continuing the plan. It is expected that Kent farmers will vote heavily on Saturday to reveal their support of the plan.

STANT FREED ON MURDER CHARGE

Clarence Stant, Church Hill garage man, was found not guilty by a Queen Anne's County jury on Friday of last week on a charge of murdering Gilbert Williams at his garage in Church Hill on Tuesday, May 7th. The defense claiming self defense.

According to their testimony, Williams and Dalton entered Stant's place of business about 12.30 p. m. These two with Stant and a punchboard salesman, began a game of 5 and 10 cent stud poker.

A session of craps, in which Stant later testified he did not participate succeeded the poker.

Then Stant and Williams paired off for a round of pitch at a dollar a game. Williams won, and he and Dalton were about to leave, the latter testified, when one more game was suggested.

It was the last game which precipitated the disagreement.

Williams accused Stant of having one too many matches, representing points, in his score. Stant denied this, and both reached for the stake money on the counter between them. Stant got the money.

Williams struck at Stant with his fist, whereupon the latter hurled a bottle, which missed its target. When Williams picked up a stool, the garageman reached into the counter draw for his gun.

Then, Hussum testified, as Williams came around the counter, stool in hand, Stant warned, 'Stop, or I'll let you have it.' Williams kept coming, and the shot was fired.

GONZALLES LOSES DECISION

KID COSDEN GAINS DECISION IN 8 ROUND BOUT AT CENTREVILLE.

Henry Gonzalles, trained by Reds Smith, of Betterton, lost a decision to Kid Cosden in an 8 round bout at Centreville, Friday evening, April 17.

Gonzalles apparently went into the ring with the idea he was going to get licked. It was common talk around the county that he would not be able to go the route with Cosden, the reputed best fighter on the Shore.

The first few rounds were Cosden's. Gonzalles went down once for the count of nine.

As the fight progressed Gonzalles seemed to gain confidence and in the last two rounds of the fight he had all the best of Cosden.

Fans and supporters, of Gonzalles believe that if he had had more confidence in the early rounds he could have defeated Cosden.

As it was, Gonzalles fought a good fight and used his head more than in any hard fight he has had.

Reds' Smith's other two fighters went out by the knock-out route. Young Simpers and Tex Nichols trained by Smith could not stand the gaff for more than three rounds.
