NOW AND THEN

JUNE

By ALICE MATHEWS

Now has returned the joyous mouth of June
Beneath a weight of fragrant roses red,
Beauty and gladness blend to conjure tune,
Poetical creations that may happily spread
Around the all-inviting summer bower
And on love's balcony in the moonlight,
Where separated from thorn rose power
Demurest ecstacy and sweet delight
Can weave, a most mysterious tender spell,
That other lesser flowers, however fair,
Could never to the Summer really tell
What glowing roses red, distinctive dare.
June is the month of roses, and the breeze
Doth love to toss sweet fragrance to and fro
Where favorable our human hearts receive
The joy, that only June-time may bestow.

Roses, Roses every where! Were they ever so abundant? They not only sweeten the atmosphere, but even the tone of society. For who could criticize his neighbor when lovely roses are blooming around, or talk of troubles and hardships?

In fact they seem to say 'Be happy,' Be Happy.' Let us cultivate our flowers, for after all 'we are nearer God's heart in a garden, than any place else on earth.'

A MODERN NARCISSUS

In a lovely garden, there is a base supporting a globe which reflects all the beauty around. In it one sees the image of flowers green fields, waving trees and birds flying above.

An it seems to deceive the birds themselves, for in watching, we saw a young finch fly down and light upon the ball. His reflection seem to please him, for he lingered, gazing for some time. Perhaps he was looking for a mate, for he left and brought back a worm. But the shadow had a worm also. He staid a long time until one thought of Narcissus whom fable tells, us fell in love with his face reflected in the water. But birdie was wiser than Narcissus for after vain endeavors to reach his reflection he finally flew away and we hope found a less evasive mate.

Every one rejoiced when the little kidnapped boy, George Weyerhausen, was returned to his parents.

It was a costly return, but it was paid gladly to get their son back. And now the police are on the trail. Perhaps they will be able to recover the money before it is spent. Certainly the lives of the kidnappers are anything but happy they will hide away the money for fear of being caught. Theirs will be hunted miserable lives far more wretched than dire poverty.

May the 26th has become a great day, it is the birthday of the quintuplets. The listeners in were treated to some sound made by each of the five on their birthday. Dr. Dafoe, the Canadian doctor, that brought them into the world, a simple doctor unknown, except to his patients and friends, has become a national character and has been knighted by the King of England.

But we hear of no such honor for the mother who brought them into the world. She has even been deprived of the pleasure of raising her own babies. Perhaps she will rise up and demand her own, though five more mouths to feed in these days of depression, means much.

MY DOG

Through glad days and sad days
We two have clung together;
O'er rough roads and tough roads
In every kind of weather.

Our square meals and spare meals
Have both been shared together;
On warm nights and storm nights
We've slept amongst the heather.

A fair friend, a rare friend,
Who never asks me whether
It's byways or highways,
Just so we are together.

Wm. H. Rumsey in Shepherd Dog Review.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

The lights of the New York City subway train expired while the thronged train was between stations. The passengers were thrown into confusion.

'Can I find you a strap?' the tall young man asked the lady at his side.

She smiled sweetly in the gloom. 'Thank you,' she replied, 'but I have just found one.'

'Then perhaps you won't mind letting go of my tie,' he rejoined.

EMORY HOGANS AWARDED $30.000 VERDICT

TALBOT COUNTY JURY AWARDS LARGEST DAMAGES VERDICT IN HISTORY OF SHORE

Mr. Emory Hogans, of Rock Hall, was awarded a verdict of $30,000 by a jury at Easton Wednesday afternoon after deliberating for less than an hour Wednesday afternoon.

The verdict was against the Holt Oil Company and was for injures received when an automobile driven by Mr. Hogans was in collision with an oil truck, owned by the defendant, at Bakers Woods near Fairlee on February 19, 1934.

Mr. Hogans accompanied by Messrs. John R. Dowling and Robert Lewis, was driving from Chestertown to Rock Hall, and according to the evidence brought out at the trial, the oil truck, which was driven by Mr. Wilmer Dill, skidded on the icy road and crashed into the Hogans car. Mr. Hogans was seriously injured while his two companions received only minor injuries.

The damages awarded Mr. Hogans are said to be the largest amount ever awarded by a jury on the Eastern Shore. The plaintiff was represented by Messrs. S. Scott Beck and William Pepper Constable. The defendant was represented by Messrs. Harrison W. Vickers, Fred. Webb, E. T. Miller.

Files Motion For New Lrial

A motion for a new trial has been filed by the defendant based on claims of irregularities in the trial held this week.

BRIDGE BILL REPORTED FAVORABLE

CONGRESS WILL EXTEND TIME

Congressman Cole reported this week that his committee had reported favorable on the congressional bill to extend the time for starting and finishing the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

He however stated that he could still block the measure if he found the Federal loan would interfere with Federal grants for other Maryland projects.

Congressman Cole's announcement passes the bridge project to the point where the only remaining stumbling block is the question of the P. W. A. granting the loan for construction, which although it will meet some opposition is expected to be approved.

COUNTRY CLUB PLANS YACHTING ACTIVITIES

The date of the annual Yachtsmen's Dinner at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club has tentatively been set for Saturday, June 22, according to R. Hynson Rogers who is in charge of the arrangements for the yearly affair. A program of speeches is being set and will be announced in the near future.

At the same time Mr. Rogers announced that plans were nearing completions for a series of Sunday afternoon sailing races to be sailed on a handicap basis. The series will probably be inaugurated on Sunday, June 16 and will be held in front of the Country Club pier.

WILL DECLARE TAX RATE NEXT WEEK

MAY REACH $1.20 TO PROVIDE FOR ROAD BONDS

Due to the failure of the State Roads Commission to continue to meet interest and bonds of Kent County's road bond issue, the Board of County Commissioners may have to raise the county tax rate to $1.20 next week when they strike the 1935 levy.

For the past several years the State has paid the interest and bonds but due to the much reduced receipts from the gasoline tax and the change in the Federal post road fund this burden has been thrown back on the county.

The present Board of County Commissioners were compelled to borrow $20,800 in January to meet the road bond interest payments which were unforseen and not levied for last June. In addition to this amount $323,600 will be required to meet the July payments and $17,500 to meet the payments next January.

A recent act of the Legislature empowers the Commissioners to either bond or borrow to meet this future obligation and just what part of the obligaton will be levied for will be determined next week.

When the million dollar road bond issue was passed in Kent County, it provided for the retirement of $80,000 each year by the State Roads Commission from Kent's allotment for new road construction, provided that the allotment reached that amount. At that time it, together with the Federal post road fund left a balance. The estimated receipts from the gasoline tax this year is estimated at $60,000 which leaves a deficit on bond payments of $20,000 together with the annual retirement of $10,000 slag road bonds.

The difference between the $60,000 and $80,000 will probably be available from funds due this county from the State from another road receipts fund and the State will continue to maintain the county road system. It was with reference to these two items that the County Commissioners met with the State Roads Commission this week and while no definite agreement was reached it is thought that these items will be cared for.

NEW POSTOFFICE AGAIN DISCUSSED

COUNCIL COOPERATES WITH STREET IMPROVEMENT

The question of a new post office for Chestertown came to the front again this week, when Mr. H. S. Roome, of the Treasury Department met with the Mayor and Council on Monday evening of this week.

There is little question as to the location of the new Federal building as the only site under consideration is the Bibbs Inn property adjoining the Voshel Hotel and owned by Mr. Thomas W. Eliason.

As a result of a petition which was circulated among the white adults of Chestertown, 700 signers favored that location out of an estimated 976 voters of this class in Chestertown.

As a result of the meeting Monday night, the Council agreed to widen the street from Calvert street to High street provided that Mr. Eliason and Mr. Eshman would grant a 15 foot right of way to the Hotel and then a nine foot right of way to the corner. This would straighten this street which at the present time is a traffic menace.
