The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

Starting where I left off last week, I want to mention the fact that the wedding last Saturday afternoon of Mary Meigs Ingersoll and Eben Clarke Jenkins was just as simple and pretty as any I've ever seen. The church was beautifully decorated and with the late sun coming through the stained glass windows, the beauty and simplicity was marked. Mary Meigs looked so pretty in her mother's wedding dress and her veil, which belonged to her aunt, was most becoming. And then continuing with the day's activities, the dance at the Country Club Saturday night was the best yet. Everyone, and there was a big crowd, too, had a simply swell time. The music was good, all seemed in a care free, happy mood, and altogether it was a good party. Others, than those I mentioned last week from away that I saw, were: Mr and Mrs. Robert Wilson, and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Hoovan and Mr. and Mrs.. Haven who frequently come down during the summer. 'Teed' and Bob opened up Fox Point for the week end, and on Sunday, the crowd drifted out, some even braving the chilly air for a swim.

On Thursday, Mrs. Allan B. Harris, and her sons, Allan and Louis, finally got off, having been detained for a week longer due to an illness of little Louis. On Wednesday night, Mrs. C. Beck Jones entertained at a small farewell party in honor of Mrs. Harris. Her many friends here certainly will find her absence weaving a great vacancy in our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roome of Hyattsville have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Hines this week. Dr. Roome was here in connection with the plan for the new post office.

Other guests in town this week include Mrs. Lillie Lackey, of Glen Rock, N. J., who is visiting Mrs. Ella Crow, Mrs. Harry McNeil, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Austin Burrows and daughter, of St. Michaels, who are guests of Mrs. Charles R. Schreiber.

Mrs. Victor Noyes and a friend of hers, of Glen Arm, Md., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Barroll. Mr. and Mrs. Barroll entertained at buffet supper last Saturday evening in their honor.

Mrs. Brooke Bond, of Port Republic, Calvert County, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Eben F .Perkins on Water St.

Still more out of towners for the coming week end, will be Mr. and Mrs. William Kegan, of Baltimore, who will visit Mr. and Mrs. W. Dorsey Hines at their home, Riverside. Mrs. Kegan was a former school mate of Mrs. Hines.

Mrs. H. Clay Brown has been spending the week in Baltimore as a guest of her sister, Mrs. O. Gilpin at her residence in Guilford. Mrs. Brown returned Friday.

Mrs. Wm. T. Dixon visited Baltimore on Wednesday to bid au revoir to her young sister, Miss Mary Crisfield, of Savannah, Ga., who sailed on the 'City of Norfolk.' Miss Crisfield will spend the summer in Berlin as a guest of her cousins, later visiting in London before returning to this country in the fall.

Miss Mayme Thompson will open a Kindergarten in September, succeeding Mrs. R. D. Moore who has moved to Easton.

Little Betty Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Turner, Jr., underwent a mastoid operation in Baltimore last Friday, but is getting along very well from all reports.

Mr. Thomas Massey was taken to the Church Home Hospital in Baltimore last Friday, but at this writing his condition is a little improved.

Familiar faces among the younger set greet us again as colleges and schools are closing. Elizabeth Fontaine, Fredrica Metcalf, Dorothy and Harrison Vickers and others, whom I can't remember at the moment, are back, ready for a summer of fun and gaiety.

June Week at Washington College commenced Thursday with the President's and Mrs. Mead's reception to the Visitors and Governors, faculty and members of the senior class. Friday night the grand Commencement Ball will be followed by the Alumni Dinner Dance on Saturday night, with the Commencement on Monday. Then fifty-four young people with sheep-skins in hand will embark upon the sea of future callings to tackle this old world. We congratulate them and wish them the best.

Yours hand shaking,

THE WANDERER.

Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, President of Washington College delivered the address to the graduating class of the Delmar High School Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Douskiss and little daughter, of Easton, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. Douskiss parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham.
