The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

The longest day in the year—today, and the official beginning of that delightful, lazy-dazy season called Summer. The annual Yachtsmen's Dinner at the Country Club tonight when those veteran, middle-aged and youthful boatsmen will assemble, is eagerly anticipated by the men, it being a strictly stag affair, when yarns and 'once upon a times' will be swapped with the same relish as in previous years. Simon W. Westcott will act as toastmaster, and the principal speaker will be Mr. George W. Rappelyea, navigator in the U. S. Power Squadron. Prevous to the dinner, Col. Price Ewing will entertain a number of his friends at a party, in honor of his nephew, Mr. Radcliffe Herberton, of Philadelphia, one of the newest additions to local yachting circles; so altogether the evening is destined to go off in grand style.

Following tonights affair, tomorrow, Sunday, the first of a series of sailing races, commencing at 2.30 p. m., will mark the opening of the yachting season, so try to get out and see this pretty sight, and be glad you have a river so near you.

Now to avoid ending up on a sad note. I am going to give you the sick list now and hope by next week I may transfer all of them into the Recovery column. Those of whom I am reminded are: Mrs. A. T. H. Harper, Miss Alice Wilmer, Mrs Walter B. Strong, and Mr. Thomas Massey, who has returned to his home from the hospital in Baltimore, but is still in a serious condition.

Mrs. Henry Hamill who was recently operated on for appendicitis at the Easton Hospital returned to her home in Fairlee, Friday, where she is fast recuperating.

Well, let's see who is touring the country or else. Those who will leave shortly to be away visiting friends during July and August.

Miss Elizabeth Brown, who came last week end to spend the summer months with her mother, Mrs. H. Clay Brown, left Friday to visit a friend at her cottage in Ventnor, Atlantic City for the week end. From there, Miss Brown will go to Philadelphia on Monday where she will play in the Ladies Tennis Tournament, at the Merion Cricket Club, which commences Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. H. Gilpin Brown, of Philadelphia, will be week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck.

Mrs. Gilpin and her daughter, Miss Laura Gilpin, have been guests this week of Mrs. H. Clay Brown.

Mrs. J. D. Bacchus has returned from her visit to New York, and last week end, she and Mr. Bacchus entertained Mr. Walter Truslow, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a relative of theirs, who is the grandson of Rev. John Bacchus, a prominent rector of Brooklyn. Mrs. Karl Melamet and little Karl, are now in New York visiting Mr. James Bacchus.

Mrs. Catherine Beck Jones left last week end for Rehoboth, Del., where she has remained throughout this week, visiting her aunt, Mrs. Kate Gundry.

Mr. Stanley Gerlatus will return Sunday to New York, having been the guest this week of Mrs. Etta Fountain and Mrs. Herbert Skipper.

Miss Harriette Welch will come today to spend a few days with Mrs. Fountain and Mrs. Skipper before leaving for Duke University Durham, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and family, opened up their summer home, Fox Point last week end, where they will spend the remainder of the season. The usual, jolly open house Sunday nights will begin, and their many friends never fail to find a most cordial welcome there.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel D. Sollers and little daugher, Sally Dare, of Baltimore, will come today, to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr.

On Wednesday, Mrs. W. Dorsey Hines entertained at the first of a series of luncheons, followed by bridge, at her home, Riverside.

A tea was held on the lawn of Mrs. Pyle, Friday afternoon, for the benefit of the Library. This is the second of entertainments of this nature sponsored by the ladies of the Literary Society. They have proven to be very enjoyable, and at the same time a great help in furthering the cause for those who love to read.

Mrs. George Marriner, of Asbury Park has been visiting her sister, Miss Lula Harley, Mrs. Marriner was the former, Miss Bonnie Harley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, of Ottawa, Ill., and their little grand-daughter, spend last week end here. Mr. and Mrs. Walker who have a wide family connection here, were much entertained during their short stay.

Miss Cynthia Clendaniel, of New York, has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. John Clendaniel.

Mrs. Emily Crane, of Philadelphia, spent last week end here as guests of friends.

Mrs. Frank Gurley has been visiting in Washington.

Misses Mary and Anna Wallace, of Georgetown, were guests last week end in town.

Dr. Gilbert W. Mead visited New York this week on business. He was accompanied by his son John, who left that city for Cuba in the capacity of Super Cargo. After his return from Cuba he will then make a trip to European countries.

So now that about let's me out for this week, as long as I am not a manufacturer of news, I remain only yours,

THE WANDERER.

Howard D. Knotts, Jr., Chestertown, left on Sunday for Oakland, California, where he will enroll as a student at the Boling School of Aeronatics He will take the Airline Mechanic Course, a one year course of study.

Get the other fellow's view point. Last week end one of the N. R. A. lawyers was visiting in Old Kent and wanted to go soft crabbing. We took him and put him on the end of a crab seine for half an hour. The half hour of work got him down and he expressed the opinion that the N. R. A. should set a minimum price on soft crabs of $2.50 a dozen.

Later he was telling of a city boy that recently turned farmer and has one cow. The farmer has two dates with the cow every day. He agreed with the N. R. A. lawyer about the price of crabs and added that the N. R. A. price on milk should be at least $250 a quart. Try the other fellow's job for awhile and find out if it is as easy as it looks.

Still two more Barnegat sail boats for the Chester. Mrs. Harrison has a new one and the Kellog-Smith camp now has one.

An example of the above. This week the Governor has parolled ninety or more prisioners. The majority guilty of breaking in and stealing and the list also includes men guilty of hold ups, first degree murder and crimes equally as bad. It is hard to catch a criminal and if caught it is hard to prove him guilty. Very rarely is the mistake made of getting an innocent man. After the law has taken its course, a Governor steps in and turns them out whole-sale. It seems it all wrong, but probably if I were on the inside looking out from behind the bars, I would have a different opinion.

Mr. Rappelyea, guest speaker at the Yacht Club banquet this year, also honored us last year. He is a doctor and was connected with public health work. Health work was rubbing it in on the ancestors too much for him, about their being so unsanitary. Then he turned to his hobby for a living and became a naval architect.

The ancestors were an unsanitary lot according to present day ideas.

If they had had present day ideas the trips in the Ark and Dove or Mayflower would never have been made.

Prospects for students at Washington College next year are very bright. Several years ago it was hard to get enough to meet the demands of the State. Now it looks like the enrollment will have to be limited and the freshman class can be hand-picked. What an improvement.

TO ESTABLISH PARK ACROSS BRIDGE

RESIDENTS BUY TRIANGLE PLOT

A group of residents living in the vicinity of the Queen Anne's end of the Chester River Bridge have purchased the triangle near the bridge which separates the old and new road and will turn it over to the County Commissioners of that county to be made into a park.

A delegation composed of Walter W. Needles, Claude Truslow and Rumsey Anthony met with the Board of County Commissioners on Tuesday at which time the Board contributed $125 toward the project on condition that the title to the property be made to Queen Anne's County.

The County and State Roads Commission, it s understood, will cooperate with citizens of the community in developing the area, which is a triangle measuring 90x700x40, into a beauty spot. Also interwoven with the project is the thought that it may someday be dedicated to the American Legion Posts in Kent and Queen Anne's Counties.

Mr. Walter Needles, along with Claude and Neal Truslow, and Rumsey Anthony have been the moving forces in purchasing the property from Mrs. Ida Skipper Parks for the purpose as outlined.

Those who contributed were:
