SPRAY OR TRAP JAPANESE BEETLES

County Agent McVean reports frequent calls for information regarding Japanese Beetle control and reasons why the traps are not out and serviced again this year. The traps are missing due to severe curtailment in the control appropriations. No reason is advanced for cutting down on such vitally important work. If the Japanese horde is allowed to make an unchecked invasion, it becomes a very destructive and expensive problem.

Individuals are urged to fight the beetle with poison and trap.

Mr. McVean is securing imformation as to the cost of trap and bait-source of purchase of both. He will furnish the data when received, meanwhile poison spray is effective. For grapes and early fruit use 1 lb. hydrate lime to 3 gallons of water. For other plants use arsenate of lead 6 bls., wheat flour 4 lbs., and 100 gallons of water.

The beetle is active from early June up to October 1st. Control methods above ground are used for 8 weeks —from June 15th to August 15th.

Lawns and golf courses may be grub proof by use of 10-15 lbs. acid lead arsenate for each 1000 square feet in established sod——or 35 lbs. on upper 3 inch of soil in making new lawns.

The County Agent has detailed information for those who desire it regarding quarantine regulations, publications, certification of regulated material for shipment.

NOW AND THEN

NOW AND THEN

The little toy dog is covered with dust,
But sturdy and staunch he stands;
The little toy soldier is red with rust,
And his musket moulds in his hands.

Time was when the little toy dog was new,
And the soldier was passing fair;
And that was the time when our Little Boy Blue
Kissed them and put them there.

"Now don't you go till I come," he said,
"And don't you make any noise!"
So toddling off to his trunkle bed,
He dreamed of his pretty toys;

And as he was dreaming an angel Song
Awakened our little Boy Blue—
Oh! the years are many, the years are long,
But the little toy friends are true!

Ay, faithful to little Boy Blue they stand,
Each in the same old place,
Awaiting the touch of a little hand,
And the smile of a little face;

And they wonder as waiting the the long years through
In the dust of that little chair,
What has become of our little Boy Blue,
Since he kissed and put them there.

—Eugene Fields.

A pair of red birds have their nest in a vine covered fence just under my window. Such a happy time they are having. The male bird, supplying food, while his little wife sits on the eggs. We saw him going in to relieve her by sitting on the eggs himself while she went our for an airing. She is wearing a mouse gray dress trimmed with red while her husband has a bright red suit. Why do the warblers build so near the ground when there are thousands of enemies watching in order to devour them? Perhaps it is to hide from the eagle eyes of the birds of prey who can espy them from a distance. Where ever they build, there is danger. But, in spite of that, song birds have increased wonderfully since the law against shooting them went into effect.

There are few poets more appealing than the writer of this poem. He loved children so well, that as he was hastening to his own wedding he saw some boys in trouble and he stopped to help them thus making him late for the ceremony. His bride must have forgiven him, for he had a very happy married life.

He lost a little son and wrote the above poem soon after. There are few to whom it does not awaken an answering chord.

He made his home in Chicago and was greatly beloved. When he died all classes, the rich and the poor, gathered round to do him honor.

THE RADIO

Is there any thing more versatile than the radio? As one walks the streets he hears from different angles, the deep tones of the organ; the sweet lilt of the violin, playing some favorite air, a solo, and then a real jazz tune. And all from different radios. Variety is the spice of life they say.

Surely one who loves music can find what he wants, though the classical airs seem to be very scarce during the hot weather.

HOW TO KEEP COOL

Here are some of the rules for keeping cool, told me by one who rarely suffers with heat.

Take plenty of air in your lungs, not holding it in too long, which, they say is hard upon your heart, but inhaling and exhaling freely. Drink plenty of water; it is not necessary to have it iced for water in itself is cooling. Eat sparingly of meat in hot weather, but substitute fresh green vegetables. If heated let water run over your wrists. Never wash your face in cold water when you are very warm. Wait until you are cooled off. And above all do not think of the weather nor let it fret you. Just as soon as you begin to feeze the hotter you grow, so keep your temper and you will find that your body will grow cooler too.

COUNTRY-WIDE SEARCH BEING MADE FOR JOHN ELLIS

FEDERAL INVESTIGATORS ASKED TO AID IN SEARCH

John Ellis, Sought for the Murder of Kelly Terry

The above picture of John Ellis, accused slayer of Kelly Terry at The Stafford House near Chestertown on June 29th, was secured by Sheriff Bennett on Wednesday of this week with the assistance of Pennsylvania Police. The picture was found in the home of a friend of Ellis in Chester. It was taken in the hills of Pennsylvania while Ellis and a party of friends were on a deer hunt.

Local authorities have secured the assistance of the Pennsylvania State Police force in the search for Ellis and have also applied to the Federal Crime Investigation Department, better known as the "G" men for assistance in the search.

The search has spread to the hills of Pennsylvania in the vicinity of his deer hunting haunts.

After finding his automobile at Marcus Hook an immediate check up was made of all outbouund ships to determine whether he might have stored away on any of the ships out of that point.

Uu to the time of going to press Ellis is still at large and authorities are without any definite clues as to his whereabouts.

MRS. SARAH FLORENCE RASIN DIED FRIDAY

Mrs. Sarah Florence Rasin passed away at her late home in Betterton on Friday afternoon of last week, July 5th, in her 59th year.

She has been a resident of Betterton for over forty years and was a devoted member of St. Johns By The Bay Church for many years. She was a Past Noble Grand of the Rebecca Lodge of Odd Fellows; she was devoted to her home and family and doing for others endeared her to her many friends.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. Lotus Rasin, and four daughters, Mrs. Oscar Wilmore, Mrs. Charles Worral and Mrs. Martha Rasin, all of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Walter Redmile, of Chevy Chase, Md.; one son Lotan Rasin, Jr., of Betterton; also five grand children.

Funeral services were held at her late home Monday morning at 10.00 o. m., Rev. Wyllie officiating. Interment was made at Still Pond cemetery where members of Rebecca Lodge had charge of the services.

The bearers were Messrs. Warner Geary, Walter Anthony, John Brooks, Norman Hopkins, Carlton Webb and Harvey Hopkins. B. R. Fellows was in charge of funeral arrangements.

ACCOMPLISHMENT

You say the life guard taught you to swim in one lesson, MacScotto? How did he manage to do it?

He pinned a dollar bill onto my bathing suit and threw me into the water.

The Curbstone Diplomat

WILLIAM S. COLLINS

Queen Anne's and some of the other Counties have entertained the poor kids from the city that need a visit to the country. So far Kent has not entertained and we hear Mrs. Nell C. Westcott, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is worried about the situation.

Mr. Thomas Hoyle says Mr. Culley's letter caused quite a bit of comment in Philadelphia, "City of Brotherly Love." They seem to like a scrap.

Mr. Maxwell Crowding has purchased quite a number of snakes which he has on display in cages at the College Hill Filling Station. Boa Constrictors, Mexican Black Bulls, Mexican just plain bulls, assorted litlocal talent, is confined to a peach basket. Give the local goy or maybe girl a chance.

The two rattlesnakes of the collection departed this life shortly after arrival. Do you envy the man his pets?

Do you know that one of Chestertown's drys will not walk under a beer sign. In walking down Main St. he is very careful to dodge them.

Sailors on the Chester River are of the opinion that Doc Sterling's boat is the fastest of them all. She has been handled very well by Captain Bland and no doubt this has helped in the success at the races, but the Barnegats have been sailed by able sailers, and they just do not show the speed the Rexall does.

Last Sunday with Med Capel at the helm, Belt Townshend's Barnegat and Miss Wood's Barnegat managed to trim the Rexall, the first time that it has not been first to cross the finish in the series.

Several are planning to have boats of the type of the Rexall, which is a typical Chesapeake Bay boat and is known as a skip jack. If they could get 5 or 6 of these it would make a nice class.

The builder of these boats in Wm. Sterling, of Crisfield and he is represented locally by Doc Sterling.

Prospective buyers of these boats include Dr. J. S. William Jones, Mr. Clarence Bealhgrtz and Coach Kibler.

The Paca boys from Quaker Neck Wharf sail a good race and show real pluck in sailing all the way up to the races and back. So far Gilbert Ingersol has made out better than the others from the Deep Point section. Last week a newcomer, Miss Wood, made an excellent showing and there is one man saying the Griebs are going to grab one race.

John Truslow's Hog Island Sharpy seems to posess great possibilities. So far they do not have the hang of sailing the craft. Last Sunday in the first race she did not do so well. In the second she came in first and going home could have beaten a motor boat. They do better every time they sail her.

Last Friday while we were at press we had a very distinguished visitor in the person of Mr. William Pruit, who it is believed was arrested by mistake in the murder of Kelly Terry.

Mr. Pruitt had never been in a printing office before so he strolled in. He stated that he liked Chestertown a lot. He served a term in the Chestertown jail as a Federal prisoner during the old bootleg days. He also stated that he was very much surprised that Sunday morning to be awakened from his sleep by a knock on the door. He went down and let in the Sheriff, of Harford County who told him they wanted him for murder in Chestertown. Mr. Pruit was soon at his ease in Chestertown. He looked very meek and anything but a murderer.

FALL PIG PROSPECTS GOOD

As a result of a canvass made by rural mail carriers, indications are that an increase of 7 per cent in the number of sows to farrow this fall as compared with a year ago, will produce a good supply of pigs. The spring pig crop is 6 per cent less in '35 than it was in '34. High prices for shoats cause farmers to sell them rather than feed them out. The improved prices are pleasing to farmers who for several years received disastrously low prices for pigs and hogs.

FOR GOODNESS SAKES!

Clara: You love to go to Sunday school, don't you?
Sarah: You bet.
Clara: What'll you learn tomorrow?
Sarah: The date of the picnic.

G'WAN!

Jean: Fashions may come and go, but there's always a demand for cosmetics.
June: Yes, women can't go wan forever.

MAY GIVE 45 PER CT. OF BRIDGE COST

MEETING HELD IN WASHINGTON MONDAY

At the meeting held in Washington on Monday of this week getween proponents of the Chesapeake Bay bridge and Secretary Ickes, the committee found Mr. Ickes heartily in sympathy with the bridge project and familar with it in detail.

He intimated that the government would probably give outright 45% of the cost of the project but that the remaining 55% would probably have to be financed from some source within the State..

He suggested that the committee return to Washington at some future date with some definite financial plan worked out.

The result of the meeting was that Maryland should be able to work out some financial plan to raise $5,500,000 if the government would donate 4,500,000. As to the government loaning the $5,500,000 balance, Mr. Ickes said that funds were not available, due to the fact that Maryland had already exceeded its quota, pointing out the money spent at the various Army posts in Maryland.

The Chesapeake Bay Bridge Authority is now faced with the problem of raising $5,500,000.

C. C. CAMP FOR KENT COUNTY

WILL WORK ON SOIL EROSION

200 MEN TO BE STATIONED HERE

County Agent McVean announces a C. C. C. Camp is listed for Kent. Following an investigation conducted by Dr. A. L. Patrick, Regional Director in Soil Conservation Work, Kent was chosen as an area with a big soil erosion problem and with a splendid opportunity to save her fertile soils by timely effort along simple, practical lines.

Captain William H. Colbern was in Kent on July 3rd and obtained a lease for the Camp site. Mrs. Rachel Hill's farm, one mile south of Kennedyville, tenanted by Merritt Willis, was chosen because of its central location, accessibility, 'phone and electric lines, etc. The camp will be on the Betterton road, about one-quarter mile west of U. S. 213.

Mr. McVean expects arrangements for the construction of the Camp will soon be made. The Camp, aside from the value of the work the men will do in the control and prevention of soil washing or erosion, will bring much business into Kent. The Camp is a part of the President's Works plan and will use two hundred (200) employables in addition to local labor used in constructing the camp and a staff of technicians in charge of the soils work. Army officers will be in charge of the camp.

Demonstration work in erosion control will be done on the farms of those who voluntarily agree to a well studied practical plan suited to the individual farm. The work will be directed by the Soil Conservation Section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture but will have the hearty cooperation of the Extension Service which recognizes the soil as an exceedingly important problem, which now can be attacked in a practical comprehensive manner.

Mr. McVean reports that similar camps are slated for Washington County, Anne Arundel County, and one for Baltimore-Harford county area.

With the setup of the work established it is thought the Maryland work will be under the direction of C. O. Bruce, Soils Technologist of the Maryland Experiment Station.

ARREST CHICKEN THIEF

Sheriff John Bennett with the assistance of State Officer Blackiston, arrested Medford Turner on Thursday of this week and charged him with stealing chickens.

The chickens were stolen from the Chance Brothers, of near Lambsen, Wednesday night and Turner was arrested in Queen Anne's County the following day. When arrested Turner had 14 hens in his possession which were identified as those stolen the night before. The chickens were returned to the Chance Brothers and Turner was placed in the Kent County jail.

The new law which created the State police force enables those officers to make arrest in any county without going through the formality of securing the cooperation of the officers of that county.

NO BEETLE CONTROL THIS YEAR

SHORTAGE OF FUNDS WILL ELIMINATE WORK HERE

The State and Federal Government will discontinue the Japanese Beetle control work this year due to a shortage of funds.

For several years the State and Federal Government have cooperated in an effort to prevent the dreaded beetle from gaining inroads on the Eastern Shore and have succeeded in keeping it from being a serious menace in Kent County. Each Summer special agents have placed traps in the various towns in Kent County and weekly inspections of the traps in past years have shown that up until the present time very few beetles have been caught..

The damage that has been done by Japanese geetles in some sections of nearby States is a warning to all to be constantly on the look-out for this destructive pest. The traps used in controling the beetle are of simple construction and can be secured at a nominal cost.

The beetle is particularly fond of vegetable and flower gardens and will attack them first. A careful watch out for the beetle may prevent serious damage.

WELFARE BOARD ORGANIZES

G. E. LEARY NAMED CHAIRMAN

The newly appointed Kent County Welfare Board held its organization meeting on Tuesday of this week and elected Mr. G. E. Leary, President of the Board of County Commissioners, as chairman.

The members of the Board drew lots to determine their period of service on the Board with the following results:

One-year terms—A. S. Turner, Jr., Harry J. Hill.

Two year terms—Fred G. Usilton, Mrs. Thomas Cruikshank.

Three year termn—T. H. M. Bramble, L. Bates Russell.

The Board re-eppointed the present Welfare Staff as follows:

Mrs. Margaret Massey, executive secretary.

Staff members—Mrs. L. M. Neal, Miss Evelyn Walbert, Miss Florence Hodgson and Nelson Hackett.

The Board transferred Mr. B. Trew Durding from the Public Work staff to the Welfare staff as Commodity Distributor.

Mr. A. S. Turner, Jr., was named assistant secretary to the Board. The Board will meet every Tuesday morning.

CELEBRATES 79TH BIRTHDAY

Mr. John W. Barnes, foreman at the office of the The Transcript, celebrated his 79 birthday on Wednesday of this week and was the recipient of greeting cards from a large host of friends.

He entered the employ of The Transcript at the age of 15 as a printers devil 64 years ago and is still going strong.

He worked all day on his birthday feeling fine and said that he feels better and is happier when he is working hard. He is a member of the Official Board of the Chestertown M. E. Church and is a member of the Town Council, representing the Third Ward. He also holds official offices in a number of fraternal organizations.

At the age of fifteen he was arrested for playing a boyish prank on election day and when arraigned before late Eben F. Perkins, Sr., instead of the usual fine he was offered a job by Mr. Perkins who at that time was editor of the Transcript. During his 79 years he has raised a large family, kept out of jail and has been a useful citizen in the community in which he lives.
