The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer,

Each week I think I am going to give you a rest, not to mention myself, and then I find myself scribbling off a few lines of the little bit that has occurred since last week. When I say little bit, I mean little bit. All who can take little or big trips are taking them and I surely would like to be among the passenger list. But don't let me get off on wishing for if this were a wishing column, I could fill it easily and then some. Well to go back to where I became side-tracked, the annual mecca to Rehoboth Beach has started Mrs. Emerson Russell and Mrs. Norman Cooper are spending this week there trying to hear what the wild waves are saying and on Thursday, Mrs. James G. Metcalfe and little daughter Frances, (little Jimmie is away at Camp Rodney you know) Mrs. Karl Melamet and young Karl, Mr. James Bacchus and mother, Mrs. J. D. Bacchus, left for that resort also, to enjoy its amusements for a week. Likewise Mrs. J. S. Kreeger and family are there, with Mr. Kreeger joining them over the week-ends.

Miss Harriett Louisa Rogers is home from the Easton hospital where she was recently operated on, and getting along beautifully And while she is recuperating, Miss Elizabeth Fontaine is just beginning her recuperation from an operation for appendicitis also, at a Baltimore hospital. We hope by August to see them both out, well and strong again. The younger set is continuing its round of summer gaieties and last night attended the second of the Cinderalla Cotillions at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club, which are proving such a success and are so popular with the young people. Every night almost, there is some sort of informal entertainment here or there, and last Friday night Virginia and Tom Foley entertained a crowd of their friends at their home on Front street. Miss Betty Childs was rostess at a buffett supper Wednesday evening, while the boys, not to be outdone in entertaining, too have been on the list of hosts. Eredie Grieb had a beach party one night this week, the Gardner boys at Quaker Neck, a picnic beach party Thursday evening and Scott Beck, Jr. entertained a few friends at his home before the Cinderalla dance last night.

Ellen Skinner has been added to the list of summer visitors and is staying with her aunt, Mrs. J. G. Metcalfe. Her mother and father, Mr and Mrs. Louis Skinner are still here and being extensively entertained. Informal luncheons are extremely in vogue during these hot days and have served as quite a delightful past-time to make us forget the heat.

Miss Ellen Beck has had, as her guest this past week, Miss Elizabeth White, of New York, while Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Strong have been hosts to Miss Lillie Geary, of Harrisonburg, Va. who plans to remain a month here, later visiting her sister, Mrs. L. A. Pennington. Mrs. Charles Atwater has as a house guest, her sister, Miss Mary Wilson, of Lansdown, Pa.

Mr. John Townshend and little daughter, Charlotte, are guests of his mother, Mrs. Sidney P. Townshend.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Sparks and little daughter, of Baltimore, are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs A. L. Sparks.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Ivens, of Philadelphia, were week-end guests of Dr. Iven's sister, Mrs. Harry C. Coleman

Mrs. J. Hydie Thompson has returned to her brother's home in Philadelphia after visiting friends and relatives here.

Colonel William A. Schwab, of Weehawken, N. J., formerly of this vicinity, has been visiting for a few days, Mr. and Mrs. R. Clark Davis

Mr. Malcolm Hill and his daughter, Miss Harriett Hill, formerly of Baltimore, but now of Alexandria, Va., spent Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hynson Rogers.

Miss Nancy Jean Usilton, who has a position in Washington, will return home for the week-end and be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Usilton.

Plus the interest in the sailing and outboard motor races, attention is now being turned to the coming of the horse shows According to Wilbur Ross Hubbard, president of the Kent County Horse Association, the date for the 11th annual Kent County Horse Show has been set for August 16th. I hear it is to be unusually good this year, and with the Regatta on August 24th and 25th, it looks like I'll have plenty of news for August. Quite a few local yachtsmen are planning to attend the Havre de Grace Regatta at that town this week-end. Before this Kent County show, however, the Quaker Neck Riding Club is preparing to have its annual show in Quaker Neck July 27th. This show is limited to youthful riders and is one of the feature events of the season for that section of the county.

So till then, fair ones, bear with.

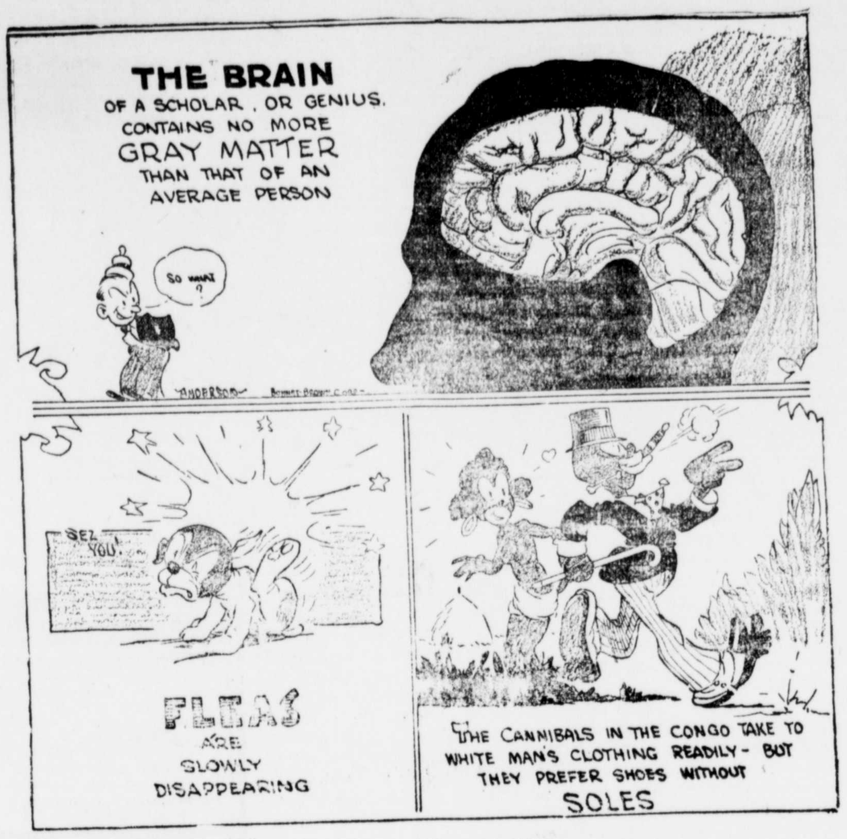

THE WANDERER.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hadaway announced this week the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Simmons Hadaway, to Mr. Woodrow Wilson Reynolds, on Wednesday, July 17th, 1935.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Pratt at Pomono M. E. Parsonage in the presence of a large group of friends.

Mr and Mrs. Reynolds will make their home near Kibler's Corner in Queen Annes County.

NEW SAILING SERIES TO START

Doc Sterling's "Rexall," piled up enough points in the two races last Sunday to win the first series of sailing races. The first series was a six race handicap affair for the Kellogg Smith trohpy.

The second series of races which will be a six race handicap affair like the first, will start Sunday, July 28th at Chestertown. On Sunday, August 4th they will be sailed at Deep Point. This second series of races will be for the Commodore Wilmer trophy.

The "Rexall" has been the outstanding boat in the sailing series. Winning the first two races she sailed under a big handicap but continued to pile up points. The Rexall is a skip jack type of boat. Giving her the first honors the rest belong to the Barnegats, as the next five in standing were Barnegats.

John Truslow's Jolly Roger which entered the series after two races had been run made a good showing and was usually the first to cross the finish line, but as she is much larger than the other boats she suffers from the handicap.

The races last Sunday were sailed in a very light breeze except for a few minutes in the first race. A heavy breeze sprang up about the time the boats were rounding the second bouy. This breeze was a big help to the Rexall.

Thirty-one boats in all competed in the series. The final standings are:

1.	Rexall, A. L. Sterling	106
2.	Day Dream, G. Ingersoll	100
3.	Med, W. B. Townshend	92
4.	Teal, Bill Baker	87

KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS BY ASSAILANT

Miss Louisa Givens, well known in Kent County, where she spends part of the summer with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. William Toulson, of near Chestertown, was struck down in a Washington, D. C., park last Friday night by an unknown assailant.

Miss Givens was to have left for Chestertown Friday evening on the late Tolchester boat. Finding that the schedule had been changed and that she could not make the boat she decided to postpone her trip until Sunday and accepted the invitation of a friend to go walking. Walking through a park with her escort about 9 or 9:30 P. M. a man sprang out and hit her escort on the head, knocking him unconscious. He then knocked Miss Givens unconscious. They were found by a policeman who had them rushed to a hospital. On Monday the young man was still in a critical condition at the hospital, not having regained consciousness. Miss Givens was discharged from the hospital the day after the attack but had to be taken back when it was found her jaw was fractured in two places.

It is not known how long the victims lay unconscious in the park. Miss Givens pocketbook was missing but the man had not been robbed.

Prague . . . Telephone development work in Czechoslovakia this year will involve expenditures of about $80,000,000, according to Commercial Attache Sam E. Woods of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. This project calls for increasing the number of telephone lines in the provinces and the conversion of the present manual plants to dial operation. Czechoslovakia has telephone development well below the European average with 1.12 instruments for each 100 people. Development of telephone service is estimated to be a profitable venture, Mr. Woods states.

Melbourne . . . Conversion of the central telephone system of this city to dial operation is now under way, with the completion date scheduled for two and one-half years hence. During the past year the telephone development has increased considerably and the Post Master General's Department is encouraged to proceed with its plans along the general lines of dial operation for the central telephone system. Plans are also under way to convert the Brunswick manual office to dial operation and to install a dial exchange at Caulfield. At the present time there are 44,265 subscribers served by dial telephones and 27,639 by manual operation.
