KENT COUNTY HEALTH REPORT

JUNE REPORT SHOWS VALUE OF DISEASE PREVENTION

The following is the health report to Kent County for the month of June:

Child Tuberculosis

In all the realm of preventative medicine, there is no phase that yields greater returns than the control, through prevention, of childhood tuberculosis. Recognition of the childhood type of tuberculosis came relatively late in the struggle to curb the ravages of the major disease, and the term itself has come into general use only within the last few years.

Previously the condition was known as hilum tuberculosis, pretuberculosis or epituberculosis. It is a definite disease entity and necessarily a disease of childhood. "The first infection usually occurs in early life and leaves ts mark at that period," according to Dr. Moses J. Stone, of Boston, who contributes an interesting article on the subject to the current issue of Hygeia, Chicago. He comments that, "If, however, one escapes the infection and receives it in adult life, then the adult may have the childhood type of tuberculosis."

Continuing, he points out that frequently this type of tuberculosis explains such mild symptome as lassitude, fatigue, lack of appetite, failure to gain weight, pain in the chest and slight cough. By the application of the ordinary rules of hygiene, especially avoidance of fatigue and the increase of rest periods, the resistance of the child can be increased to a great extent. However, should another dose of bacilli infect this child at a future date, they will grow and flourish better than the first ones did. It now becomes the duty of the mother to exercise tireless vigilance to prevent reinfection and a lowering of her child's resistance.

Though the first type is of no particular moment as far as immediate impairment of health is concerned, it has grave potentialities. The second type, or the reinfection, may cause serious disease. Members of the medical profession and all health authorities feel now that in order to make any progress in combating the ravages of this disease, the attack must be made during the stage of first infection; one must not wait until reinfection occurs; in short, reinfection must be prevented.

The preceeds from the sale of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals is largely used to combat childhood tuberculosis, through the holding of monthly chest clinics in the county, which are operated under the joint auspices of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association and the State Department of Health.

The Preventorium at Claiborne is another method of preventing childhood tuberculosis, as it is an institution where children, who have been in contact with tuberculosis or are below par physically, are cared for during the summer months and are helped to grow well and strong physically.

It is extremely important that children who are living in the home with a known tubercular be examined periodically and that special advice be given the family on the isolation of the patient from such children. The Public Health Nurses make periodic visits to such homes and provide sputum cups, disinfectant, and continually impress upon the family the danger of infection in such intimate contact in the home. When children are definitely known to be tubercular every effort is made to remove them to one of the State Sanatoria where they can get proper care at the earliest time possible.

Communicable Diseases

There was one case of diphtheria reported in the previous month. Two children in the home were found to be virulent carriers of the disease. Repeated cultures showed the diphtheria germ present. This family was isolated and special treatment advised for the throats in both cases.

In addition thehe were reported 4 whooping cough, one measles, three tuberculosis, three pneumonia and 4 social diseases. One case of suspected undulant fever was reported.

Considerable time was given by the nurses during the month in preparing for the arrival of the healthmobile in Kent County. The healthmobile annually spends about ten days each summer visiting various parts of the county where clinics are held for examination of the entering school children. At the present time parents may have their children immunized against diphtheria and vaccinated against smallpox. The healthmobile staff is in charge of Dr. Elizabeth Sherman, a specialist in diseases of children. A thorough physical examination is made of each child and the parents are advised to have such defects as may be found corrected before the opening of school. The healthmobile is also accompanied by Dr. M. S. Baker, a dentist, who is equipped with a portable dental outfit.

A chest clinic was held June 3rd, by Dr. S. H. Hurdle. Forty-one patients were examined. Three cases were reported. Six children were sent to Easton hospital for ex-ray of the chest.

A pre-natal clinic was held on June 13th by Dr. F. W. Smith and six patients were examined.

The public health nurse, cooperating with the Maryland Children's Aid Society, entered one girl in the Montrose School.

Dr. H. G. Simpers held the weekly Social Disease Clinics. Nine blood tests were taken and 121 treatments were given.

Dr. F. A. Holden held the weekly Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Clinics.

Births and Deaths

Births—white 8, Colored 4.

Deaths—white 8, colored 4.

The slogan of the Kent County Public Health Association is "Public health is purchasable. With natural limitations any community can determine its own death rate."

HELP KIDNEYS

WHEN kidneys function badly and you suffer backache, dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles; feel upset and miserable . . . use Doan's Pills.

Doan's are especially for poorly working kidneys. Millions of boxes are used every year. They are recommended by users the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Stop! Read! Heed!

YOU KNOW---that there are all grades of beer just as there are all grades of other foods. Realizing this, we have directed our efforts toward finding the beers that are up to the old time standard and WE KNOW that we have found them.

GUNTHER---In this we give you the best that Baltimore has produced—Fine Malt, Hops and the flavor that only comes with proper aging.

BUDWEISER---The same old friend today that it was before prohibition.

HORNUNG---It is with great satisfaction that we are now able to bring to you, through your dealer, HORNUNG'S LONDONDERRY Ale & Porter, also HORNUNG'S [White Bock] Beer, the fine Pennsylvania product which was a Prize Winner in Paris in 1912 and in Atlantic City in 1934.

WE COULD give you an inferior product on which we could make more profit, but the brewers we represent will not tolerate "cut quality," and as nothing but perfection has satisfied us, let nothing less satisfy you. When you ask your dealer for "a bottle of beer" say "GUNTHER," "BUDWEISER," or "HORNUNG" and know that you have the best that money can buy.
