"SHANGHAI"

Loretta Young in the gorgeous costu me she wears in one scene of the Walter Wanger production for Paramount, 'Shanghai,' in which she is starred with Charles Boyer. The picture comes on Monday and Tuesday to the New Lyceum.

Fresh from his triumphs in 'Private Worlds' and 'Break of Hearts,' Charles Boyer launches his new bid for starring fame in Paramount's Shanghai,' which comes on Monday and Tuesday, August 19 and 20 to the New Lyceum Theatre.

With the colorful and mysterious capital of the Orient for its background, the picture tells the story of two who dared hatred and prejudice for love and won. Loretta Young is starred with Boyer.

Boyer is the mystery man of Shanghai. Unaided, he has shot from the gutter of the great metropolis to the pinnacle of financial power, Unimpeded by love, he has kept the secret of his origin from even his closest friends.

But when Loretta Young, a young and beautiful American, crosses his path, he knows suddenly that his thirst for power has blinded him to the most precious things in the world. He pays devoted courtship to her, wins her heart, and even as he does prepares the coup which will make him complete master of the Orient.

On the eve of his final successful move, he reveals the fact that he is the son o a Manchurian princess—a despised Chinese.

How Shanghai society reacts to this strange inormation, and how Loretta Young proves her true worth are revealed in the touching, dramatic climax of the picture.

Prominently featured in the sup-J porting cast of 'Changhai' are Warner Oland, Fred Keating, Alison Skipworth and Charlis Grapewin. James Flood directed the film and Walter Wanger, who made 'Private Worlds' and 'The Pres.dent Vanishes,' released Shangai.

Unscrupulous temptresses of film and fiction are usually paid well to call off their charms by the parents of enamoured younHg men. Not so in RKO Radio's 'Old Man Rhythm,' with Charles (Buddy' Rogers, as ag enamoured freshman. This romantic film-musical presents an entirely modern method of outwitting alluring gold diggers.

When John Roberts, successful and resourceful manufacturer, discovers that his son's scholastic standing at college is doing a nose dive because he can't tear himself away from Marian Beecher long enough to attend classes, he doesn't open up his check book to buy off the mercenary miss. He opens up a sly attack on he designing young woman with a few romantic didoes of his own. He closes his desk and enrolls as a freshman to battle her on her own collegiate territory.

The resulting conflict of wits runs to a novel climax over unexplored comedy territory.

Its humor and high-speed story reinforced by six songs by the well-known Broadway composer, Lewis Gensler, 'Old Man Rhythm' marks Rogers' most popular orchestra leaders.

In the cast are Barbara Kent, also making her return to the films; Grace return to the screen, after spending several years as one of the nation's Bradley, George Barbier, Dave Chasen, Betty Grable, and welve youthful entertainers who were selected htrough a nationwide canvass of radio, stage, vaudeville and night club talent.

Erik Rhodes and Eric Blore, remembered for their comedy parts in 'The Gay Divorce' and 'Roberta,' and who will be seen in the new Astaire-Rogers musical 'Top Hat,' have major roles.

Edward Ludwig directed under the supervision of Zion Myers.

'Old Man Rhythm' comes to the New Lyceum on Wednesday and Thursday, August 21 and 22.

Star Jack Holt in a picture about horses and he's in his glory. For he is one of the screen colony's most ardent horse-lovers.

In 'The Unwelcome Stranger,' the Columbia comedy-drama coming on Friday and Saturday, August 23 and 24 to the New Lyceum Theatre, Holt is starred as the owner of a stock farm where fine horses are bred and trained. Although Holt always plays his parts with straight forward sincerity, he endowed his characterization of Howard Chamberlain, millionaire sportsman, with more verve and enthusiasm than usual.

'You've heard that old saying, 'Give a man a horse he can ride'?' asked Holt, smiling. 'Well, that's the way I feel about this part. It's human, down-to-earth and real. I hope audiences like the picture, for I had a great time making it.'

Holt himself owns five horses, all thoroughbreds. Two of them, Skipper and Blue Heaven, he rides while refereeing polo games at the Uplifters' Club. The other three, Pat, Bay and Vamoose, are polo ponies which Holt's son, Charles John, Jr., better known as 'Tim,' rideds when he isn't away at school.

CORN CROP ABOVE AVERAGE

Corn has made marked improvement during the past two months and present indications are for a crop considerably above average. Prospects on August 1 indicated a production of 18,224,000 bushels as compared with 16,995,000 bushels a year ago and the five year (1928-32) average of 15,039,000 bushels. The barley crop which is estimated at 630,000 bushels is slightly larger than that of last year and considerably larger than average. Oats will be a light crop because of the reduced acreage. Yields of both oats and barley are reported above the average. Buckwheat acreage is estimated at 6,000 acres as compared with 5,000 acres a year ago. Condition of the crop is about average.

FOR THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a nome, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V·8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip — to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.
