NOW AND THEN

NOBLESSE OBLIGE

If I am weak and you are strong,
Why then, why then,
To you the braver deeds belong;
And so, again,
If you have gifts and I have none,
If I have shade and you have sun,
'Tis yours with freer hand to give,
'Tis yours with truer grace to live,
Than I, who, giftless, sunless, stand
With barren life and hand.

'Tis wisdom's law, the perfect code,
By love inspired;
Of him on whom much is bestowed
Is much required.
The tuneful throat is bid to sing,
The oak must reign the forest's king;
The rustling stream the wheel must move,
The beaten steel its strength must prove,
'Tis given unto the eagle's eyes
To face the midday skies.
—Carlotta Perry.

Noblesse oblige.

Were this idea carried out how different this old world would be. The rich would feel the great obligations which they owe to the poor; the strong, to the weak; the educated to the ignorant. Like Bayard of old, the knight 'without fear and without reproach.' Perhaps this knight who lived so long ago, has been the hero of many who love the good, the pure and the true. Concious of always trying to do the right, there was no fear in his soul, for consequences.

Some one was late at her work a few days ago, why? Because she was watching the struggle of an ant that was dragging the dead body of a bug to his hole. It was entirely too heavy for the poor little fellow, bu he kept on and on, in his effort to reach his home with his burden. Had the watcher known where his house was she would have helped him, but he kept on in his course evidently growing weaker in his struggle. Then the striking of the Town Clock recalled her and she hurried on wondering if the little fellow would finally reach his hole. 'Consider the ant' we are told. Perhaps we, too, are like this little ant. Carrying burdens which are too heavy for us when we might let go, and the world would not be any poorer for it.

All eyes now are ocused upon Ethiopia. Who are the Ethiopian any way. Well, the king and queen are white with the claims of a long descent, from the Queen of Sheba and King Solomen And many of their subjects are white, too, refined, Christian and well educated.

Why does Italy wish to invade this fair land? Because there are plenty of coal, platinum and other metals, which Italy needs.

She needs, too, more room for her overcrowded people and, like Japan, she thinks she will go take this desired land, thus likely involving many countries in a war. The motto 'Might Makes right,' is what she is using. Will she succeed?

The Japanese have had a shock. Some cartoonist published a cartoon of their emporer.

It have upset the whole diplomatic corp of that country.

How different cartoons are regardedd in this land. Cartoons, dreadful things are made of the president and all prominent people in the Government. If one is sensitive as to cartoons, let him live a very quiet life and keep away from the public eye.

The marrying parsons and the taxi drivers are terribly upset by the order to remove the signs which lead the young lovers to one who can hastily tie the knot.

The parsons seem to be leaving the fight for reinstatement of the sign to the taxidrivers.

Maryland is not proud of her Gretna Green, though it brings in many a dollar into the treasury.

The dollar bill has a most hectic time during its short life, for the Treasury Officials say that it rarely lasts over 6 months. Just think how many places it visits, the butcher, the baker, the candle stick maker and more often still, the garage. The Treasury has a laundry that washes the bills, but the dollar bill is too small in value for that. And it is used fifty times to the tens or twenties' one. When it is last cashed in it hardly has any face, so old and worn it is.

The Pilgrimage of Life

"We have here no continuing city; we seek one to come." The Christian is IN the world, but not OF the world, John 17. 15 and 16. His way thru life is often thorny; there are temptations and misery on every hand. "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall—But God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it." 1 Corinthians 10, 12 and 13.

We invite you to hear the message of God's Word.
