Last week we noted what an improvement it was that Court Street had been opened through to Maple Ave.

This week rumblings are heard that another fence will be put up to block the newly opened street. Some people seem to be against improvements.

The dope is that the objection to the street being open is way below the surface.

Maple Ave. has become a regular 'Gasoline Alley.' Rumor is that still another up-to-date filling station is to be built on the McKee property at the corner of Maple Ave. and Cross St.

The United States Power Squadron cruise last week was the largest cruise ever to leave the Maryland Yacht Club.

Lieut. Bochme was over here several weeks ago and Mr. P. M. Brooks asked him what that funny looking flag was he was flying. Mr. Brooks already a member of the organization was kidding him along. Lieut. Boehme did a lot of explaining what the flag meant until a friend put him wise. Anyhow out this conversation, Chestertown was picked as the destination for the cruise. So, the credit goes to Mr. P. M. Brooks.

High Tide, which has it summer home at Grey's Inn Creek, Kent County, won in the Class A division of 100 mile race, sponsored by the Gibson Island club last week end. The race was from Gibson Island to Cedar Pont and return. The boats started the race on Saturday and they finished on Sunday Mr. Eugene du Pont is owner of the 'High Tide' and Mr. Howard B. Strong sailed with him in the race.

Every now and then some one is planning to start a ship-yard in Chestertown.

There is a report that a man doing very well in the local sailing races is talking of starting one.

Carl N. Bordley is interested in boat building and hopes he can build two or three this winter.
