EYES ON SEN. FRANCE

CECIL COUNTY POLITICIAN HAS COLLEAGUES WONDERING ABOUT PRESIDENCY

Two prominent figures in national Republican affairs and formr associates in the United States Senate, Jonathan Bourne, Oregon, and Dr. Joseph I. France, Maryland, have been in conference during the last week at the latter's estate, Mt. Ararat, near Port Deposit.

It was during a previous visit by ex-Senator Bourne at Mt. Ararat, in the summer of 1931, that plans were made for ex-Senator France's ill fated attempt to snare the Republican nomination for the presidency from the then-President Herbert Hoover.

Dr. France attended the Chicago convention in 1932 as a delegate from Oregon, which leads political observers to view the present caucus between these figurs as being indicative of plans for the 1936 campaign.
