FOOTBALL HERE NEXT SATURDAY

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY WILL PLAY WASHINGTON HERE OCTOBER 5TH

Washington College will make its initial bow into the football season next Saturday, October 5th when American University, of Washington, will be the visitors.

Local fans are eagerly awaiting to see the local team in action following last year's season without a defeat. Not for many years have football enthusiasts from all parts of the Shore shown as much interest in a Washington College football team as they did last year and that interest should bring a large crowd of spectators to the game next Saturday.

The squad, 33 men strong, has been put through intensive training by coaches Kibler and Ekaitis and the prospects are bright for a successful season.

Last year's backfield is intact and while four places in the line were made vacant through graduation, new material for those positions looks good.

The back field composed of Nicholson, Evans, and Huffman weighs in excess of 600 pounds and what Young at quarter lacks in weight he makes up in speed and ability.

MRS. EFFIE S. BUXTON MURDERED HERE

HEAD CRUSHED WITH HATCHETT FRIDAY MORNING

Mrs. Effie S. Buxton, aged about 68 years, was found murdered in the apartment of her son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Buxton on the second floor in the Wickes apartment on Front street, Chestertown, Friday morning. When found, the back part of her head was crushed in and her hand badly cut. A blood stained hatchet was found by her side.

Mrs. Kenneth Burton, daughter in law of the murdered woman came to the apartment of a neighbor and asked that the Sheriff be called but would not state the reason. After her resuest had been complied with Mrs. Buxton told her neighbor that she had killed her mother in law. When the neighbor suggested calling a doctor Mrs. Buxton objected saying that it was no use, her mother in law was dead.

Dr. Simpers and Deputy Sheriff John Bennett arrived at the same time and upon entering the apartment found Mrs. Kenneth Buxton in the front room. She again stated that she had killed her mother in law and was ready to take her punishment.

Mrs. Effie Buxton came to Chestertown from Massachusetts four years ago and lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett until last year when she moved to the apartment of her son and daughter in law.

Mrs. Kenneth Buxton is from Canada and attended McGill University. She has been in poor health for some time.

Dr. Kenneth Buxton is Professor of Chemistry at Washington College.

Other occupants of the apartment house heard moans about 8.30 Friday morning but thinking that a dog had been injured, did not make an investigation.

RAY MURPHY HEADS LEGION

RESOLCTION FAVORS CERTIFICATE PAYMENT

At the National Convention of the American Legion which was held in St. Louis this week, Raymond Murphy, of Icwa was elected National Commander. A

In his acceptance speech, he pledged himself to the resolutions as adopted at the convention which included the immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates. In speaking of this resoultion Commander Murphy stated that the adjusted service certificates were in no way a bonus but was back pay which was due upon the mustering out of service in 1918, and admittedly owed veterans by Congress in 1924.

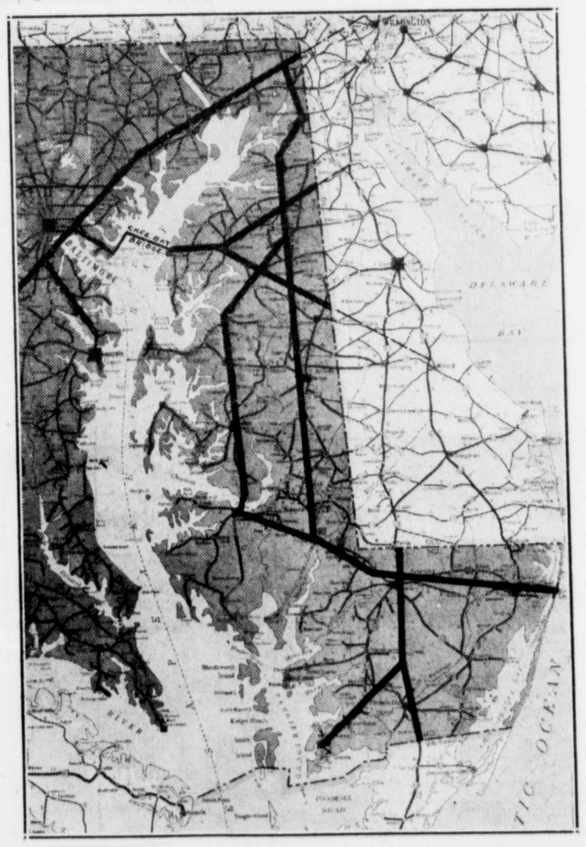

Among other resolutions adopted favored adequate national defense, strict adherence to the nautrality laws, passage of the Universal Draft Act, adequate education of the youth of the country and the downing of any effort to introduce any of the European governmental isms in this country.

In speaking of the Universal Draft Act, Commander Murphy stated that the Act would, in case of war, automatically draft all man power and resources of the nation thereby taking the profit out of war which would automatically prevent the country from going to war unless invaded. With reference to adequate educational facilities Commander Murphy stated that the American Legion is now fostering more than 3000 Boy Scout Troups.

The Legion went on record as demanding government protection of men disabled in the World War and the same treatment of widows and orphans as is awarded those of other wars.

Suggested Eastern Shore Boulevards

Would Tie in Principal Towns in Straight Lines to Baltimore and Northern Markets

Map published by special permission of A. Hoen & Co., copywright owners, to the Chestertown Transcript.

The above may is a Kent County plan for a new Eastern Shore Boulevard to be built over a period of years which when completed would make a highway system built with foresight that has been so sadly lacking in the past in our road construction programs.

Any system of highways on the Eastern Shore that is built without consideration of the proposed Chesapeake Bay bridge will be a serious mistake because if road construction is to continue on its present large scale the bay bridge is inevitable

While the names of the towns on the Shore can not be distinguished on the above map a comparison with a road map of the shore will clearify the close tie in of all towns with the proposed boulevard by using the present existing newly constructed large bridges.

Following the existing method of building boulevards in straight lines and skirting the congested traffic of towns. the plan as indicated on the map, starting at Georgetown, would be a straight line from that town to Vienna, skirting the towns of Sudlersville Ingleside, Denton and Hurlock. A parallell boulvevard for the bay side of the Peninsula would leave the above boulevard at a point north of Sudlersville skirting the towns of Church Hill Centreville, Wye Mills, Easton, Trappe across the new Choptank River bridge to Cambridge. From Cambridge it would go direct to Vienna where it would meet the other boulevard from whence it would do direct to Ocean City skirting Salisbury and Berlin.

At Salisbury it would meet the now considered boulevard from to the Virginia line with a branch to Crisfield.

The V shaped roads in the northern part of the shore would connect both boulevards through Chestertown to the proposed Chesapeake Bay bridge showing the value of the bay bridge to all parts of the shore as a connecting link to Baltimore, Washington and all parts of Western Maryland. It would also tie in practically the entire state of Delaware with Baltimore, Washington and all southern and western points.

CAR INSPECTION STARTS TUESDAY

ALL CARS MUST BE INSPECTED BY OCTOBER 31ST

The annual inspection of automobiles by designated garages will start next Tuesday, October 1st and continue until October 31st. During this period the motorist must have his car inspected, have corrections made and display a sticker on the windshield.

In speaking about the campaign Mr. Rudy, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, said:

'In past years many motorists resented being compelled to visit one of these stations. This attitude should be completely changed. The Maryland Save-A-Life Campaign is one that has oa specific place in safe driving campaigns conducted throughout the United States. If every motorist will stop and consider just what this inspection means, he will cooperate completely with the office from which it originates. Saving lives is something that should be nearest the heart of every motor vehicle operator. To protect the lives of our fellow citizens is pur duty. The fatality figures have continually grown to an appalling number and most of this can be checked directly to faulty conditions of brakes, tires, blinding head lights and many minor mechanical defects of the automobile.'

$3264 FOR KENT PROJECTS

COURT RECORDS AND SCHOOL REPAIR PROJECTS APPROVED

Two W P A projects for Kent County were approved this week by Mr. Francis H. Dryden, Works Progress Administrator for Maryland, and are now awaiting approval in Washington.

These two projects which represent the only projects applied for by the Commissioners of Kent County total a Federal expenditure of $3264 and include $1944 for copying the old records in the Court House and $1320 for repair to school houses throughout the county. The project for copying the Court House records was started under the C. W. A. last year and was not finished. These valuable old records in the Clerk's office are much the worse for wear and the project will preserve them for many years to come.

The school repair project includes the labor work on school buildings as the material was purchased last year and about 60 per cent of the work finished under the C. W. A.

In both of these projects, the money expended will practically all be for labor and conform with the existing Federal ruling.

The Jesuit mission, founded at the head of the Bohemia River in 1704 and where the chapel now stands, was the beginning of Georgetown University in Washington and it was there that Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, signer of the Declaration of Independence for Maryland, was educated when a school was started in 1745, the archives of Loyola College in Baltimore reveal. John Carroll, afterwards Archbishop of Baltimore, founder of Georgetown College and a cousin of the signer, also attended this school. The school remnants of which still remain, was the only one in the Colony of Maryland controlled by the Jesuits or any other Catholic order and it was patronized by the most prominent families in the colony.
