Greta Garbo and Fredric March in "Anna Karenina"

'Anna Karenina,' Greta Garbo's twentieth strring picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Myer, is the most ambitious production of her career. The picture, coming on Monday and Tuesday, October 14 and 15 to the New Lyceum marks her 10th Anniversary with the M-G-M studios.

The new film, based authentically on Leo Tolstoy's immortal classic, presents Miss Garbo in a famous drama against a true background of imperialistic Russia at the height of that nation's glory fifty years ago.

Fredric March, acclaimed for his roles in 'We Live Again,' 'Affairs of Cellini' and 'Les Miserables,' is co-starred with Miss Garbo as the dashing Count Vronsky.

A Selznick Production

The picture is the first David O. Selznick—who brought 'Little Women,' 'David Copperfield' and many other famous stories to the screen—has produced with Miss Garbo and promises to equal if not surpass all his other notable productions in authenticity, grandeur and massive production.

It brings together Miss Garbo and Director Clarence Brown for the sixth time and renews one of the most successful star-director teams in the industry.

The cast includes no less than forty featured players as Miss Garbo's supporting artists. At the top of the galaxy stand such noted players as Freddie Bartholomew (of 'David Copperfield' fame), Maureen O'Sullivan, May Robson, Basil Rathbone, Reginald Owen, Reginald Denny, Phoebe Foster, Joan Marsh, Cora Sue Collins and others.

Ballet and Mazurka

With in the picture is a colorful Russian ballet, directed by the famous Viennese choreographer Margarete Wallman. The mazurka, which takes place in the grand Moscow ballroom, was directed by Chester Hale.

For the first time in her screen career, Garbo dances, appearing in the mazurka scenes for which she rehearsed three weeks.

The story was adapted from Tolstoy's novel by Clemence Dane, S. N. Behrman and Salka Viertel.

Bill Robinson, famous negro tap dancer, won a new hat as a result of a bet with Jack Oakie during the filming of the Paramount comedy, 'The Big Broadcast of 1936,' coming to the New Lyceum on Wednesday and Thursday, October 16 and 17.

The comedian bet Robinson he couldn't dance for one hour straight without repeating a routine. Robinson, who gets several thousand dollars for a single performance, danced for one hour with Oakie as his one man audience. After he won the hat, Oakie discovered that Robinson had danced an hour and 15 minutes with Harriet Hoctor without repeating a step at a Dancing Masters' Convention in New York.

Oakie is featured in 'The Big Broadcast' along with Burns and Allen, Lyda Roberti, Wendy Barrie, Henry Wadsworth and the Nicholas Brothers. Robinson does a specialty number in the film as do many other stage, screen and radio stars, including Bing Crosby Amos 'n' Andy, Ethel Me rman, Ray Noble and his band, Willie, West and McGinty, Mary Boland and Charles Ruggles. The story is a mrith-making concoction of the adventures of two radio entertainers as guest prisoners in a rich Countess' home on a Cuban island. An international radio broadcasting contest is one of the many hilarious high spots in the comedy.

On the screen of the New Lyceum Friday and Saturday, October 18 and 19 is the Columbie film, 'The Public Menace,' an exciting divertisement concerned with the thrilling experiences of a young couple trying to extricate themselves from a misadventure with No. 1 public enemy. Jean Arthur shares the top roles with George Murphy and Douglas Dumbrille, playing the same type of character as her now famous portrayal in 'The Whole Town's Talking.'

The film has been widely praised as a fast-paced comedy-drama adroitly combining lughs with thrills and rough neck romance. Erle Kenton directed 'The Public Menace' from a story specially written for Miss Arthur by Ethel Hill and Lionel Houser.

TREATMENT FOR STOMACH WORMS IN SHEEP

1. First keep the sheep off feed and water for 18 hours before drenching.

2. Go to your druggist and buy ounce of pure copper sulphate (blue stone.) This is enough material to make 3 quarts of sheep drenching solution which is sufficient for 20 to 25 sheep. Where tapeworms and other parasites besides stomach worms are known to be present, the above solution can be improved by using 1 fluid ounce of nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) mixed into the copper sulphate solution.

3. To make the solution, simply dissolve the copper sulphate in 1 part of hot water and add 2 quarts of cold water, making a total of 3 quarts of solution.

4. Where the nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) is used, simply add the 1 ounce of nicotine sulphate to the 3 quarts of prepared copper sulphate solution.

5. In handling this solution use a glass, earthenware, or other non-metallic container since, it will corrode metallic vessels.

6. The solution is now ready to use and should be given in the following doses: Mature sheep, 3 to 4 ounces, depending upon size and vigor. Yearlings and Old Weak Sheep, 2 1-2 to 3 1-2 ounces, depending upon size and vigor. Lambs, 1 to 2 ounces, depending on age, size and vigor.

7. An ordinary baby bottle is good for drenching, because it will not break easily, is graduated in ounces and has a slim neck.

A rubber necked bulb syringe is another convenient drenching instrument.

8. Allow the animal to stand while treating, and do not hold the head too high nor try to drench too fast.

9. After the treatment has been given keep sheep off feed and water for about 5 hours.

10. Treating once every three weeks during the summer pasture season is advised; in severe cases the second treatment should be given one week after the first; thereafter treatments every three weeks should be effective.

FARM BUREAU SUPPORTS AAA

The American Farm Bureau Federation will aid in the defense of the Agricultural Adjustment Act when the question of its constitutionality comes before the Supreme Court of the United States this fall. At the September meeting of the Board of Directors the following resolution was passed:—

'We authorize the general counsel to take such steps as are necessary to prepare and to file a brief, as a friend of the Supreme Court, in defense of the Agriculturl Adjustment Act and the president be authorized to provide any additional legal counsel as may be necessary for the preparation of such brief.'

In commenting on this action, C. R. Wise, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau, stated that the Agricultural Adjustment Act and been a direct benefit to 10,000 Maryland farmers and an indirect benefit to all farmers. Our farmers will be pleased to learn of this aggressive action in the support of the Adjustment Act which many hail as the most successful instrument yet devised for giving farmers economic parity.

Rid Yourself of Kidney Poisons

DO you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, swollen feet and ankles? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unstrung and don't know what is wrong?

Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly, for functional kidney disorder permits excess waste to stay in the blood, and to poison and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They are recommended the world over. You can get the genuine, time-tested Doan's at any drug store.

CAR INSPECTION ENDS OCT. 31

CARS MUST BE INSPECTED TO GET TAGS

Maryland's annual Save-A-Life Inspection Campaign is now well into its second week. It is indeed gratifying to note the motoring public's response to this request to have their cars inspected at their earliest possible moment.

Mr. Walter R. Rudy, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, State of Maryland said, 'This is my first Save-A-Life Inspection Campaign. It is my earnest desire to have the wholehearted support of every citizen throughout the State of Maryland to make every effort not alone to have his automobile inspected but to use unusual precaution to avoid being injured while walking through the city streets or along country roads.'

To show the vital importance of the Save-A-Life Inspection Campaign, at the close of the campaign in 1934 the State of Maryland showed a total car inspection of better than 98 per cent. It was necessary to make steering adjustments on cars to the total number of 9,823; brake adjustments totaled 65,486; light adjustments totaled 101 504; horn adjustments totaled 99,824; mirror adjustments 3,275; and windshield wiper adjustments 11,461. The total number of cars that were ruled off the road was 447. These cars were absolutely unfit to be on the highways.

The campaign has approximately two weeks to go and I want to impress upon the public the importance of having this inspection made before the closing date of October 31. It is necessary to have the inspection station number on your 1936 application blank for tags. Tags will not be issued unless this is done.

Alka-Seltzer makes a sparkling alkaline drink. As it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments, then by restoring the alkaline balance, corrects the cause when due to excess acid.
