Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper in "O'Shaughnessy's Boy"

Wallace Beery plays a father who goes through fire and brimstone to win the affection of his son, Jackie Cooper, in 'O'Shaughnessy's Boy,' Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's great story of circus life coming to the New Lyceum on Monday and Tuecday, Oct. 28, 29.

At last, a circus picture that is all circus.

It is 'O'Shaughnessy's Boy,' which comes to the New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, October 28 and 29.

For the first time, the spirit of the circus with all its thrills, excitement and color has been brought to the screen. It is superb entertainment for every age.

Comedy, pathos, spectacle and a dramatically powerful story are deftly blended into a picture that wins new honors for its co-stars—Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper.

Surpasses 'The Champ'

The picture is a fitting successor to 'The Champ' and 'Treasure Island,' which so firmly established Berry and Cooper as one of the screen's greatest partnerships. Not only is it a fitting successor, but it surpasses both in the eloquence of its human heart interest story and the brilliance of its circus setting.

Richard Boleslawski, who scored so heavily with 'Clive of India' and more recently with 'LesMiserables,' directed the picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

His subtle touch and power of direction are evidenced throughout the picture, which gives Beery every opportunity to reach new dramatic heights as 'Windy,' a swaggering, easy-going animal trainer. Jackie, too, has one of his finest roles as 'Stubby,' Beery's son in the picture, and both give performances that will long stand as standards of excellence.

The animal scenes are the most spectacular ever seen on the screen, particularly those of Beery wrestling with a huge Bengal tiger. It is a thriller, as are the sequences showing Beery breaking in a dangerous tiger-elephant act, which has never before been accomplished, on or off the screen.

Colorful Background

In no picture has the circus been filmed so completely. Circus men have put their stamp of approval on the circus as it is depicted under the Big Top and behind the scenes. It is complete from elephants to peanuts.

While the picture is Beery and Cooper from start to finish, a splendid cast supports the costars. A new face is presented in Leona Maricle, who was brought from the Broadway stage to make her debut as Beery's wife, Cora. She turns in an excellent performance. So do Spanky McFarland, who plays 'Stubby,' as a child; Sarah Haden, as Martha, Cora's spiteful sister; Henry Stephenson, as Valkenburg; Willard Robertson, as the circus boss; Clarence Muse, as the colored circus roustabout, and Ben Hendricks, as the ringmaster.

To win prominence as an outdoor star, an actor must possess an un-usual physique, steel nerves and a complete disregard of his own neck, quite in addition to his acting ability and screen personality—George O'Brien for example.

O'Brien must be the favorite of Lady Luck. Although in the course of filming his numerous pictures he has done one 'stunt' after the other, he generally has escaped with out a scratch.

His latest picture, 'Hard Rock Harrigan,' coming to the New Lyceum on Frday and Saturday, November 1 and 2 as part of a double feature show. The film is a Fox Film release produced by Sol Lesser and has Irene Hervey in the leading feminine role opposite George O'Brien.

Ken Maynard, rough-riding star of countless outdoor dramas, latest of which is 'Heir to Trouble,' coming to the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, November 1 and 2 as part of a double feature show, won many state and national championships for riding and roping during hs early days with the rodeos and wild west shows. His fame as a trick rider made him a headliner for years with the old-time Buffalo Bill and Ringland Brothers shows. His success in this field led to a screen offer and his eventual career in Hollywood. To date he has appeared in over 100 pictures, starring in most of them.

DR. MILES NERVINE LIQUID

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.
