SEPTEMBER HEALTH REPORT ..

tigation there was no evidence to support this. In all probability the patient had contracted the disease in Baltimore.

Eighteen social cases were report from Chestertown. Both of these cases lived in the western section of the town. Malaria is a relatively rare disease in this section. One other case was reported earlier in the year from the same vicinity.

Eighteen cases of social were reported as well as one case of tuberculosis, two mumps, and one pneumonia. Social diseases constitute one of the chief problems in controlling contagious diseases.

Four Social Disease Clinics were held by Dr. H. G. Simpers. Eighty-three treatments were given and twenty-six Wassermanns taken, thirteen were positive and thirteen negative Seven new cases were reported through the clinic.

A Pre-natal Clinic was held by Dr. F. W. Smith. Seven cases were examined.

A Mental Clinic was held by Doctors Woolley and Anderson of the Shepard Pratt Hospital. Twenty-five patients were examined.

Four Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Clinics were held by Dr. F. A. Holden.

Eight people completed the typhoid innoculations.

Seven patients were sent to the various hospitals.

Bacteriological and chemical analyses of milk, when samples are submitted by physicians and health officers.

Three typhoid fever cases were reported during September, all of which were investigated to determine the source. The first case reported was a contact with a case which developed earlier in the summer. In the second case the exact source was not determined but there was strong evidence that there was contact indirectly with the other cases. Both of these cases were quarantined, prophylactic measures advised to prevent spread to other members of the families and all those in intimate association with the case on the premises were given typhoid vaccine.

A third typhoid case was reported in an employee at the cannery in Kennedyville who came from Baltimore This case was supposed to have contracted the disease after being employed in the county, although after inves
