CHURCH NOTES

RADIANT LIVING
From Starlight to Sunlight
By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E.Church
Sudlersville

It was when we were living ten miles back from a railroad and a long journey lay ahead of me on the morrow. To get to the station necessitated an early rising, a two mile walk of that early morning I was greeted over a mountain road to catch the old horse-drawn stage that left early to meet the daily train.

As I stepped out into the darkness by a dazzling array of brilliant stars. In the light of those stars I began my journey. But when I reached the crest where the road led over the ridge, I saw before me in the distance the first pale gray of dawn.

I stopped for a moment and looked back to the now paling stars and then forward toward the coming light.

'A new day!' I shouted in my thoughts. 'A new day! What will it bring to countless multitudes on this planet? What will this new day mean to the world?'

And then as I hastened on down into the valley, the dawn gradually brightened. It was now no longer dark. I could see the distant hills. And then later in the rattly old stage, as we bumped down the grade, the sun came up flooding the mountain roadway with mellow radiance.

And so it is with the soul. In the surrounding darkness of pagan infidelity there shines forth from the Scripture's page the stars of Promises. In the light of those Divine Scriptural Promises the soul begins to walk Godward until gradually an increasing light begins to dawn upon that soul and then soon the 'Daystar,' Jesus Christ, the morning star of a new day, arises in splendor over one's horizon, filling his soul with joyous radiance.

However small may be the ray of light that you might perceive in the Holy Scriptures, it is bright enough to light your way to God. Walking in the rays of that star of Promise will bring you to the light of a new day—a new day that will mean heaven to you!

Starlight leads to sunlight! Walk on!

ACCIDENTS RATE HIGH IN CAUSES OF DEATH

HOME ACCIDENT FATALITIES EQUAL THOSE ON ROAD

'Few people realze that as many lives are lost, each year, in accidents in homes as in automobile accident; and that there are twice as many deaths from injuries received in home accidents as in those received in industry,' Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health said recently, in urging better precautions in the counless 'little' things that make for safety and greater attenton to the necessary safeguards in the home.

'Our records show that deaths from accidents now occupy sixth place as causes of death in Maryland; and that one out of every fifteen deaths that occur in the State is due to injuries received in an accident of some sort. There were 1,421 deaths from accidents recorded in the State, last year. Injuries received in automobile and other motor vehicde accidents were responsible for 500 of these deaths and a larger number were due to injuries received in home accidents. Falls which take the heaviest toll in home accidents were responsible for 355 deaths. Burns, which have second place in home hazards caused 96 deaths. The real significance of such totas is more apparent when we realize that it is estimated that four times as many as the number who die are permanently disabled each year from some happening in the home that might have been avoided if better care had been exercised.

'Just how careless and thoughtless many of us are inclined to be is shown very graphically in a pamphlet recently issued by the National Safety Council under the title of 'Safe at Home.' Illustrations which tell the story and suggest the consequences include a rocking chair used as a step ladder; upturned, slippery rugs; toys; a dust pan and bucket; brushes and brooms left on stairways; a kitchen fire being started with kerosene; smoke curling up from a carelessly discarded cigarettes, dangerous drugs left within reach of children; and a host of other thoughtlessly neglected 'trifles.'

'The germ diseases against which we have learned to safeguard ourselves are due to what seem to be infinitesimal causes. If we could be immunized against carelessness, thoughtlessness, and the 'didn't know it was loaded' habit of mind as effectively as we can be protected against smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid fever, the deaths and disabilities from accidents of all sorts could be cut down in similar fashion. A sign designed by one of the business corporations, bearing the single word T-H-I-N-K in large letters is to be found in many up-to-date offices. Home hazards and hazards of all sorts could be greatly reduced by habitual thoughtfulness.'

NOW AND THEN

THE PACKAGE OF SEALS

I paid a dime for a package of seeds
And the clerk tossed them out with a flip.
'We've got them assorted for every man's needs'
He said with a smile on his lip,
Pansies and poppies and asters and peas,
Ten cents a package and pick as you please.

New seeds are just dimes to the man in the store,
And the dimes are the things that he needs:
And I had to buy them in seasons before,
But have thought of them merely as seeds;
But it flashed through my mind as I bought them this time,
You have purchased a miracle for a dime.

You've a dime worth of power which no man can create,
You've a dime worth of life in your hand!
You've a dime worth of mystery, destiny, fate,
Which the wisest cannot understand.
In ths bright little package, now isn't it odd?
You've a dime's worth of something known only to God.

Edgar Guest

Have you ever thought as you walk through your garden that one who plants one is a creator?

Have you ever though how much more beautiful the gardener has made the world, just by planting little seed?

God bless the Gardener: One can imagine the great Creator walking through the garden as he did in the garden of Eden thousand of years ago.

James M. Beck is a Congressman from Penna. He is a highly cultured interesting speaker.

When he begins to speak the House generally fills up, for when he has anything to say it is generally worthwhile. He says:

Because we can, by rotary press, distribute the thoughts of men each day to millions, does not necessarily mean that the thoughts are more valuable than those of past ages, laboriously inscribed upon papyrus or parchment. Mechanical invention can give us a so-called movie and talkie, but it has not yet contributed a thinkie.

When one goes shopping in Boston, he generally visits the store of Mr. Filene, the merchant prince of Boston.

The story goes that Mr. Edward Filene, got quite a shock the other day. It seems he likes to walk through the toy department of his store, and not infrequently he gives a toy to some little child that takes his fancy. One afternoon he presented a handsome doll to a little girl with whom he had struck up a conversation, and waited, beaming, to see what she would say. The child's mother waited, too. 'What are you going to say to the gentleman?' she urged. The dear looked at Mr. Filene firmly. 'Charge it,' she said.

When one walks over the golf links he is struck with the small number of golf balls that remain in the golfers possession after the game, surely.

If golf-balls should sprout, the reforestation problem would be solved.

POEM

ONE ship sails east and another west
By the selfsame winds that blow:
'Tis the set of the sails,
And not the gales,
That tells them to way to go.

Like the winds of the sea
Are the ways of Time,
As we voyage along thro- life
'Tis the set of the soul
That determines the goal,
And not the calm or the strife.

"Nerves" "NERVES" "Nerves"

Dr. Miles NERVINE "Did the work" says Miss Glivar WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nervine which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

At Drug Stores 25c and $1.00.
