The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

This week has been similar to the calm after the storm. The let-down is not always a pleasant feeling, but it, at least encourages the chance to catch up on neglected chores, as well as an opportunity to get some of those 8 hour slumbers per night that the health experts say we should have. I, for one, have taken advantage of both possibilities.

Announcements have been received of the recently feted bride-to-be's wedding on Tuesday, November 12th. Miss Ann Brice Welch was married to Mr. Stanley Giraitis at 6 o'clock, at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, Pensocola, Florida, by the Rev. G. Hendree Harrison, so with hearty congratulations we say amen to that romance for awhile. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nicholson gave the final supper party last Sunday evening, which was delightful enough to tempt anyone to stay in this county in hopes of being asked again, rather than to leave for Florida.

Armistice Day, Monday, was marked by the annual banquet held at the home of Col. Price Ewing that evening. Mr. Roger Bronson, of Chicago, was among the out of town guests. A house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan A. Harris, Mr. Bronson is a brother in law of Mrs. Allan B. Harris, now residing in Los Angeles.

Miss Ellen Fisher entertained at a farewell luncheon on Monday at the Bell Haven, and with Dr. and Mrs. Groome Fisher, who have been visiting here, left Thursday for Palo Alto, California.

Miss Nelie Walker who left for the West on Monday, entertained at a farewell bridge party Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Alan A. Harris.

Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard attended the tea given on Saturday in honor of Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., in Washington, while both Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard were guests Monday night at the banquet in that city given for Madame Minister to Denmark, the Honorable Ruth Bryan Owen.

Miss Mary Jo Wheatley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wheatley, was hostess at a motion picture party for a group of college friends Tuesday evening.

Among those who were guests in town for last week end were: Miss Rose Duyer who visited her father and sister; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Payne and children of University Park, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Satterfied, and the Misses Helen Williams and Wanda Branigan, of Randallstown, who were guests of Miss Kathryn Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Barroll will entertain at a house party over this week end, at their home, Byford Court. The guests will include a number of Philadelphians, Mr. and Mrs. Hope H. Barroll, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Reipe, of Baltimore.

Other week end guests include Mr. and Mrs. Page Young, of Philadelphia who will visit Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Russell at their home on Front St.

Mrs. Tiuman Ingersoll, of Minnesota, is the guest of Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll and will remain with her sister throughout the winter. Incidentally, the two Mrs. Ingersolls, who are sisters, married two brothers.

On Saturday last, Mrs. Agnes Johnson and Mr. James T. Nicklin were quietly married and after a brief honeymoon, returned to their home Walnut Point in Quaker Neck.

There is another wedding due in short order, the engagement having already been announced, so Cupid is kept busy every month, as well as yours truly trying to keep up with them.

Yours hustling,
THE WANDERER.

LONESOME SINGER AT LYCEUM NEXT WEDNESDAY

PERSONAL APPEARANCE A FEATURE ....

Johnny Marvin, the lonesome singer of the air, who will appear at the New Lyceum Theatre here next Wednesday, November 20, was born in a covered wagon, a rare distinction. He lived as a little boy in a small Oklahoma town, 100 miles from a railroad and saw his first train when he was 12 years old. At 14 he became a circus roustabout.

He has never studied music in his life and yet, today, is one of radio's outstanding performers. Prior to becoming a radio headliner he was the leading phonograph recording artist in America, more than 18,000,000 of his records having been sold to the public.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE AT FORDS

OUTSTANDING COMEDY HIT NEXT WEEK

'Personal Appearance,' the hilarious comedy hit that has rocked New York with laughter for more than a year and is still breaking records at the Henry Miller theatre, will be presented at Ford's Theatre, Baltimore, for an engagement of nine days, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturdays, beginning Friday night, November 15th.

The company that Producer Brock Pemberton will send to Baltimore is a special one, organized for engagements in Philadelphia and Boston because it is expected that the New York company cannot be sent on the road until next spring. The cast is headed by Barbara Brown, a young blondeactress whose career in Hallywood and Pacific coast stock companies closely parellels that of Gladys George, New York's creator of the role of Carole Arden, the glamorous move queen about whom the action pivots.

'Personal Appearance' is an amusing and pungent transcript from the life of a platinum film star who, while making a series of personal appearances in the movie houses of Scanton, Wilkes-Barre, and other cities of the anthracite coal region, seeks to add a young gasoline station attendant to her list of male conquests. That the lad is engaged to marry a girl of the neighborhood means nothing to the actress, who is so much interested in pursuing him that she secures his promise to accompany her to Hollywood forth with.

Carole is accompanied on her tour by a press agent, Gene Tuttle. One of his duties is to keep her out of trouble and he looks with cold eye upon her sudden attachment for the small town youth. Tuttle connives with the neglected sweetheart and together they thwart Carole's plan. There is an uproarious climax just before the final curtain when she discovers that she has been double-crossed by Tuttle.

Others in the cast besides Miss Brown are Walter Greaza, Peggy Converse, Darthy Hinkley, George Calvert and Betty Amiard.

WILLIAM S. COLLINS

Mr. Marion deK. Smith's Shore boulevard plan, a plot of which was printed in the Transcript about a month ago is creating a lot of comment on the Shore. The plan which was in the form of a cut has been printed in Worcester county papers and the plan advocated by the Worcester Democrat. This week it is to appear in a paper in Somerset County and Caroline county. The Cecil Whig has also advocated the plan.

So, Mr. Smith seems to have hit upon a road plan that is favorable with most of the counties on the shore.

Mr. H. B. Messenger, of Federalsburg, republican candidate for Congress in last election is working hard to have the plan of Mr. Smith's adopted.

Col. Ewing wishes to announce that some member of the American Legion attending the banquet at his home last Monday night left a nice Stetson hat.

Chestertown from the air looks almost like a magic city. Stam's Hall and the M. E. Church are particularly outstanding. The park looks fine and even Santigo looks like a neat well kept section. Radcliffe creek winds its way over a very crooked course to Brook's Mill.

One Loose Crouch of Queenstown formerly of Chestertown flies the plane for the bird's eye view of Chestertown and it is all for one dollar.

The boy evangelist has my best wishes for success at the colored church. He has a wealth of material to work on and the results will be appreciated.

The W. P. A. project strike at Cumberland is about one of the most ridiculous things ever heard. The one time I would like to be president.

Only those on the relief are elegible for W. P. A. jobs. Given the jobs they strike for a raise in pay. The authorities have ordered the relief to put them back in the relief.

When the relief was first started it was stated by many that it would make shameless beggars of the people.

This is the first thing that has made me mad since the Temperance clipsheet and the Maryland Leader a socialist paper used to come in the mail every week.

No Justice

"There's lots of favoritism in our house."

"Why, Tommy, what do you mean?"

"Well, I get punished if I bite my fingernails, and when baby puts his whole foot in his mouth they think it's cute."

Private Affair

Pat—I've got a letter here, but I've forgotten my spectacles, will you read it for me?

Mike—Sure, but suppose it's private?

Pat—Then you can put your fingers in your ears.—Ireland's Own.

So Sisterly

Soprano—Did you notice how my voice filled the hall last night?

Contralto—Yes, dear, in fact I noticed several people leaving to make room for it.

"So you went to the wedding. Was the groom cool?"

"As cool as any man could be in a dress suit with the mercury registering 100 in the shade.

Too Literal

The story of the promised land in Exodus had been read to the Sunday school class.

"Now, Johnny," said the teacher, "what do you think a land flowing with milk and honey would be like?"

"I'd think it would be sticky," was Johnny's practical answer.

BRIGHT IDEA

'I suggested a new wrinkle to the chef this morning.'

'What was it?'

'We've had prunes for weeks. I told him to have apricots.'

WON BY A NOSE

'I'll have a good chance to land a job if I can only get my nose made a bit more Grecian.'

'A job in the movies?'

WASHINGTON PLAYERS TO PRESENT EAST LYNNE

TO BE STAGED IN GAY NINTIES STYLE

'Back to the Gay Nineties, the days of bicycles, derbies, and mutton sleeves' is the watchword of the Washington Players of Washington College as they prepare for their performance of EAST LYNNE, a famous melodrama of the last century, which will be given in the college auditorium at William Smith Hall on the evening of December 6th. This fine old nineteenth century melodrama is to be produced in the authentic style of the 1890's and no effort is being spared to produce the effect which would have been produced by a traveling company's performances during that decade.

The settings, in charge of William McCullough '37 of Chestertown, are to be accurate imitations of those used in the original performances of the play. Willa Newnam '36 and Rumsey Anthony '39, both of Chestertown, will assist in this work. Betty Thibodeau '36, of Chestertown, is in charge of the group which will make replicas of the costumes of the period.

The cast, under the direction of Professor Winton Tolles of the English Department, president of the Maryland Conference of Dramatic Organizations, is exceptionally strong. Doris Unruh '38 of Baltimore, will play the leading role of Lady Isabel, while Robert Fink '36, of Middletown, Md., as the villainous Sir Francis Levison, William Hall '37 of Williamsport, Md., as the long suffering hero, and Ernest Holand '36 of Berlin, Md. have the chief supporting roles. Other performers, all veterans of the Washington College stage, include Alice Marian Sterling '38 of Chestertown, Hazel Lynch '38 of Ridgely, Md. Lelia Anthony '37, of Millington, Md. Marian Brown '37 of Centerville, Md. William Van Newkirk '38 of Baltimore, and Earle Wagner '38 of Bel Air.

In addition to an authentic performance of EAST LYNNE the atmosphere of the Gay Nineties is to be further created by a series of between the act entertainments under the direction of Robert Fink and Dorothy Clarke '36 of Baltimore. These bits of entertainment, the beginnings of vaudeville, will include sentimental songs, rollicking ballads, and dances of the period. As the afterpiece which served as such an important part of the dramatic fare of the last century, the Washington Players are offering the time-tried farce BOX AND COX. Peanuts and cider are to be sold during the performance and every effort is being made to transform the auditorium into an authentic theater of the last decade of the nineteenth century.

• A YOUNG PIONEER

When several hundred families were sent to Alaska from the Middle West to settle the Matanuska Valley, the Red Cross sent a nurse, Madeleine de Foras, to remain with them for a year to help protect their health. Among the first friends she made were the little pioneer, Arthur Hack, 4 years old, and "Prince," the pup who went with his young master to Alaska.
