The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

I feel today as if the following account is most apropos of your writer when I was wondering a short while ago of a new heading for this column. A Western publisher gave notice that he intended to spend some money for the purpose of getting up 'a new head' for his paper. The next day one of his subscribers dropped him the following note:—'Don't do it—better keep the money and buy a new head for the editor.' Well, I'd like to have a new head today, full of brand new ideas, and a wealth of interesting choice bits for you, but 'there just ain't none.' So bear with me during these days of nactivity and pre-holiday lull, or else agree with the journalist who said that as a result of long experience and observation, one deserves more credit for what he keeps out of the paper than for what he puts in. Be it as it may, I have little to put in this week.

Mrs. S. Scott Beck and Mrs. William B. Usilton have been guests for a few days this week of Mr. and Mrs. John Clendaniel at their home in Towson, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hines were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weaver in Baltmore, the early part of the week.

Mr. Irving Brown is recuperating from an operation at the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital where he had hs tonsils removed, on Wednesday, returning to his home on Thursday.

We are also glad that little Mary Ann Russell, who has been ill with typhoid fever, has practically recovered and is able to be up in her room.

Mrs. T. Hynson Beck will move shortly from the Custom House Apartments to the Baldwin Apartments on Front street.

Guests from Philadelphia coming for the week end will include Miss Elizabeth Brown who will visit her mother, Mrs. H. Clay Brown; Mr. and Mrs. H. Gilpin Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Decker who will visit Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck.

Mrs. Joseph Archbell left yesterday for a two weeks trip, and while away will visit friends in Boston, Mass., Staten Island, N. Y., and Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Mr. Stephen R. Collins left yesterday also, and will be the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson R. Collins at their home in Montclair, New Jersey.

Mrs. Etta Fountain and Mrs. Herbert Skipper left yesterday, likewise, for a week end visit in Baltimore as a guest of an old friend of the latter.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stam left Monday for a visit to Mr. Stam's mother, Mrs. Annie H. Stam in Washington. Mrs. Stam returned to her home here, Thursday, but Mr. Stam will remain throughout the week.

Mrs. Rachel Wacker, of Baltimore, will arrived today at spend Thanksgiving week with her niece, Mrs. Harvey Blyman.

So now with best Thanksgiving wishes and warnings not to eat too much turkey so that you won't have to miss the Thanksgiving Dance at the Club on Saturday night. It is the first Hop of the Winter season and a good crowd is expected.

Yours thankfully,

THE WANDERER.

WASHINGTON ENDS FOOTBALL SEASON

Washington College lost to West Chester Teachers here last Saturday after leadng 3 to 0 until the fourth quarter.

In the first half Washington outplayed a superior team but were only able to get a three point lead with a field goal.

Lack of reserve strength in the fourth quarter to relieve those who had battled so hard during the first three quarters led to defeat and the visitors romped through for three touchdowns.

Next year's football schedule has been announced as follows:

Oct. 3—American U.	Away
Oct. 10—Upsala	Home
Oct. 17—Johns Hopkins	Away
Oct. 24—Susquehanna	Home
Oct. 31—West Chester	Away
Nov. 7—Mt. St. Mary's	Away
Nov. 14— Open
Nov. 21—Delaware	Home

INFORMATION

A steward stood at the gangway of a big liner, and as he stood there he kept shouting for the benefit of the arriving passengers:

"First class to the right! Second class to the left!"

A young woman stepped daintily aboard with a baby in her arms. As she hesitated before the steward he bent over her and said, in his chivalrous way:

"First or second?"

"Oh!" said the girl, her face as red as a rose. "Oh, dear, neither—I'm only the nurse."—Pearson's Weekly.

Be Patient

He—I've never been so insulted before. He called me a barefaced liar.

She—You shouldn't be so sensitive about your mustache, dear. No doubt it will be more noticeable in a few years.—Vancouver Province.

No Place Like Home

Zowie—Why does that blamed old hen always want to roost on a mail box?

Zoom—She was hatched from an egg that came by parcel post.—The Pathfinder.

YOU'RE ANSWERED

"Darling, you were awfully late last night. I'm afraid I'm dreadfully old-fashioned, but I should like to know where you go."

"Certainly, mother, I dined with—oh, well, you don't know him, and we went to several places I don't suppose you've been to, and finished up at a queer place with a French name—I forget the name, but it's on the Philadelphia pike somewhere. It's all right, isn't it, mother?"

"Of course, darling. It's only that I just like to know."—Santa Fe Magazine.

We've Suspected It

The Customer—You ought to put in more chairs so a man won't have to wait so long.

The Barber—I got it just right now. As it is when a guy comes in here for a hair cut he'll need a shave by the time his turn comes.

Last week end the human beings of Kent County behaved better than any other week end of Sheriff Bennett's term of office. According to the guardians of the peace, tne cause of almost all arrests can be traced to the consumpton of whiskies, wines beers, brandies, gins, cordials or some other alcoholic beverage. It is mostly the colored race that cannot handle their liquor and so face the judge on Monday night.

Could it have been that the Boy Evangelist accomplished wonders?

Could it have been the warning of our circuit judges? My guess is that the weather was too bad for the old flivvers to venture out and so the trouble makers had no chance to get into trouble.

Maybe you have noticed that the quality of the Transcript news-sheet is not so hot. The present shipment of paper is plenty bad, as it is hard to print on and cracks and tears.

How do you like the saleman's explanation? What a line. No wonder he is a good salesman.

The mill, the wholesale house buys from is located in Maine and depends on water-power. They had a drouth in Maine so the mill's output was much smaller than usual. This forced our salesman's company to buy some from another mill.

We really are trying to swallow it.

This week in the High School news the account of the soccer game between Chestertown High School and Chesapeake City is rather scant. This was an important game as it was an elimination game between Cecil County and Kent County as to which should continue in the State race for the championship.

The editor had a good explanation. We got beat so we do not want a lot of publicity on it.

I hope a minister friend of mine reads this.

Two or three weeks ago I was in one of Kent's rural towns. A minister there approached me on the subject of printing an article in the paper to appear in the form of an advertisement. These advertisements would be simple statements of facts that, it was hoped, would tend to start people thinking conditions were better during prohibition.

The proportion was certainly fair enough but there evidently was a fly in the ointment of the first argument he intended to give. This argument was to the fact that BLANK Life Insurance company had raised its rates since repeal. Privately I had to edmit he had a good argument.

A life insurance agent from Baltimore, visited me this week, (he had no luck) and I brought the subject up. He informed me that a few of the life insurance companies had paid three and one half per cent. but investments naturally had shrunk on account of the depression and this increase in rate was caused by the decrease of one half a per cent. in dividends. So the increased rate was caused by the depression, not in any way by repeal.

Next week in the Transcript, starting a series to run twenty-three weeks, will appear a column on the subject of marriage. These articles are what these writers think of the future.
