The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

Sometimes I feel like a potato when writing to you for I never know when I will get into hot water. It's not my idea during these cold days of a way to keep from freezing by getting into hot water with my neighbors and so I try to stay on the safe side of the fence although it has been said that men are frequently like tea—the strength and goodness is not drawn from them till they have been a short time in hot water.

As I looked around the room at the dance at the Country Club last Saturday evening I saw so many new and interesting faces as well as some more familiar ones who I did not know would be with us when I last wrote you. Right here I am asking and beseeching you to tell your friends to send me a line or two when they are coming and where they are going. It helps so much, and naturally will make my letter more interesting in variety as well as other ways. The editor, remember, has pressing business, and so be helpful. Some of those I saw last week either at the eggnogg party given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strong or at the dance, who I failed to tell you would be here included: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Decker, of Philadelphia, who were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Strong, Miss Margaret Smith, of Baltimore, guest of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck, Miss Harriette Welch and two of her guests of New York, the Misses Goodrich and Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rouse, of Havre de Grace, John Truslow, home from Lafayette College for the holidays, Miss Virginia Jones, of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, of Elizabeth, New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Valiant of Centreville and Mr. Charles Humphreys.

Miss Nancy Jean Usilton entertained members of the younger set before the dance, and so it ended in a grand party for all and was one of the nicest dances ever given at the Club.

Others who were in town over Thanksgiving and the week-end included Mr. Sidney Steele, of Harrisburg, Pa., a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dell Hendershott; Mr. Robert R. Ayres, Jr., of Baltimore, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Groves and his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Ayres; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold O. Mauritson, of Malden, Mass. guests of Mrs. Mary Walters who returned to their home with them to visit them for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Milton F. Harris and son, of Gloucester Point, N. J., visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wheatley; Miss Grace Nickerson, of Baltimore, a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Nickerson, and Mrs. Rachel Wacker all were Thanksgiving visitors in Chestown.

Out of town weddings during the holidays claimed some of our residents for Mrs. Alice Derringer and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Corey attended the Pine-Dukehart wedding and reception in Baltimore, Thanksgiving Day, while Mrs. Henry Evans and Mrs. Charles Bowen attended the Dugan-Lilly nuptials in that city on Saturday. The bride the former Sara Lee Lilly, is a niece of Mrs. Evans and a frequent visitor at Mrs. Evans's home some years ago.

But now our town is astir with preparations and parties in the offing, for the coming marriage of Miss Elizabeth Fontaine, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. Clarke Fontaine, of Chestertown, Md., to Mr. Robert Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Norris Harrison, of Wren House, Rydal, Pa., and Land's End Farm, Centreville, Md., which will take place at 12.30 p. m., Saturday, December 28 at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of the two families and a few intimate friends. Miss Fontaine, or 'Libby,' as she is known to her host of friends, is one of the most popular girls in town, and was a general favorite at Hood College which she attended up until this year. Miss Mary Ellen Robinson, of Lancaster, Pa., and a former roommate at Hood, will be Miss Fontaine's Maid of Honor and only attendant, while Mr. C. Leland Harrison will be his brother's best man.

Parties have already commenced, and the next one on the calendar is the dinner for the bride and bridegroom to be, which will be given by Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, Jr., of Huntingdon House, Meadowbrook, Pa., on Thursday evening, December 12. On December 21, Miss Helen Vander Buecken, of Chestnut Hill, Pa., will entertain at a large buffet supper, when a number of Hood College friends will be principal guests. These entertainments, aside from those in the making, here, will certainly keep the little bride to be on the path until the Big Day rolls around. Christmas will simply be a side issue. However, I'll tell you more later.

Miss Adelaide Glascock has returned to her home here after a three weeks visit in Washington where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drayton. Mr. and Mrs. Drayton are frequent guests in Chestertown of Miss Glascock's.

Mr. Charles Hopper, of Baltimore, has been a guests at the home of Mrs. R. H. Collins, Sr., here, this week.

Mrs. H. Gilpin Brown entertained at a bridge luncheon on Tuesday at her home in Overbrook, Pa. Several ladies from here motored up for the occasion.

The family of Mr. Frank Estes moved on Monday to Washington, where Mr. Estes is located. They will be greatly missed from our community.

Mr. Herbert Hartman who has been quite ill for the past several months, left on Tuesday for Florida, accompanied by his two sisters, Miss Fannie Hartman and Mrs. Ivor Leonard and her daughter, Miss Ruth Leonard.

Tonight holds in store two dinner parties. One will be a terrapin dinner given by Col. and Mrs. H. Staunton Brown, at Godlington Manor, while the other wil be given by Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Metcalfe in Sudlersville, at which a number of Chestertown folks are expected to attend.

So here's best wishes for another gay week-end, and hopes of more to come.

Yours for an idea,
THE WANDERER.

Walbert—Davis

Mr. William E. Davis has announced the marriage of his daughter, Edna Virginia, to Mr. Wesley Royston Walbert son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walbert, which took place on Saturday, November 30th. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Conway Hammer, of Rock Hall at the M. E. parsonage. The bride, a graduate nurse of the Maryland General Hospital in Baltimore, wore a gown of blue with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Walbert will shortly take an apartment at the Imperial.

Hendrickson—Clark

Miss Eugenia Hendrickson, daughter of the late Mr. Percy Hendrickson and Mr. James Clark were married yesterday. After a brief honeymoon they will reside in the Baldwin Apartments on Queen St. and Maple Ave.
