AT THE MOVIES NEXT WEEK

For the first time in his last seven pictures, Wallace Forddoes not get 'killed.'

As an officer ofthe law in Walter Wanger's Paramount drama starring Sylvia Sidney in the title role, 'Mary Burns, Fugitive,' coming on Monday and Tuesday, December 16 and 17 to the New Lyceum Theatre, Ford has a role that wins him sympathy and admiration rather than tears over his demise.

In 'The Informer,' Ford was riddled by a machine gun; was blown up in a dynamite truck crash in 'In Spite of Danger'; was burned to death in 'Headline Shooters;' was shot down by an Arab sharp-shooter in 'The Lost Patrol; and was nearly chewed to death by a lion in 'The Big Cage.'

'Mary Burns Fugitive, colorful tale of love, drama and clashes with the law, describes the tragic experiences of a girl who innocently becomes involved in the life of a public enemy, and subsequently is sentenced to prison, makes a jail break and becomes a fugitive from justice. Her romance with a wealthy, brilliant scientist further complicates her tangled adventures.

Gary Cooper and Ann Harding make their first appearance as a romantic team in Paramount's adaptation of George Du Maurier's immortal classic, 'Peter Ibbetson,' regarded as one of the greatest love stories of the ages comes too the New Lyceum on Wednesday and Thursday, December 18 and 19.

The final choice of these two for the top roles in the film was decided after taking into consideration the fact that Cooper and Miss Harding could be classed as perfect temperamental affinities, capable of making the dreamlike quality of the romance real, believable and beautiful. Delicate, ethereal, whimsical in mood, 'Peter Ibbetson'carries its hero and heroine out of the world of realism into one of fantasy and dreams.

Directed by Henry Hathaway who also directed Cooper in his greatest cinema triuumph, 'Lives of a Bengal Lancer,' the cast includes Ida Lupino, John Halliday, Douglas Dumbrille, Virginia Weidler and Dickie Moore.

'Peter Ibbetson' is the screen dramatization of George Du Maurier's famous novel of the same name. The story revolves around the beautiful love that binds two people together for a lifetime even though Fate sees fit to part them. Friends, playmates and sweethearts in Paris, as children, the two are separated when the boys, mother dies and his military uncle takes him to England. As a talented young architect, Peter Ibbetson is sent to a wealthy aristocrat's estate to design new racing stables. Ibbetsonn discovers that the mistress of the house, the Duchess of Towers, is none other than his childhood sweetheart. At the same time she recognizes him.

The Duke, suspecting their love, threatens to kill Ibbetson. In the ensuing argument, the Duke is acciden tally killed and Peter is sentenced to life in prison for the crime. But his love never dies for the Duchess who remains true to him forever. Although prison walls separate them they meet in their own dream world as the years pass on, their romance stronger than life, more powerful than death.

Tense drama, tender romance and thrilling feats of horsemanship come to the screen of the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, December 20 and 21 as part of a double feature bill, when Buck Jones opens an engagement of two days as the star of 'Border Brigands,' the Universal drama of the Far North.

The absorbing story deals with the activities of the Rayol Northwest Mounted Police in that part of Canada lying against the Arctic Circle, and pictures a bitter feud between the 'Mounties' and a band of outlaws which maintains its headquarters in a lawless town on the American side of the international border. How Buck resigns from the service and worms himself into the confidence of the gang makes a story filled with dangerous situations and hard riding action.

Jones' supporting cast in this unusual picture includes Lona Andre, Fred Kohler, Frank Rice, J. P. McGowanand many others.

Don't miss 'Border Brigands!' It will thrill you as few pictures have ever done.

A hundred faces in the camera's eye —and one of them a killer! How could he be lured from his cloak of mystery? What scheme could be used to trap him You'll see the most exciting manhunt in years in 'The Case ofthe Missing Man,' Columbia film co-featuring Roger Pryor and Joan Perry, when it arrives at the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday, December 20 and 21 as part of a double feature bill.

"Nerves" "NERVES" "Nerves"

Dr. Miles NERVINE "Did the work" says Miss Glivar
WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?
After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nervine which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.
If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.
Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.
Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

QUALITY AS UNIFORM as Soldiers on Parade

ROW AFTER ROW, soldiers on parade impress one with their uniformity—everyone is in step as they march jauntily along. So it is with Gunther's Beer. Whether you enjoy Gunther's today, tomorrow or next month, each bottle or glassful tastes exactly alike and is in step with the one before. Therei s never any variation in taste, ageing, flavor, strength or quality of Gunther's. Drink it regularly for absolute uniformity.
