NOW AND THEN

A CHRISTMAS SONG

BY ALICE MATHEWS

Now comes to joy of Christmas time,
Withits glad chimes of mirth
Let's place fair mistletoe in rhyme
And deck old Mother Earth
In holly green the sacred day
Our dear Lord Christ was born;
And from our hearts let's sing a lay
When we awake at morn,
And keep the tune of Christmas time
A sounding for his sake,
And sing out glad and sweet a rhyme
That blythe and gay shall make
Each saddened heart humming, proclaim
'Away with gloom and fear!'
A joyous Holiday let's make,
The Christmas day this year.
The Magi mused let none refuse
To meditate this morn,
Hail to the Babe of Bethlehem!
Again good will is born!

Christmas is surely a time for giving.

Just as the Father gave his son at this season, the lesson comes to us 'Give, Give.'

It comes in the winter season when the need of the poor is so much greater than at other times, therefore:
'At the merry table,
Think of those who have none,
The orphan and the widow,
Weary and alone,
Bountiful your offerings
To the altar bring;
Let the poor and needy
Christmas Carols sing.'

A CHRISTMAS STORY

'Peace on earth, goodwill to men' sang the Christmas waits on this Christmas eve and the bells were ringing every where to tell the joyful tidings of a Saviour's birth.

A young man was hurrying on to the midnight service. In the distance he could see the church with its lighted stained glass windows.

It was a starry night and, as he looked up to the heavens, he bared his head as he thought of that starry night long ago when the angels sang their 'Gloria in excelsis.'

Below him as he walked, he could see the river glittering in the star light.

Just then a man rushed passed him and made his way to the river.

There was something in his attitude, that caused the first young man, whose name was Edward to change his course and follow him.

He reached him just in time, for he was about to throw himself in the river. 'How dare you?' exclaimed Edward, as he seized him and dragged him away. The man struggled in his grasp. 'What right have you to interfere?' he panted, 'A man has a right to die.'

'No, he has not, for he is a living soul. What right has he to inflict such injury on his soul when it reaches the spirit world? What shame it must feel at its cowardice!'

Then Edward locked his arm in the other's and they wended their way from the river, while the would be suicide told his story. He was in the bank, a trusted employee.

His friend came to him in great straits and begged the loan of money just for a day. He would send the money back right away. And so the young man took the money which he had no right to use, thinking to replace it the next morning. But his friend did not return it, and the inspector of the bank would be on hand the next day, and it would be found out. He could not stand the disgrace so he had intended to end his life.

'And leave all the agony of your disgrace for your friends to bear!' rejoined Edward.

They were now standing under the Church Windows, hearing the melody of the organ and the Christmas Anthems.

The light from the stained glass shone on their faces and Edward looked at the care worn face of the other 'What is the sum that is needed? asked he.

The young clerk told him. Edward took his check book from his pocket and wrote the amount and gave it to him.

The young clerk fell on his knees and thanked him, 'It shall all be paid back to the last cent.'

Edward, looking at him knew that be meant it all and he believed he would try to do it.

When they parted Edward hurried home and reached there just as the family were returning from the church. 'Oh Edward!' exclaimed his young sister. 'You were not there, and it was such a beautiful service.'

'No,' he said, 'I was detained,' and he kissed her and ran up stairs, as he sang to himself Peace on earth, Good will to men.'

CO-OPERATION ILLUSTRATED

You have a dollar. I have a dollar. We swap. Now you have my dollar—I have your dollar. We are no better off. You have an idea, I have an idea. We swap. Now you have two ideas and I have two ideas—both are richer. What you gave you have; what I got you didnot lose. This is co-operation.—National Printer and Journalist.

NEW COMPANY FORMED HERE

WILL DISTRIBUTE TIRES ON EASTERN SHORE

Announcement was made this week of the establishment of the Accessory Sales Company in Chestertown, with R. B. Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Harrison, of Land's End Farm, as operating head. The new firm has been named distributor for the India Tire Company, of Akron, Ohio, on the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Official service stations will be established in all the counties on the peninsula, and the Russell Motors Corporation has been named in that capacity in Kent County.

E. Clarke Fontaine, Jr., Chestertown will also be connected with the company.

DUCKING SEASON CLOSED THURSDAY

EAST NECK ISLAND GUNNERS ARRESTED

Thursday of this week ended the poorest ducking season for many years judging from the number of ducks killed. This may be attributed to the Federal ducking laws which limited the season to one month and prevented baiting and use of live decoys.

Cedar Point, on East Neck Island, generaly conceded to be one of the best natural ducking shores in Chesapeake Bay waters, reported the bag limit every day except two during the entire season, but this is an exception.

The law preventing the use of sink boxes on the Susquehanna Flats left that large natural feeding ground undisturbed and large quantities of canvas back and red-heads which use the Sassafras and Chester Rivers after being routed from the flats, were not flying.

Island Hunters Arrested

Federal Game Wardens have been active in the lower part of Kent County during the season which resulted in the arrest of nine hunters on Eastern Neck Island and two on Chester River The names of those arrested were not available but it is reported that among them was a high official of the State of New ersey who figured prominently in a trial of world wide interest in that State recently.

One of the arrests was reported to have resulted from finding corn in a pond onthe Johnson farm on the island. It is understood that agents dredged the bottom of the pond.

MRS. MARY E. JACOBSON DIED SUNDAY

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Jacobson wife of Philip Jacobson, of Baltimore, died last Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Willis.

She leaves one son, Arnold Willis and two daughters by a former marriage, Virginia and Elizabeth Hague. Her parents also survive, and the following brothers and sisters.

Mason, Wilson, John, Water and Maxwell Willis and Mrs. Sarah McHenry.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the home of her parents with the Reverends Hanby and Willis officiating. Interment was in Chester cemetery with Marvin V. Williams as the funeral director.

The bearers were: Wilson, John, Walter, Maxwell and Merritt Willis and John McHenry.

TWO LOCAL COUPLES GET MARRIAGE LICENSES

Two local marriage licenses were issued by Clerk of Court Robert A. Shallcross here during the past week. They were:

Benjamin Clay Williams, 21, and Pearl Hazel Meekins, 20, both of Kent county.

Robert D. Harrison, 21, Centreville, and Alice E. Fontaine, 19, Chestertown.

FLASHES FROM CHESTERTOWN HIGH

Emory M. Hines, Jr.

Upon visiting the rooms of the high school this last Friday, in fact throughout the entire week, a casual visitor would notice the utmost of Christmas Spirit prevailing. The traditional red and green bits of color were found in many places, while three of our rooms, Miss Riches's, Miss Russell's and Mr. Fleetwood's, boasted gayly decorated trees which reached from floor to ceiling. The last period of the 20th was used for home room periods, programs highly appropriate being given. Miss Riches's pupils were entertained by poems, songs, and talks with refreshments consisting of punch, candies, and cake playing an important part. The Freshmen in Miss Russell's class filled the hour with much of the same variety of things, also a play from part of Dicken's Christmas Carol being the most important. Tempting sweets were also enjoyed by them. Students in Mr. Fleetwood's home room were treated to the same sort of things as the former ones were. Other rooms which participated in entertainment for themselves were Miss Mamie's, Miss Peacock's, Mrs. Brice's, Mr. Martin's, Mr. Hall's, and Miss Bryan's. Especially good was the play written and produced by Margaret Groves for the latter class. Every room in the school had the customary drawing of names and exchanging of gifts. It is hoped this sort of affair will be carried out annually. The festivity ended at three o'clock with everyone prepared for the sixteen day vacation.

While speaking of spirit, the generousity of C. H. S. might be mentioned in connection with Mr. Joe, our janitor. The students took a collection this last week, the whole school contributing. The money collected was given to him and was our Christmas present to him.

The yearly fieldball-soccer banquet was given by the Boys' and Girls' Athletic Association last Thursday, December the nineteenth, in the high school auditorium. It was attended by fifteen members of each team who were most active during the '35 schedule, the cheer leaders, and those of the faculty. The table was decorated with greens and red crepe paper dolls thoroughly carrying out the Christmas motive. The menu consisted of: first course, fruit cup; second course, turkey, gravey, and cranberries, slaw, candied sweet potatoes, hominy, turkey dressing, peas, and rolls; third course, ice cream, cake, and coffee. The festive dinner was delicious and was added to by the informal speeches of Miss Bryan and Mr. Hall, coaches, and Margaret Quinn and Johnnie Benjamin, Presidents of the Associations, and other teachers. Mr. Poole was Master-of-Ceremonies. Those who attended the dinner supervised by Mrs. Baldwin are now either looking forward to next year's one, or lustfully remembering the current one.

Those who have Mr. Hall for a home room were treated with an unusual surprise Monday morning. During the week end, local workmen installed equipment in the chemistry laboratory The extra installation was a trough through the middle of the workbench to allow the used water to drain off. Here-to-fore the old one leaked considerably causing much inconvenience throughout the different classes. We greatly thank those who were responsible for having the work done.

The fourth monthly meetings of the 10 A and C History Clubs were held last Friday, the 20th. The program of both clubs ran very much the same as a pantomine of the play 'How The Chimes Rang' was given to each of the respective members. Those who participated in 10 A were: Nellie Bexley, George Baldwin, Albert Foley, Estelle Beaver, Gerson Bonnett, Bedford Groves, Virginia Foley, Theodore Redman, Hampton Carmine, Deane Groves, Bill McGregor, Anne Turner and Kitty Bringman. In 10 C Mary Eve George, Joe Davis, Tommy Robinson, Louise Groves, Charles Connolley, George Kennedy, Louis Kendall, Walter Moffett, Eben Knight, and Mildred Thrift. The meeting ajorned with the ringing of the bell.

In reference to Mr. Hall's room, some mention should be made of the promised coat and book lockers which we are due to receive soon. Although no actual work has been done on them as yet, progress is in order and they are supposed to be finished for our return on January 6th. The former cloak room will be used as a chemistry storeroom.

At the Thursday meeting of the footlights and Fancies Club an entertaining one act play entitled 'Guppy's Folks.' The cast was made up entirely of boys who were Ralph Thornton, Owen Anderson, Frank Willis, Waym Pote, Harry Hendrickson, and Erdman Walls. At the forecoming meeting, work will begin on the play to be given at William Smith Hall on February 20th.

The holiday we are beginning today is probably the longest one we will have till seven years hence. Christmas and New Years by falling on a Wednesday, make this 'believe it or not' oddity true, and give us a full sixteen day vacation. But even though the time seems long, out Yuletide recess passes quickly with many things to occupy our time. So I'll be writing for you in 1936 the next time you read my column. 'Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night!'

TO SPEND WINTER IN FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. R. von Walburg left for New York today and after a short visit there will go to Florida for the winter.

Mr. von Walburg recently sold his farm, the Anthony Farm, to Mr. William Davidson, of New York who will move there today. Mr. Davidson was formerly president of the telephone company on the island of San Domingo. He with his wife and two sons will make their home there. The two sons are now in college.

Mr. von Walberg expects to return to this section next summer.

MARYLAND TO PLAY HERE JAN. 28

WASHINGTON LOSE 2 ON TRIP

Announcement was made this week that the University of Maryland basket ball team will play Washington here January 23rd. This will be Maryland's first appearance on a basket ball court here.

Washington College completed a three game trip Thursday night when they lost to Long Island University 22 to 47. Long Island has one of the strongest teams in the country and ran up a 13 point lead before Washington scored. At the half Washington trailed 5 to 26.

On Wednesday night Washington defeated Upsala at East Orange 34 to 29 and on Tuesday lost to West Chester Teachers 19 to 29. It will be remembered that West Chester last year was one of the best teams that ever played on the local floor.

BOXING AT EASTON

KENT ATHLETIC CLUB TO STAGE BOUTS IN EASTON

Boxing bouts will be staged by the Kent Athletic Club in Easton, Md., on Monday evening, December 23rd. Part of the proceeds go for the Emergency Hospital.

Matchmaker, Reds Smith announces the following card: 4 rounds, Art Bessick, Betterton, vs. Dave Cecil, Cordova. Bennie William, Baltimore, vs. K. O. Sharp, Cordova. 4 rounds, Bill Collins, Baltimore, vs. Jake Freeman Camp Holibird. Main bout 8 rounds, Kid Cosden, Cordova, vs. Clarence Sloat, of Baltimore. In Sloat the management believes they have a worthy opponent for Kid Cosden.

EMMANUEL LEADS CHURCH LEAGUE

FIRST HALF ENDED THURSDAY

Emmanuel P. E. Church won the first half of the Church bowling league which ended on Thursday evening of this week. The second half will start January 2nd. The results of the first half are as follows:

	W.	L.
Emmanuel P. E.	14	4
Wesley Chapel	10	8
Chestertown M. E.	10	8
Christ M. P.	4	14

Six of the games lost by Christ M. P. were lost by default.

SELLS CORN AT AUCTION

A novel way of selling corn was transacted in Sudlersville this week when Mr. Lucian Massey drove into town with a truck load of shelled corn and put it up for auction.

It is understood that there was spirited bidding by two buyers in that town and the corn was finally sold at 61 cents a bushel.

LOCAL PARTY BAG EIGHT DEER

Dr. H. C. Hughes and Messrs. Claude E. Truslow and Ernest Armstrong succeeded in getting their limit of one deer each in a hunting trip in Pennsylvania.

There were eight men in the party and eight deer were bagged.

TURKEYS 25c AND 26c POUND

Buyers in Kent County this week paid 25c and 26c a pound for turkeys this week and large numbers have been sold.

GO TO CHURCH MONTH

A County-wide effort is being made to make the month of January, 1936, a 'Go to Church Month.' Not that going to Church all the year is not important, but that the Ministers and Church Workers of practically all Denominations feel that it is a most appropriate way of beginning the New Year. Each Church will attempt to bringout its own members in full force all during that month, and all will cordially invite those who have no immediate Religious affiliation to worship with them. At the end of the time a report will be made of the attendance at each service, especially or Sundays. The movement will start with a Union Service in Emmanuel Church on the First Wednesday of January, at 7.30 p. m.

Ministers of Kent County Churches will be invited to be in the Chancel, and special Prayers will be Offered for God's Blessing on the movement.

The reasons for faithful and regular Church going are so many that it is impossible to discuss but a few of them in a few lines. All men need the realization of being, not mere animals, but the Sons of the Living God, and in no other place in the world is that fact so brought out as in God's House, where we go to worship Him, hear His Word, and offer our Service. Whatever the Denomination, you will hear in any Christian Church the beauty and strength of Christian Righteousness, with all the highest ideals of Honesty, Mercy, Charity, and Love. And man needs to make an effort and the youth of the world need to see their elders making that effort, to learn and perform their duty to God and Mankind. And the Church needs to place greater emphasis on Christ and not denominationalism, so that in a concerted effort to go and get others to go to Church we find ourselves drawing closer together in a real Christian Fellowship.

CORA BELLE MANN DIED AT HER HOME LAST FRIDAY

Mrs. Cora Belle Mann passed away at her late home in Betterton Friday morning in her 68th year. Mrs. Mann was a member for many years of St. John's Church, By the Bay. She was os a quiet disposition devoting herself to her home and family.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Loud and one grand son, Edward T. Loud, Jr., of Betterton.

Funeral services were held from her late home Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. Rev. Willye officiating. B. R. Fellows undertaker.

The bearers were: Messrs. Thomas Silcox, Harvey Moore, Walter Brice, Carlton Moore, Clarence Newsome and George Brice.

57 DUCKING STAMPS ISSUED

The effect of the rigid Federal ducking laws on the number of hunters who partook of that sport this season may be judged by the number of ducking stamps issued at the Chestertown Post Office.

The law requires every person who shoots wild water fowl to buy a $1 ducking stamp which money is used for conservation purposes. This season Postmaster W. B. Usilton issued 57 of these stamps as compared to 194 issued last year.

PLAN TREAT FOR COLORED CHILDREN

A committee of colored people in Chestertown are planning a treat for the colored school children in the county at Union Park on Calvert Street, Chestertown today, Saturday, at 1 p. m. Local business men have contributed toward the treat.
tributed toward the treat.

Laurence Branch, of Baltimore will give a talk to the children after which all will receive some Christmas token.

JURORS EXCUSED FROM DECEMBER SESSION

The Jurors who were drawn in October were notified this week that their services would not be required at the December Court session.

According to a recent State law all Jurors must report in December and January unless notified otherwise. It is for the purpose of handling emergency Court work.

WAR ON DANGEROUS TOYS

A number of cities, under the direction of civic organizations, have staged demonstrations of burning dangerous toy guns, etc. It is claimed that there are housands of accidents annually from this type of play-thing.

Chimney fires are still responsible for many of the calls of the local fire companies. In most cases the chimneys show signs of not having been cleaned for a long period of time.
