Dear Roamer

Raise the song of Harvest Home for Thanksgiving is here. "All is safely gathered in, 'ere the winter's storms begin."

And right here we have a most interesting engagement which is being announced this week. Mrs. William Thomas Dixon, of Green Point Farm, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Josephine Pearce Dixon to Mr. Robert W. Johnson, 3rd, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Johnson, Jr.

Miss Dixon is in her second year of training as a nurse at the Union Memorial Hospital and graduated from Garrison Forest School, having made her debut at the Bachelors' Cotillion in Baltimore, the following winter.

Mr. Johnston is a private in the Army until he graduates from the Johns Hopkins Medical School in June, when he and Miss Dixon will be married. In the autumn, Mr. Johnson will interne in surgery at the Union Memorial Hospital. He is a gradutae of Kent School and Princeton University Class of 1941.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dixon's son, Dr. William T. Dixon, has just been graduated from the Johns Hopkins Medica School and will spend next week in Kent, as a guest of Mrs. J. D. Maxwell. From there, he, and another graduate of the Hopkins Medical School will go to Inagua, an island of the Bahamas for a three weeks vcation, at the same time doing research work on tropical diseases. Dr. Dixon will be an interne at Osler (Hopkins) beginning January 1st.

The wedding of Mrs. Lottie Neale, of Rock Hall, and Mr. Roy T. Strong, manager and treasurer of the Liquor and Control Board for Kent County and former member of the Legislature took place Saturday in Laurel, Md., at the home of Mrs. Fredrica Albee, sister of Mr. Strong. The bride was given in marriage by her son.

Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Strong will reside in Rock Hall. Mrs. Strong will continue with the Welfare Board, where she has held a position for several years.

Among the Thanksgiving week-end parties will be a supper party to be given on Friday night by Mrs. Stanley Giraitis. The other party on that day will be a luncheon bridge to be given by Mrs. R. N. Whaey. Then on Saturday, as I told you last week, Mrs. John Stokes will give a luncheon-bridge at her home in Sudlersville in honor of Mrs. Philip V. Kratzer.

And speaking of a day crammed with parties, last Thursday, so far, holds the record. I think I mentioned three that were held that day, but later, I discovered there were six in all. In the afternoon, Mr. Wilbur Ross Hubbard entertained in honor of Mrs. Weston Tripty, Miss Virginia Brice and her father, Mr. George Brice, from Far Hills, N. J., who were here for a bit of fox hunting and were guests of the latter's sisters, Mrs. E. Fountain and Mrs. H. Skipper. The same afternoon, if you recall, Mrs. R. N. Whaley held her first tea. That night, the four parties given were: one by Mrs. Duncan Derringer, Mrs. Claude Truslow, Mrs. Philip J. Skipp and the fourth, though not a party really, was when Mrs. Rudulph Tull entertained her bridge club.

One of the post Thanksgiving parties will be given by Mrs. Howard Pyle who will entertain at dessert-bridge on Wednesday, December 1.

Lt. and Mrs. A. E. Dryden who are living in Forida, where the former is stationed, are here on a visit with Mrs. Dryden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bonwill Dukes, and will remain over the Thanksgiving holidays. They spent part of this week in Princess Anne with Lt. Dryden's parents.

Among other Thanksgiving guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tull, of Cynwyd, Pa., who will visit Mr. and Mrs. Rudulph Tull.

Next week, Mrs. John R. Speicher will leave for Camp Pickett, Va., where she will visit Major and Mrs. J. Thomas Kibler at their home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carvell and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kratzer spent Wednesday and Thursday in Philadelphia this week. While there they attended the new show "The Voice of the Turtle" with Margaret Sullivan.

Mrs. Marshall Spaulding, of Baltimor, was a guest last week-end, of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gilpin Brown.

Heigh ho, now, and cheerio. For today is Thanksgiving.

Yours giving thanks,

The Wanderer

COLLEGE WOMEN TO HEAR NURSE NEXT THURSDAY

Miss Eloise P. Rallings, Clinical Instructor in Urological Nursing at Johns Hopkins Hospital School of Nursing, will speak at Washington College on Thursday, December 2.

Miss Rallings represents the National Nursing Council for War Service Corps—the new goverment plan and the United States Cadet Nurse which, under the U. S. Public Health Service, offers a free professional education to qualified students. Her visit is part of a nation-wide endeavor to recruit 65,000 student nurses this year for wartime replacements, caused by acute needs of the Army, Navy, and civilian health agencies, and also to interest college women in preparation for post-war careers.

The latest information on the United States Cadet Nurse Corps will be presented by Miss Rallings, who has recently conferred with Miss Lucile Petry, its director, and other national authorities. Recruits in the Corps receive free tuition, free maintenance, distinctive gray and scarlet street uniforms, and a monthly stipend during their entire period of training in accredited schools of nursing. In return, they promise to remain active in essential military or civilian nursing for the duration of the war.

Miss Rallings is a native of Pageland, South Carolina. After graduation from the Pageland High School, she studied at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, and later transferred to Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, where she obtained her Bachelor of Science degree, and was graduated from the Vanderbilt School of Nursing in June, 1941.

She served as Instructor and Supervisor of Medical and Surgical Nursing and as Clinical Instructor of Medical and Surgical Nursing at the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania before being appointed to her present position.

As an undergraduate, Miss Rallings was president of the senior class and member of the Student Council of the Vanderbilt University School of Nursing. She holds memberships in the American Nurses' Association, the American Red Cross Nurses' Association, and the National League of Nursing Education.

Nursing, Miss Rallings believes, is war work with a future. The first women to go overseas with the armed forces were the Army and Navy nurses. Even before she graduates, the student nurse is now recognized as being in a service as essential as that undertaken by the WACS, the WAVES, the SPARS, and the Marines. Student nurses release graduate nurses for service overseas, or in military or naval hospitals at home.

As a post-war profession, nursing offers opportunities which have been greatly expanded by the war. Nurses wil be called upon to take part in post-war reconstruction program abroad and at home. There is now, and there is every evidence that there will continue to be after the war, a great ned for nurses—not only in hospitals and other institutions, but also in public health nursing, as teachers in schools of nursing, in government work with the U. S. Public Health Service, the U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U. S. Veterans Administration, and a number of specialized fields.

Miss Rallings will discuss the opportunities for college women in nursing, and will hold conference for students interested.

13 Held In Raids On Lower Shore

Pocomoke City—Thirteen persons accused of illegally selling liquor and possessing gambling devices were held under bond today for hearings before trial magistrates as the result of a series of raids near Ocean City and Pocomoke City.

State's Attornel William G. Kerbin said all of the persons charged, including thirteen men and one woman, had given bonds before various trial magistrates.

Earlier Kerbin had reported the issuance of seventeen warrents charging illeagal possession of slot machines and whiskey-sale violations.

Fourteen officers, including ten members of the Maryland State Police, conducted the daylight raids and confiscated several carloads of slot machines, liquor and other illegal equipment. Fifteen of the warrants charged possession of gambling devices and the other two liquor-sale violations.

Officers valued the equipment and liquor seized in the raids of approximately $7,500.

Married At Cecilton Methodist Church Saturday Afternoon

Pictured are Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Davis cutting the wed ng cake at the reception which followed their wedding last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Henrietta McCubbin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley S. McCubbin, and Mr. Davis is the son of Mrs. Olden Davis and the late Mr. Davis.

GOOD GUESSERS

At the recent teas given by Mrs. R. N. Whaley, a novelty feature added to the enjoyment of the delightful repasts and socialbility. At the first tea, a jar of beans was in view and each guest on leaving, left her name and the number of beans she thought were in the jar. Mrs. James G. Beck was later called by telephone and told she had guessed nearest the number and was sent a delicious home made cake.

At the second tea on Tuesday, five books were tied together, and the same procedure folowed. Each one was to guess the total number of pages in all five books. Mrs. Philip V. Kratzer was the lucky guesser and also was presented with a cake.
