The Social Wanderer

DEAR ROAMER

Before starting into the happenings of the week that occurred in the immediate vicinity, let us read of three weddings that are certainly of much interest.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Columbus, Ohio, the Episcopal Church of Ohio State University, was the scene of an attractive service, wedding last Saturday afternoon, Dec. 4th, when Miss Elizabeth Ann Goral of Menasha, Wisconsin, became the bride of Lieutenant (j. g.) Francis Hudson Mead, USCGR, of Chestertown. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Almus M. Thorp, Rector of St. Stephen's.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Stanley Goral of Green Bay, Wis., and the late Mr. Goral. She was privately educated. The groom, third son of President and Mrs. Gilbert W. Mead of Washington College, attended Chestertown High School and Charlotte Hall Military Academy, and graduated in 1942 from Washington College. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity. After training, he was commissioned at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., and since January 1943, has been Captain of the Port of Green Bay, and Commanding Officer of the Coast Guard Station there, being detailed at present for advanced training in the Naval Training School (Recognition) at Ohio State University.

The bride's only attendant was her matron of honor, Mrs. William T. Blair of Norwood, Mass., and Dr. Mead acted as his son's best man. The bride was given in marriage by Ens. William T. Blair, USCGR, a fellow officer of the groom in his present station, and another officer of the unit, Lt. Archibald Dalrymple Barnes, USMC, of Fort Worth Texas was an usher.

Following the wedding dinner, the young couple left immediately for a short trip, after which Lt. Mead will return to his present station to complete advanced training.

Mrs. Mead accompanied Dr. Mead to the ceremony, and served as hostess at the wedding dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bramble of Galena, Md., announce the marriage of their daughter, Anna Elizabeth to Mr. Harold Hodge Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hodge Coleman, of Kennedyville, Md.

The ceremony was performed at Galena Methodist Parsonage by the Rev. E. Leon Dage on Saturday evening, November 27th at 8 o'clock. The bride had as her attendant, Miss Margaret Chambers of Price, Md., as maid of honor and Mr. Marion Coleman served as best man for his brother.

The bride was attired in blue wool with accessories to match and Miss Chambers wore aqua wool with matching accessories.

Their wedding trip included Virginia, Washington, Baltimore, and Wilmington, after which they will make their home with the grooms' parents.

The third wedding is particularly interesting to Washington College students and its Alumni.

On November 20, the marriage of Miss Ellen Peters and Lieut. Charles Fetter took place at the Church of Our Savior in Baltimore.

The bride's sister, Miss Phyllis Peters served as Maid of Honor while the bridesmaids were Miss Betty Dockhorn and Miss Joan Connors, all having been gowned in blue. The bride wore the traditional white satin gown and tulle veil.

Ensign John Zinc, of Annapolis was Lieut Fetter's best man.

After a reception at the Hotel Belvedere Lieut. and Mrs. Fetter left for a short wedding trip to New York, before leaving for Monroe, Louisana.

Mrs. Fetter graduated from Washington College in January 1943, and is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, of which she became president in her Junior year.

Lieut. Fetter who graduated from the College in June 1941, was a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity, and was a noted athlete during his college career. He is now serving with the U. S. Army Air Corps.

Now turning an eye toward the entertainments of the week ,we find the parties beginning on Wednesday, with a luncheon-bridge given by Mrs. Harry H. Deringer in honor of Mrs. Philip V. Kratzer.

Thursday evening, Mrs. William Buckingham and Miss Martha Speicher were hostesses at a dessert bridge, while on Saturday evening they will again entertain at dinner and bridge.

Friday evening, to-night, Mrs. Browne M. Roe, will entertain at dessert-bridge, at her home in Sudlersville, to which a number of Chestertown people have been invited.

Mrs. Scott Beck returned yesterday from New York where she has been visiting since Monday, having accompanied her son, Lt. Scott Beck on his return there last Monday after having spent the week-end here.

Mrs. Rudulph Tull also returned from Cynwyd, Pa., yesterday, where she has been spending the week, having returned with Mr. Tull, on Monday, following his usual week-end visit here.

Mrs. William P. Atwater has joined her husband Ensign Atwater in Charleston, S. C., where he is stationed at the present time.

Mrs. James W. Kirby spent the past week-end in Baltimore as a guest of her daughters.

Mrs. Philip Hickman has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Bell, from New York, where she has been with her husband, Lt. Hickman. Mrs. Hickman will remain here while he is on active duty.

Mr. Vernon Corey, of Baltimore, is a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Deringer.

Mr. Lloyd Connely, of Baltimore, was a guest last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stenger.

Mrs. Arnold O. Mauritson, of Dracut, Mass., has been a guest this week, of her mother, Mrs. Mary Walters.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Caldwell for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Townshend and family will spend this week-end in Wilmington, Del., where they will visit friends.

So much talk these days of A B C and all other letters of the Alphabet. Most of us felt we had finished with A B Cs in kindergarten. But then along came rations, came government agencies, came points for this and points for that. Right now C is the big letter for us all.

Yours for C—hristmas,

The Wanderer

Father And Son, Both In The Army Meet In England

Havre de Grace—Father and son, formerly of this city, now serving in different branches of the U. S. Army in England, recently had a thrill that comes once in a lifetime.

They are Maurice L. Teague, Sr., and Maurice E. Teague, Jr. They hadn't seen each other since junior was five years old, but they met in far-off England and spent a "happy afternoon together," Maurice, Jr., told his mother, Mrs. Gladys Budnick Larison, in a letter this week.

Mrs. Larison also received word this week that her husband Fordman D. Larison, has arrived safely in England.

Major Gen. Julian C. Smith Leads Marines In Parific

Elkton—Major General Julian C. Smith, of Elkton, commanded the Marines which landed on the Tarawa Island in the South Pacific this week, according to a news dispatch received Monday. Major General Smith, who has been in the Marine Corps since 1909, has been awarded the Navy Cross and Distinguished Service Medal for meritorius service in Nicaragua in the early 30's. He was commandant of the Marine Training Base in New River, North Carolina, prior to going to the South Pacific about a year ago.

Machinery should be thought of both as war equipment and as multiple manpower which now must be used more efficiently to compensate for acute manpower shortages caused by the war.
