And now with a good-bye to October, and greetings to Hallowe'en—the mystic night of the year.

Black cats or witches we may meet
While boys and girls in funny clothes
Will run about the street
Witches ride on Hallowe'en
Their cloaks are black, their eyes are green.
Beware!

Yours on guard,

The Wanderer

Sweetening Agent

Honey is suitable and good as a sweetening agent on fruits to be frozen. Select a light-flavored honey. On sliced or crushed fruits use one part extracted honey to four or five parts of fruit. On whole fruits add one cup of water to each two cups of extracted honey. Use just enough of this diluted honey to cover the fruit.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"There ought to be a law!"

Every now and then, when I run out of news for the Clarion, I print items about what happened Fifty Years Ago in Our Town. May be a lazy man's way of filling space, but it often makes mighty interesting reading.

Seems like human nature is always repeating itself. Same old prejudices, bickerings, and mistakes. Here's an 1895 politician trying to restrict free speech ... a demagogue crying out against women's rights ... a local committee raising the bugaboo of Prohibition.

Same old cry down through the years: "There ought to be a law!" Same old desire of one group to force its opinions on another.

From where I sit, it's not more laws we need—nor more restrictions of our right to think, and choose, and live as we see fit. But more tolerance and understanding—more "live-and-let-live" among human kind.
