Honey Crop Nearly Doubles 1944 Yield

Maryland honey production in 1945 will be 780,000 pounds, or nearly double the short 432,000-pound crop of 1944, says the Maryland Crop Reporting Services, due largely to the good fall weather.

The state had 26,000 colonies of bees on September 15, or 2,000 more than last year, but the yield per colony has jumped from the 18-pound low of 1944 to 30 pounds this year.

Stocks of honey reported on Maryland farms ready for sale September 15 were 312,000 pounds. While the honey crop this year is large, beekeepers will sell a smaller share of the crop than usual, as they must keep part of the crop to feed the bees, due to short sugar supplies for feeding bees through the winter and spring.

National honey production is reported at 225,779,000 pounds, 20 per cent above 1944.

Crickets like to crawl into houses in the fall months, and they do more damage than just sing a little song. They like to eat wool, rayon, cotton, silk, leather, linen, in fact—most fabrics. To keep them out, keep doors and windows and screens tight.

Housing Wanted–

Washington College has several discharged officers who are married, and who are arranging to return to College, but are hindered by their difficulty in finding housing accomodations in Chestertown. Their need is really acute, and anyone with any knowledge of any possible accomodations which may become available during the winter, should call the College Business Office, Chestertown 153, to help these veterans get located.

LOCAL GROUPS AT TRAINING MEETING

The Kent and Queen Anne's County Farm Security Administration advisory committees attended a one-day training session in Denton, Wednesday, October 24, 1945, J. Weldon Walbert, County FSA Supervisor, said today.

The meeting was called by N. R. Quesenberry, FSA District Supervisor, to acquaint local committeemen withpolicies and procedures governing FSA farm loans to World War II veterans and to other farmers.

Details of all three types of farm loans FSA can help veterans negotiate were studied. These included farm provisions of the "GI Bill of Rights", Bankhead-Jones Farm Purchase loans and FSA operation loans.

The local advisory committees consisting of three farmers and a veteran has definite responsibilities in connection with each type of loan. The Kent County members are Olin S. Davis, Golt, Md., Ralph Geary, Kennedyville, Md., C. Lee Gill, Chestertown, Roy Mitchell, Kennedyville, and Walter L. Walbert, Chestertown. The Queen Anne's County members are Carroll F. Leverage, Chestertown Gordon L. Shawn, Queenstown, Elmer W. Sterling, Church Hill, and Theodore J. Walbert, Sudlersville.

Congress has given the committees authority to pass on the qualifications of all applicants for Bankhead-Jones farm ownership loans. The committees also approve farms to be purchased under the Act and they advise on FSA operation loans. In addition, they serve as certifying committees to pass on loan proposals under the "GI Bill of Rights". Naturally, this involves a lot of detail. The purpose of the meeting was to give all of them—supervisors and committeemen—more training in the job of making sound loans.

The 1945 Maryland honey crop is about 780,000 pounds, compared to 432,000 pounds in 1944. On September 15, about 312,000 pounds were reported on farms ready for sale.

Salvage of used household fats by all families will be one of the best means of assuring prompt return of plentiful supplies of soap to the grocery shelves. The bonus for each pound has been raised from two to four points.

Quiz For Marylanders

THINGS YOU MAY NOT HAVE KNOWN TILL NOW

By QUENTIN HOWE

Answer to Question 1:

In his diary George Washington wrote "did attend the Races in Maryland, did take Dinner with the Gentlemen of the Maryland Jockey Club." Washington bred "Blooded Horses" at Mt. Vernon, was an enthusiastic rider and fox hunter. He always attended Maryland racing, counted "the Gentlemen of the Maryland Jockey Club" his friends.

Answer to Question 2:

Your tax would be bigger if Maryland did not have high class racing at Pimlico because your state "owns" the pari-mutuel concessions at the Maryland race courses and collects over one million dollars a year. Only high class racing will sustain this state revenue. The higher class the racing, the greater its benefits. Cheap racing produces neither good racing nor good taxes. The quality of Maryland racing most certainly affects your personal taxes.

Answer to Question 3:

One of the few racing associations in the world to offer "a Stake Race Every Day" is Pimlico. A Stake Race is the highest class race for the best horses. This Pimlico policy has given Maryland the finest horse racing in America, has kept Maryland in the forefront among racing states, has produced more tax money for Maryland and you than any racing association in the state. This is additional proof that the finer the racing, the better for everyone. The answer is "Pimlico," conducted by the Maryland Jockey Club. (1)
