GOVERNOR NAMES COMMITTEE TO STUDY HOSPITAL

Annapolis, December 11—A State-wideHospital Survey Committee was announced today by Governor Herbert R. O'Conor, to study existing institutional facilities for the care of the sick in various sections of the State and to develop a longrange program whereby existing facilities and such additional facilities as are recommended may operate to provide a comprehensive hospital service for the people of Maryland.

In announcing the committee, Governor O'Conor expressed the possibility that provisions of several proposed Federal Public Works programs might make available funds to assist in the construction of any additional facilities which might be determined upon.

The hospital survey is to be undertaken by the State Planning Commission as a part of the functions of its Committee on Medical Care. An allotment of $8,500 recently was announced by Governor O'Conor to finance the survey.

The members of the committee, who will elect their chairman at a first meeting to be held in the very near future, are:

Dr. Robert H. Riley, State Director of Health. Dr. Huntington Williams, Commission of Health of Baltimore City. Dr. Rarvey B. Stone, of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland. Dr. Winford H. Smith, director of the Johns Hopkins Hospital. Benjamin W. Wright, superintendent of the Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. Dr. George H. Preston, State Commissioner of mental hgiene. Dr. Ralph Young, Negro physcian. C. E. Wise, Jr., of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation. Dr. W. D. Noble, superintendent of the Memorial Hospital, Easton. Dr. P. E. Wroth, of Hagerstown. J. D. Colman, director of the Associated Hospital Service of Baltimore, Inc.

In addition to surveying existing hospital facilities, Governor O'Conor pointed out the new committee will also seek to analyze the facts governing the availability and use of these facilities, as well as to define the need for additional.

COLLEGE TO PLAY FIRST LEAGUE GAME HERE

By Bill Higdon

Johns Hopkins' improved basketball warriors will become the second team to invade Cain Hall, home lair of the Washington College quintet, when the two teams meet in a Mason-Dixon Conference struggle on Saturday night. The contest, slated to get underway at 8 P. M., will follow a J.V. preliminary and will mark Washington's initial league game this year. However, Hopkins will have played one conference opponent, that team having been Gallaudets' District of Columbia aggregation.

Coach Henny Carrington will likely start a similar lineup to that which he has presented in each game so far. George Hauver, and Marty Chaiken will command the forward posts, using their flashy speed to combat their lack in height. Chaiken has proved especially valuable on the defense, while Hauver is a set shooter.

At center will be the veteran, Gene Rook, who is now playing his third varsity season with the Chestertown clan. Gene has tallied 26 points in the team's trhee games to date and has been a wonderful floor captain.

Jim Rook, always a menace to the opposition, especially so when he performs on his own floor, will play his customary guard position, while six foot four-inch veteran, Steve Abramson, will start at the other guard. The former lad was a hot article last week when he tallied 15 points to pace the Washington attack as they defeated Fort Miles cakers, 46-43. This fine point total raises the younger Rook's season mark to 25 points, stamping him as the team's second highest scorer. He will have the opportunity to better this mark before Saturday's game because in the meantime, Aberdeen Proving Ground will be met at Aberdeen this evening.

Subs who have been used to a greater degree by Carrington and who likely will see some action in the encounter with the Jays from Baltimore are guard and centerman, Don (Bull) Derham; forwards, John Livingood and Jack Coleman; and ex-serviceman, Joe Sutton.

Gardner Mallonee, experienced Hopkins coach, is banking heavily on a veteran reserve from last year and four newcomers to the squad of 14. The holdover is George Mullinix, who saw no action in the three games the Homewood team played against Washington last season. George is a forward.

A pair of Baltimore high school stars are expected to aid the cause no little and already have earned their titles to regular positions. They are Bob Sandell, a guard from St. Paul's two year champion private school aggregation; and Louis Koerber, a forward or guard from McMonongh's fine quint. Both are aggressive players, neither is six feet tall; Louis is 5:10 and Bob is 5:7. They are both great defensive men and the St. Paul's alumnus is an excellent set shot.

From Kentucky comes six foot one-inch Freshman, Dick Jolson, who walked right into a regular job. Dick can play either center or forward. He is a comparatively unknown around this section of the nation, but comes to Hopkins with optimistic advance notices.

formerly attended West Point Acad-

Carl Holub, a 6:1 Junior, who emy, is the other starter on the Hopkins five.

Chief reserve usage will come from a pint sized veteran, Joe Bonura, who saw plenty of league action in '44, but who is greatly handicapped because of his minor 5:6 form. Joe is a colorful player, and a great crowd pleaser.

Probable lineups for the game follow:

J. H. U.
Holub, f	17
Mullinix, f	18
Jolson, c	16
Sandell, g	23
Koerber, g	19

Wash. College
Hauver, f	10
Chaiken, f	11
G. Rook, c	15
J. Rook, g	16
Abramson, g	17

Time of game: 8 P. M. Place: Cain Hall, Washington College campus. Preliminary: 7 P. M.
