How Improper Walking Affects the Spine

In the military forces a recognized necessity is good feet. For centuries the builders of great war machines looked well to the feet without knowing the full reason why it was so important. They had learned from experience that good feet are a prime necessity.

Since the discovery of Chiropractic, all the healing professions have taken more notice of bodily posture and its relationship to disease. The mechanics of the spinal column and its scientific construction, its balance and alignment when good health are concerned, have stimulated study into the causes of irregular positions.

Chiropractic research has discovered this valuable fact . . . the feet in many cases cause strains to be thrown upon muscles and other bodily supports which pull the body out of balance. The spinal column, which is the main support of the upper body, is more or less under a strain in such cases and this aggravates subluxations. Subluxation, as you know, means simply that the bones comprising the spinal column have tilted, slipped twisted or otherwise gotten out of correct position.

Thus when you walk, there is a proper way to walk in order to carry the body naturally. Your feet contain many bones themselves. They are small bones but very essential to balance. And upon such balance in many cases depend the difference between good health and disease.

The Chiropractor understands bodily posture and proper alignment of the spinal column. If it is is out of balanced relationship it will be corrected by adjustment and contributing causes also reduced.

A good pair of feet is as important to health as a sound set of teeth.

Feathertouch is two Pens in one...I need them both!

Platinum in the writing fluid channel of the Sheaffer Feathertouch point permits effortless two-way writing. When held normally this pen writes its user's normal script--when turned over it writes a thin, fine line particularly desirable for figure work, marginal notes, and other small writing. Everybody has use for both types of handwriting. Remember that all Sheaffer Feathertouch pens, either lever or visible-barrel type, are one-stroke vacuum-fillers--to keep in best writing condition they fill, empty with force, and clean with one stroke, and take in over 400% more fluid per stroke than multiple-stroke pens.

Sheaffer's are priced from $2.75 up
