ARSON SUSPECT IN JAIL HERE

SUSPICION AROUSED IN MALCOLM BARN FIRE

As a result of an investigation by Sheriff Bennett and State Fire Marshall J. A. Daugherty, William Thomas, colored is being held at the Kent County jail under suspicion of arson.

Officials of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company who responded to the alarm made a preliminary investigation at the time of the fire as to its origin and the pecular conditions surrounding it led to reporting their suspicious to local authorities.

The next day Sheriff Bennett questioned a number of witnesses and was later assisted by Mr. Daugherty.

Thomas was formerly tenant on the Malcolm farm but was succeeded by Reuben Holloway, also colored, the present tenant. Thomas, however, continued to live in a house on the farm and paid rent by working in the Malcolm garden. He was also employed at the Schauber brick yard. It is understood that bad feeling between Thomas and Holloway existed.

same time which first aroused suspifeet apart were afire inside at the same time which first arroused suspicion of incendiarism.

Herbert T. Hartman, prominent retired electrical engineer, died at his home in Queen Anne's County on the Chester River near Chestertown Saturday afternoon in his seventieth year following an illness of fifteen months.

Born in Indiana he entered the electrical engineering business as a young man when the development of electricity as an economical factor for lighting and power was in its infancy. He was associated with Thomas Edison in New York and assisted in the development of the various transformer and arrestor units found necessary to control an even flow of current. FINAL A.A.A. PAYMENTS DUE IN AUGUST

FINAL COMPLIANCE FOR WHEAT CROP ACCEPTED

Payments to farmers for compliance under the former AAA adjustment contracts totaled $136,580,864 from February 11 through June 13, H. R. Tolley, Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act and Related Acts, announced today. The payments are being made under the supplemental appropriation act which provided funds for making the payments after the Supreme Court decision in the Butler case invalidated the former production adjustment contracts.

'These payments, which when completed will total approximately $250,000,000 are being made as rapidly as the necessary auditing work can be done,' Mr. Tolley said. 'It is estimated that most of the payments due to farmers for compliance under the old AAA programs, except those for compliance on 1936 winter wheat plantings, will be paid by the latter part of August. The payments to wheat farmers will take somewhat longer as the checking on compliance is still incomplete.'

Payments through June 13, totaled as follows: cotton $14,525,395.03; wheat $43,058,429.43; corn hogs $61,607,936.70; sugar $14,186,003.78; tobacco $1,737,313.21; rice $198,623.67; and peanuts $1,267,162.50.

FEEDER STEERS FROM DROUGHT AREA

County Agent McVean announces that farmers in Kent are already asking about the possibility of Kent receiving drought stricken steers for grazing as in '34.

At this time it is no t probable that steers will be shipped here for grazing under the former plan. Doubtless the nearby markets will have many steers forced on the market by the drought and which farmers can purchase at public terminal markets. Doubtless federal aid will be given in marketing these cattle. Many Counties are listed for Federal drought relief in Tennessee, Virginia and South Carolina, which may send this cattle to Baltimore.

Mr. McVeans suggests that farmers with excess pasture and with feed, fences and facilities for steer feeding, notify his office as to their need and desire for feeder cattle. Probably the price of feeders will be fair to producer and fair to the purchaser. Flies are a problem now as well as pasture shortage for most farmers. If pastures come back and if corn prospects are good, some Kent farmers, not dairying, may be able to use steers to advantage.

KENT FARMERS ADOPT SOIL CONSERVATION

86 PER CENT OF COUNTY UNDER CONTRACT

County Agent McVean reports a high percentage of Kent farm land covered by work sheets. As of July 1 about seven hundred farms had filed at his office. They represent over 86 per cent. of the farm land of the County.

More work sheets are being completed. More than 90 per cent. of the land will doubtless be represented. Farmers will be visited soon to determine crops and practices they may use to best advantage under existing conditions also to determine amount of acres diverted from depleting crops, also the practices being used in green manure crops.

ORGANIZING TEN TON TOMATO CONTEST

KENT GROWERS URGED TO COMPETE

Plans for the ninth annual Maryland Ten-Ton Tomato Club Contest are just about complete and any Kent growers desiring to enroll should notify their County Agent before August 1. The contest is sponsored by the Extension service in cooperation with the Tri-State Packers' Association and is open and free to all growers in Maryland. Two acres is the minimum that may be entered by any one grower in the contest. Sales receipts are needed as evidence of production.

This year the contest will be conducted somewhat differently in that it will be divided into two parts. The first division will be for those growhaving in excess of five acres entered, and the second division is for growers having in excess of ive acres entered. Gold watches will be awarded the two growers making highest yields per acre in each group and all growers producing ten or more tons to the acre will receive certificates of membership in the Ten-Ton Tomato Club.

The object of the Ten-Ton Tomato Club is to encourage production of higher yields per acre of canning tomatoes. Experience has shown that in general a higher yield means better quality tomatoes and a resulting increase in profits for the grower. Kent growers who have good stands are urged to compete by J. D. McVean, County Agent.

FISHING FAIR TROPHIES ANNOUNCED

The Chesapeake Bay Fishing Fair Association announces the following trophies to be presented to anglers landing the largest fish in the various classifications on 'Fishing Fair Day,' September 12, 1936.

The Senator George L. Radcliffe Trophy.

The Governor Harry W. Nice, Trophy.

The Mayor Howard W. Jackson Trophy.

The Baltimore News Post Trophy.

The Easton Star Democrat Trophy.

The Avalon and Federal Theaters Trophy.

The Chesapeake Bay Fishing Fair Association Trophy.

Several other trophies and prizes will be announced later.

Last week Senator Joseph L. Robinson sent in his membership as did Honorable E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden. Anglers are entering their bag fish for the prizes awarded every month.

Mrs. G. N. Burns, of 1528 Mt. Royal Ave., Baltimore, Maryland, brought in a nice three pound trout fishing off Tangier Sound with Capt.. Wilmer Lawson on July 4, 1936.

The Fishing Fair Association includes the Chesapeake Bay waters. Doc. Brinsfield, of Rock Hall, is an officer in the Association and fishing in Kent County waters is included in the trophy contest for the largest fish caught on hook and line. See Doc. for details.

EMERGENCY HAY CROPS SUGGESTED

Many inquiries are received by the County Agent regarding crops to grow for hay or pasture.

Sudan Grass, 18 to 20 pounds per acre will make good pasture in six weeks from seeding if soil is not too dry. It furnished much grazing and will make fair hay if cut just before it heads out. There is a danger of forage poisoning if grazed after frost has killed the grass.

Soy beans, 1 bushel per acre and allowed to grow a week or two then sow 10 to 20 pounds Sudan grass, will make a better grade hay, if weather is suitable for curing.

Sowed corn, ab ushel or a bushel and a half per acre sowed broadcast will make much fodder or green manure under the Soil Conservation program.

Sowed corn, a bushel or a bushel grains will furnish more and better pasture than other crops, Barley needs sweet soil.

For 1937 hay crop, clover and grass mixture may be seeded at mid August to September 1st with good chance of success, provided seed bed can be properly prepared. The seed bed should be fine and firm as for alfalfa. No annual grasses or legumes should be included in the fall seeding. Attention to lime need should be given if success is to be expected.

LOWER KENT HORSE SHOW AUGUST 18

TO BE STAGED BY ROCK HALL FIRE COMPANY

The lower Kent County Horse Show, to be staged under the auspices of the Rock Hall Volunteer Fire Company, will be held at Shipyard Farm near Rock Hall on the road to Chestertown on Tuesday, August 18th.

The program of events has not been completed to-date although it was announced this week that it will include six races and 10 classes. .

This annual affair, which was inaugurated last year brings together some of the best horse flesh in Kent County. Trophies will be awarded to winners in the various classes.

Maryland's annual 4-H Club Week will be held at the University of Maryland from August 6 to 11, it is announced by E. G. Jenkins, State Boy's Club Agent. More than 400 farm boys and girls from all sections of the State are expected to attend.

SHIPS 2000 BABY TURKEYS

Two thousand day-old baby turkeys were shipped through the local post office by the Bramble Poultry farm on Tuesday of this week. Their destination was to the states of Conneticut, New York and New Jersey.

POULTRYMEN AT OCEAN CITY

The Second Annual Summer meeting of Maryland poultry folk affiliated as The Maryland State Poultry Council will hold a two day meeting at Ocean City, Maryland, July 27 and 28.

A splendid program coupled with recreational opportunity should draw a large attendance.

County Agent McVean is suggesting that Kent growers 'join up' and tour down for a full day at least. The program is well rounded and should have much appeal. Those desiring to go should notify the County Agent.

FEW JAPANESE BEETLES REPORTED HERE

Chestertown has a small infestatiton of Japanese beetles. Thus far there is little evidence of material increase over last year. Trapping and hand picking are quite effective in keeping down numbers and damage. Deterrent sprays and poison sprays are useful in protecting fruit and shrubs. Soil treatment can be used to protect lawns from damage. Care in selecting plants that are not attacked is important. For details see County Agent or write State Entomologist at College Park, Maryland.

DUSTING CROPS WITH AIRPLANES

ELAWARE FARMERS USING MOST MODERN METHOD

The Globe Airways, Inc., of Miami, Florida, has been busy all week dusting beans in the vicinity of Milford, Del., Among the crops dusted have been those of George H. Draper, Jr., Harry Jester, Jr., and many others According to those whose crops have been dusted by plane, the dusting result are much better tha those obtained by the old time mechanical method, which at its best would cover only 72 to 78 per cent of a normal crop. Airplane dusting gives a 95 to 98 per cent coverage and uses less material. A plant can dust 85 acres per hour at an average speed of 130 miles per hour, according to J. L. Merritt, sales manager for the Globe Airways. Only the most modern equipment with a specially constructed air foil is used. Dusting of crops is highly recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture as being most efficient. The dusting is done by H. R. Mitchell, who has had five years experience in airplane crop dusting. A. L. Raymond is manager of the unit dusting at Milford. Prior to coming to Milford the men worked in South Jersey, where they successfully sprayed cranberry bogs, peas, beans and tomatoes.

CAPTAIN WOODALL IN HERO ROLL

LEGISLATORS BRICE AND HUBBARD AMONG RESCUED

Captain Washington Woodall, of Chestertown, commander of the Love Point ferry Pittsburg made the largest rescue in his career this week when he took 420 passengers off the Old Bay Liner State of Virginia after she had been rammed by the ocean freighter Golden Harvest near Seven Foot Knoll near mid-night Tuesday night.

The State of Virginia was returning to Baltimore after a two day cruise on which the Automobile Trade Association was having its annual outing.

Among the rescued were Senator Arthur Brice and Delegate W. R. Hubbard of Kent County, as well as Governor Nice and other State dignitaries.

A troupe of girls who boarded the boat at Annapolis were staging a floor show and things were getting very interesting when the crash came. Mr. Hubbard was thrown from his chair to the floor as were most of the party although no one was injured.

Captain Woodall on his midnight trip from Love Point to Baltimore seeing the accident drove his boat ashore in order to effect the rescue. He rigged an improvised gangplank made of timbers and took the entire group of passengers to Baltimore.

Rescues on the bay are a matter of routine for Captain Woodall as he is constantly picking up small boats in distress as that section of the Bay over which he travels is a haven for yachtsmen.

ICKES ASKS NEW BAY BRIDGE APPLICATION

SAYS REQUESTED FEDERAL FUNDS MUST BE MATERIALLY REDUCED

In reply to a letter from Senator Tydings as to the proper steps to be taken relative to the proposed Chesapeake Bay Bridge, Secrtary Ickes, of the Department of the Interior replied as follows:

'I have your letter of July 3 asking what steps should now be taken by the authority in order to secure favorable consideration of the Chesapeake Bay bridge application. It occurs to me that the authority may wish to submit an amended application substantially reducing the amount of loan requested of the Government.. This, of course, assumes that the remaining portion of construction costs can be supplied by the applicant, possibly from outside sources.

'If this is the case, I shall be glad to receive a formal request embodying the new proposed financial arrangement.

'However, I call to your attention that the moneys available to this Administration are limited and do not be gin to cover the amount represented by pending applications.

'In these circumstances and in view of the large sum requested merely for a grant on the Chesapeake Bay bridge, it may not be possible to go ahead with the construction even if the project should receive approving reports from the examining division.'

Upon receipt of Secretarp Ickes letter Senator Tydings wrote to Mr. Albert Graham, Chairman of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Authority as follows:

'In further reply to your recent communication regarding the Chesapeake Bay bridge, I inclose a copy of a letter I have just received from the Public Works Administration.

'It seems apparent from this enclosed letter that this is the last opportunity to secure Federal funds for the building of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge

'I advise the Chesapeake Bay Authority to file an amended application, as suggested by the Administrator, at the earliest possible date. When this is done, please have the authority contact Senator Radcliffe and me, and we will be glad to arrange a conference and a hearing on the amended application, exhausting every opportunity under the circumstances to secure such help from the Federal Government in accordance with law as will permit sufficient finances to construct the bridge.

'If there is no action taken at this time in filing an amended application, it is doubtful if another opportunity will present itself to this end.

'Both Senator Radcliffe and I stand ready to help and shall be glad to hear form you eraltive thereto.'

It will be remembered that the Bridge Authority requested $4,500,000 from the W. P. A. to help finance the $10,000,000 bridge project and also a loan of $2,750,000 fro mthe R. F. C. The balance was to be raised by outside private capital.

Mr. Graham's only statement as to the new developments was that the entire project hinged on the $4,500,000 grant. He said no alternative plan was under consideration.
