BAY BRIDGE PROJECT ENCOURAGING

FINANCIAL SET-UP POSSIBLE

Two factors—an immediate lack of funds and the routine procedure of considering applications—today held up the PWA's decision of the new request for a $4,500,000 grant to help finance the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

As soon as President Roosevelt releases to the PWA the funds it was authorized by the last Congress to expend, officials explained. Harold L. Ickes, administrator, would be prepared to give a definite answer to the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Authority.

Although the new application will be sent through the regular PWA channels before reaching the final decision stage, officials anticipated no delay would be encountered there. They predicted it would be possible to give a yes or no reply within two weeks after funds have been made available. Uncertainty was expressed, however, as to just when this would be.

In the meantime, it was expected that further impetus would be given the bridge project by a projected conference among Mr. Ickes, Senators Tydings and Radcliffe and Albert D. Graham, chairman of the Bay Bridge Authority.

Early this week, in a letter urging that a new application for the grant be filed, Senator Tydings had notified Mr. Graham that two Maryland Senators would seek to arrange such a conference. Mr. Graham promptly filed the application. Senator Tydings was not in Washington today, but was expected to return next Monday. Senaor Tydings, in his letter to Mr. Graham, also had expressed the belief that a definite commitment from Mr. Ickes could be obtained at the proposed conference.

In Balimore today, Mr. Graham asserted that if Mr. Ickes would commit the PWA to the $4,500,000 grant, bankers could be found to underwrite the remaining $6,000,000 needed to build the bridge.

KENT MAY GET FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS

The possibility that Kent County may share in the Federal farm-to-market road program was evidenced this week by a visit to Chestertown by Mr. Elliott, Shore administrator.

Mr. Elliott's visit was too late to contact the County Commissioners but an appointment was made with them at their meeting August 4.

Billy and Elinor Russell, formerly of Chestertown and now living at Birmingham, Alabama passed through Chestertown on Friday on their way to Salisbury to visit their grandmother, Mrs. W. F. Russell and their father, Mr. W. F. Russell, Jr.
