WOMAN'S COLUMN

O women is our hours of ease
Uncertan coy and hard to please,
And variable as the shade
By the quivering Aspen made.
But when pain and anguish wring the brow,
A ministering angel, thou.

That is what Scott thought of women, years and years ago, long before women were in the lime light as they are now, when all the property they owned became their husbands; when they were expected to stay home and be charming to their lords and masters, long before they had the right of suffrage and had become a power in politics.

Right now in this presidential year it seems that most of the speeches are prepared to impress the women voters. One of the favorite slogans of the Democrats being: 'Roosevelt's Re-election is Women's selection.'

There is some speculation as to what Ruth Bryan Owens, our ambassador to Denmark will do now that she has married a Dane. Will she adopt the country of her husband, and give up her position here? As Roosevelt and his lady were present at the marriage it must has been with the presidents full approval.

WORKING AGIN' NATUR'

The workers among the mountain people have a geat deal of trouble introducing new ideas and new remedies among the mountain people. 'It is agin Natur' they contend.

One of these workers heard of a little girl who needed a tonsil operation badly, and she was dispatched to go to see the father of the child, to see if he would consent to have her sent to the hospital.

She found him coming out of a delapidated shed leading a meek looking mule.

'No, he answered, its agin Natur,' and when she urged hm, he said well I won't and nothings going to make me,' and spitting out a stream of tobacco juice he rode away on the mule.

Looking at the animal going meekly along, the teacher thought that he must have interfered with the nature of the mule in some way.

A young girl came to dinner one evening dressed to go out.

Both her lips and cheeks were rouged and to most observers she made a very charming picture.

Her father, however objected. 'Why do you use that stuff on your face. It is interfering with nature,' he objected and gives you an artificial look.'

But father, it makes me leek better, and I am asking you this question, why do you shave?'

NOW AND THEN

Last night, the moon was at its full and the world was flooded with its light.

In gazing up into the heavens these lines of Alice Meynell's came to our minds;

THE SHEPHERDNESS

She walks the lady of my delight
A shepherdess of sheep,
Her flocks are thoughts, she keeps them white;
She guards them from the steep;
She feeds them on the fragrant height,
And folds them in for sleep.

Sh roams maternal hills and bright,
Deep valleys safe and deep.
Into that tender breast at night
The chastest stars may peep.
She walks the lady of our delight
A Shepherdness of sheep.

She holds her little thoughts in sight.
Though gay they run and leap.
She is so circumspect and right;
She has ker soul to keep.
She walks the lady of my delight
The Shepherdess of sheep.

Long years ago, the heathen worshipped the goddess Diana whom they believed drove the moon car across the heavens. This Diana never married, they believed, though she shed her silvery light on many who were wandering along.

There was one, Endymion who had offended the great Jupiter, and the angry god condemned him to perpetual sleep. The fair Dian, as she drove her car would stop and impress a chaste kiss on the sleepers lips.

uuuuuuuuuuuuuu?y'szfoolmaKedn(iwil

Keats has written a beautiful poem on the subject called 'Endymion.'

There is much talk of correct use of English. Menken says if one speaks English he may easily travels over the world as so many have learned to speak it and understand it. A book that is written in beautiful English is always a delight to the reader. One of the most beautiful sentences in the English language is one found in 'Tristam Strandy' written by Sterne. This is it. 'The accusing spirit as he flew up to Heaven's chancery with the oath, blushed as he gave it in, and the recording angel, as he wrote it down, dropped a tear on the word and blotted it out forever.'

The rain that came on Wednesday night was surely a gracious rain for this locality. Flowers were laying down with not enough energy left to lift their heads. And the heat was very great. On the next morning all of the weary looking plants of the day before were nodding their heads gayly with the breeze. While the birds sang a real Thanksgiving anthem, for they saw the worms coming to the service again, which means for them a luscious dish.

Chestertown has been unusually quiet this summer for the little children, who generally have such a good time here have gone to camp.

All of the children now a days become good swimmers and this exercise together with other athletics are making the American race much larger men and women.

It is the usual thing to see sons and daughters very much taller than their parents are.

TRI-STATE SEAFOOD CONVENTION

WILL LAY PLANS TO REVIVE INDUSTRY IN BAY

A two day convention of seafood packers and dealers from Maryland, Delaware and Virginia will be held at Ocean City, Maryland on Friday and Saturday, August 14th and 15th under the auspices of the Tri-State Seafood Association.

'This will be the largest and most important convention of Seafood packers and dealers ever held along the Atlantic seaboard,' according to George T. Harrison, of Tilghman's Island, Vice President of the Association.

'A newly elected Board of Directors will meet on Friday for lunch. These Directors will nominate officers for the coming year to be voted upon at the conference to follow and will define the policies of the Association regarding many problems confronting the industry in the Chesapeake Bay. These Directors include: Rufus L. Miles and I. T. Ballard, Norfolk, Va.; Floyd W. Moore, Hampton, Va.. J. B. Robinson, Seaford, Del.; J. W. Chew and W. F. Hilgenberg, Baltimore, Md.; Albert W. Woodfield, Galesville, Md.; Percy Purnell, Nelson R. Coulbourne, Isaac H Tawes, C. A. Loockerman, Crisfield Md; C. L. Veach, Cambridge, Md.; G Ellsworth Leary, Rock Hall, Md.; Calvert Jones, Chester, Md.; Made H. Walker, Exmore, Va.; George T. Harrison, Tilghman, Md.; Sterling G. Harris, Centreville, Md.

'We believe the time has come when we must either save the industry or let it die on our hands,' continued Harrison. 'The remedy lies with us who engage in it. We know what should be done. We are certain this group of leaders gathered at this conference will recommend the necessary changes and that our organization is strong enough to put them across.'

Prominent speakers will address the conference but most of the time will be given to speakers from the industry itself who will discuss the problems at first hand.

At the dinner to be given on Friday evening; Dr. R. V. Truitt of the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory will show a picture he has compiled entitled 'Moving Picture Stories of the Crab and Oyster' and Harold F. Turner, of New York, Editor of the Fishing News, will speak. At the session on Saturday the speakers include; Dr. V. D. Vladykov, scientist recently engaged by Maryland to study boy fisheries; Clarence S. Foster, Game and Fesh Commissioner of Delaware; and Judge Robert F. Duer, Chirmn, Conservation Commission of Maryland.

For the industry itself, discussions wil be led by Rufus L. Miles of Norfolk for the oyster industry; George T. Harrison of Tilghman's on the fishing industry; Sterling G. Harris, of Centreville, on the crab industry; Floyd W. Moore on pollution of the Chesapeake Bay, J. W. Chew, of Baltimore, on the marketing of our seafoods.

'From these talks and open discussions, it is expected that definite policies relating to each branch of the industry wil be adopted by the convention,' said Mr. Harrison. And during the year to follow we will do our best, aided by all people interested in conservation and the welfare of this industry, to start the seafood industry of the Chesapeake toward sound improvements.'

'The important point for the public at large to realize is that for the first time the industry has become organized. It organized itself one year ago; this is the second annual convention and during the year in spite of untavorable conditions the Association has grown in numbers and interest. There is determined attitude among all men; packers, dealers, and watermen that the industry shall be restored. They know only too well where the blame lies and what to do about it.'

'What is the opposite of sorrow?' asked the teacher.

'Joy,' answered the lad.

'And the opposite of misery?' pursued the teacher.

'Happiness,' said the pupil.

'And what is the opposite of woe?' was the next question.

'Giddap!' was the quick response.—Selected.

AT THE MOVIES NEXT WEEK

Cary Grant, Franchot Tone, Jean Harlow in "Suzy"

A gay, romantic musical, as fast-stepping as the 'swing tunes' it features, is presented in 'Three Cheers for Love,' Paramount show with Eleanore Whitney and Robert Cummings in leading roles coming on Monday and Tuesday, August 10 and 11 to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Miss Whitney and Cummings are aided by a cast of talented performers, including Louis DaPron and Olympe Bradna, ace dancers; William Frawley and Roscoe Karns, in comedy roles; Veda Ann Borg, John Halliday, Elizabeth Patterson, Grace Bradley and Billy Lee.

Eleanore is the pep-filled, tap-dancing daughter of Halliday, a Hollywood movie producer. Miss Borg, her stepmother, sends her to a finishing school which she believes ultra-correct.

The school, however, has been about to close. Miss Patterson, headmistress and a former vaudeville star, is persuaded by Frawley, an actor out of a job, to keep it open for the one prospective pupil. Frawley's plan is to star Eleanor in a 'school show,' invite her father, and land Hollywood contracts for himself and his whole troupe.

The vandeville performers go into action; chorus girls pose as students, actors pose as profesors. Eleanore, arrived at the school, proceeds to fall in love with Cummings, a song writer who is 'Professor of Music' in the plot.

Cummings, Miss Whitney, Miss Bradna an DapPron introduce several new dances n the musical, among them the sensational ballroom 'Swing-Along.'

'Suzy,' the outstanding new screen attraction showing on Wednesday and Thursday, August 12 and 13 at the New Lyceum Theatre, tells an electrifying story of an American chorus girl stranded in London at the outbreak of the World War and caught in the web of wartime espionage.

Jean Harlow is starred in the new production and has two of the screen's most popular leading mn in Franchot Tone and Cary Grant. Different from any role in which Miss Harlow has ever appeared, it is one that she personally requested to do, and advance reports have it that the role is by far Miss Harlow's finest screen characterization.

A highlight of the picture is Miss Harlow's singing of 'Did I Remember?' a new song written especially for her by the noted song-writing team of Harold Adamson and Walter Donaldson, and one destined to sweep the country as the year's most popular hit.

'Suzy' marks the third reunion of Miss Harlow and Franchot Tone as screen sweethearts within two years. Their previous appearances together were in 'The Girl from Missouri' and 'Reckless.' Cary Grant, completing the romantic triangle, appears with the first time.

The productoin was filmed under the direction of George Fitzmaurice who has to his credit, among numerous film triumphs, the two Garbo successes, 'Mati Hari' and 'As You Desire Me.' The picture was adapted from Herbert Gorman's bst-seller novel by Horace Jackson with additional dialogue by Lenore Coffee.

We recently finished reading of Nero Wolfe's exciting forays in crime detection in Rex Stout's latest mystery yarn, 'Fer de Lance,' and ventured the guess that the portly detective would soon be released from the confines of black type to vent his genius in the real, shadow world of the screen.

We guessed right. At the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday August 14 and 15 as part of a double feature show, Nero Wolfe will be introduced to his millions of magazine admirers and to the countless others who have never made his acquaintance, in the person of Edward Arnold. Appropriately, the title of the new flm, based on the aforementioned 'Fer de Lance,' is 'Meet Nro Wolfe.'

I nthe capable hands of Arnold Wolfe comes to life as a lovable, genuinely brilliant criminologist. Surrounded by his orchids and beer he delves into the mystery cloaking a series of murders and by sheer analysis unwinds the tortured threads of drama an dsuspense to reveal the dramatic story of intrigue and murder.

Sharing the spotlight with Arnold is Lionel Stander, as Archie Goodwin, Wolfe's indomitable aide-decamp. He acts as his master's arm, legs and eyes while Wolfe stays at home nursing his flowers. Stander, as usual, contributes a splendid performance, providing many of the high spots in the film's numerous comedy moments.

Supporting roles are capably portrayed by Victor Jory, Joan Perry, Nana Bryant, John Qualen, Russell Hardie and Dennie Moore. Herbert Biberman directed from a script prepared by Bruce Manning and Howard J. Green.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION PROPOSING AMENDMENTS

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1935, an Act was passed, to wit: Chapter 426 proposing an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," subtitle "Part III-Circuit Courts" providing for an additional Judge in the Sixth Judicial Circuit of Maryland, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection; and

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1935, an Act was passed, to wit: Chapter 584 proposing an amendment to Section 13 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," providing for the appointment of persons by the Governor to fill vacancies in the House of Delegates or in the Senate of the General Assembly of Maryland and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection; and

WHEREAS, at the Extraordinary session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1936, an Act was passed, to wit: Chapter 151 proposing an amendment to Section 39 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," so as to strike out the provision therein to the effect that the General Assembly shall grant no charter for banking purposes, nor renew any banking corporation now in existence, except upon the condition that the stockholders shall be liable to the amount of their respective share or shares of stock in such banking institution, for all its debts and liabilities upon note, bill or otherwise; and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection; in words and figures as follows:

CHAPTER 426

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III-Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of this State, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two houses concurring, that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III-Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth and the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided, and for the third circuit and for the sixth circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the time for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion, the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit herein provided for (shall be elected by the qualified voters of Baltimore and Harford Counties, at the first election that shall be held in said counties subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, and the judge so elected) shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same terms of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for shall be elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the first election that shall be held in said counties subsequent to the adoption of this amendment and none shall be appointed before that time. The judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said County and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1936, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: May 17, 1935.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all of the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment is hereby proposed to Section 13 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 13 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

Section 13. In case of death, disqualification, resignation, refusal to act, expulsion, or removal from the county or city for which he shall have been elected, of any person who shall have been chosen as a Delegate or Senator, or in case of a tie between two or more such qualified persons, the Governor shall appoint a person to fill such vacancy from a person whose name shall be submitted to him in writing by the State Central Committee of the political party with which the Delegate or Senator, so vacating, had been affiliated in the County or District from which he or she was elected, provided that the appointee shall be of the same political party as the person whose office is to be filled; and it shall be the duty of the Governor to make said appointment within fifteen days after the submission thereof to him. In the event there is no State Central Committee in the County or District from which said vacancy is to be filled, the Governor shall within fifteen days after the occurrence of such vacancy appoint a person who is otherwise properly qualified to hold the office of delegate or senator in such District or County. In every case when any person is so appointed by the Governor, his appointment shall be deemed to be for the unexpired term of the person whose office has become vacant.
