The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

Each week everyone says, 'Surely this is the end of the whirl,' but onward we go, until I wonder when we will start to pursue the even tenure of our ways. Young and old alike are on the path this summer, as in the days before old man Depression came crying, 'Knock, Knock.'

It will simplify this chronicle of weekly events if I start at the beginning of the week and work up, so commencing on Monday, there were two small bridge luncheons for out-of-town guests. One was given by Mrs. Eben F. Perkins in honor of Miss Leonora Harris Springer and Miss Charlotte Jane Curry. The other was in honor of Mrs. Gilpin Brown given by Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr., while in the evening Miss Nancy Shakespeare entertained the younger set at a beach and sailing party.

Tuesday—two more luncheons were given for out-of-town guests. Mrs. Paul Titsworth, who has been the house-guest of Miss Anne Smith, was the guest of honor at the party given by her hostess, while Mrs. Browne Metcalfe entertained in honor of Mrs. Louis Skinner. Later in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Severn Miller entertained a number of friends at their home, Hinchingham. Tuesday holds the bag for the week of having the most parties on its list. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davidson and their son, Bill, entertained at a barbecue in honor of house guests from Porto Rico, and finally in the evening, Mrs. Allan Harris invited friends for bridge in honor of Mrs. Louis Skinner and her house-guest, Mrs. Archibald Hamilton.

Wednesday followed with only two events. Doesn't that sound blase? In a couple of months from now, we'll be thinking we are gay if we have two a week. Live in the present though, and before I go philosophizing let's see what went on. All of the young buds motored over to Sudlersville for a luncheon-bridge given by Miss Frances Metcalfe, and in the evening Miss Elizabeth Brown was hostess at a large bridge party in honor of Mrs. Gilpin Brown.

Thursday, we went to the horse-show, saw our friends and neighbors and had a generally good time in between the riding events. But Thursday did not skip by without a party though, for Dr. Esther M. Dole entertained at luncheon-bridge in honor of her house-guest, Miss Ethel M. Dole, of Chicago, and Mrs. Paul E. Titsworth. Miss Alice Dole, by-the-way, has accepted a position in Laurel, Del., as Art Supervisor for the coming year. Miss Dole received her degree in Art at the Maryland Institute last June.

Friday, another luncheon and bridge was given, this one, by Mrs. Gilpin Brown, and to-night is the second of the Junior Dances at the Country Club. Of course, this will be one of the outstanding events for the younger crowd and two buffet suppers will be given beforehand, one by Miss Nancy Shakespeare and the other by Miss Ellen Skinner. Emory Hines will entertain at an Intermission Party and then 'on with the dance,' again.

Well, how's that for a full week? I'll wager I have left out a lot, and if more develops, or some forgotten event comes to mind, I'll pigeon-hole it for next week. Speaking of next week, did you think, alas, there was no more to be? Not so, says the calendar. Tuesday and Wednesday are both checked off, a luncheon-bridge by Mrs. Rolph Townshend and Mrs. Browne Metcalfe together, while the next day, pretty little invitations have been received for a luncheon-bridge from Mrs. R. N. Whaley.

Now, let's see who's a-touring been, and who's a-guesting-in. Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Kibler left Sunday for Camp Red Cloud, Pa., returning yesterday with their son, Jack, and nephew, Jimmy Metcalfe, who have been at camp there for the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Strong and daughter, Miss Mary Jean Strong and Mrs. Barclay Kilbourne are touring Virginia via the Skyline parkway.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Usilton, 3rd, Miss Peggy Wilson, Miss Priscilla Granger, and Mr. S. Scott Beck, Jr., of Chestertown, and Mr. Bud Meador, of Baltimore, returned to Chestertown, yesterday after a week end at Rehoboth as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Browne M. Roe, of Sudlersville.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel D. Sollers and little daughter Sally Dare, of Baltimore, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr.

Mrs. Thos. Atherton and her two children have been guests this week of Mrs. Atherton's mother, Mrs. Lewin W. Wickes.

Mr. Frank Hines, Jr., came yesterday to spend a week with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Hines before sailing for Buenos Aires, where he has accepted a position with the Du Pont company with which he has been for the last three years, in Old Hickory Tenn.

Miss Helen Simpers, of Washington, is spending her vacation with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Simpers.

Miss Mary Margaret Eliason has returned home after spending the summer at a camp in Maine.

Mrs. Anna Pippin, of Annapolis, Md., is the guest of her daughter, Miss Anne Pippin.

Miss Grace Valiant, of Salisbury, Md., has returned to her home after a visit with Miss Hartman, near Chestertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kear and daughters, and Miss Dorothy Secrist, of Wharton, Ohio, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Needles.

Miss Jean Brotemarkle, of Cambridge, returned to her home on Sunday after visiting her cousin, Miss Dorothy Woodall in the Dwyer Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrick Clements and daughter, Miss Frances Alice Clements, have returned to Chestertown after a week at Rehoboth Beach, Del.

Mrs. Dell Hendershott and Miss Margaret Cooper motored home with Mrs. Willis Goodfellow and were guests at her home in Newark Valley, N. Y., for several days.

Mrs. William B. Willis and daughter, Betty Lee, have returned home from a week's visit to Ocean City.

The day is waning, the pencil is worn to the nub, the fingers are cramped, and the news is all told.

Yours en fin,
THE WANDERER.

MRS. SUSIE BRAMBLE DIED AT HER HOME IN CHURCH HILL

Mrs. Susie Bramble, widow of the late Edward Bramble of near Rock Hall, died at her home in Church Hill Friday morning.

She had been at Easton hospital but returned to her home recently and her death was sudden and a shock to her friends. She was a step-mother of Mr. Watler Bramble, of Chestertown.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GIRLS TAKE HONORS AT QUAKER NECK HORSE SHOW

Winning every ribbon in three out of the four events open to experienced riders, a trio of 16-year-old girls topped the field, Saturday, August 22nd, in the sixth annual Quaker Neck Horsemanship Show, held at Rigs O'Marlow, the farm of J. Kellogg Smith.

Marian Grieb, Nancy Shakepeare and arcia Earle cantered away with all the jumping honors. John Mendenhall, riding Magic, won the open saddle class.

Following the horsemanship events, judgement was passed on a special class composed of suckling colts sired by Cool Rock, Irish stallion owned jointly by Mrs. Charles Hulett, J. Kellogg Smith and James Nicklin. First place went to Ali Baba, owned by W. Clarke Greb; second to Lady Cool Rock owned by Theodore Gladsky; and third to Dexter, owned by W. H. Good.

Summary of events:

Pony Saddle Class—1st, Frank Beaver on Honey Boy; 2nd, Herbert Lusby on Dude; 3rd, Barbara Kellogg Smith on Mollie Anne.
