STEPHEN CRANE SPEAKS HERE

INTERIOR DECORATOR OF NEW YORK TALKS TO GARDEN CLUB

A room has no life where flowers do not exist says Stephen Crane in his address to 'Our Garden Club' at the September meeting held at the home of Mrs. Harold Baker.

Mr. Crane in his talk to flower lovers held his listeners tense to hear every word in his advice of placing flowers in a room and their relations to back-ground. He first stressed the beauty of using glass vases, and in fact preferred them always to pottery, to avoid that cut off look of flower from stem and leaves.' Secondly, in arranging flowers, Mr. Crane, suggested that each be put in a vase separately, one at a time, rather than en masse, and afterwards trying to pull out and arrange.

Relative to flowers, and their background, he advised any type of flower might be used provided there was a wooden background—but even so, not to get too many arrangements in one room. Pick out some set places for vases where thy look best in the room and adhere to these spots.

Samples, good and bad, of wall paper containing flowers were exhibited, as well as materials for draperies, and what flowers in a room would go with them was his next theme. Mr. Crane heartily disapproved of artificial flowers and suggested a green plant if the natural flower is unobtainable.

In designing materials, flowers should be of their natural color, while in selecting chintz consider you are looking at it from across the room. Try to get one thing that you can enjoy that will not be confusing.

Question asked by the members at the conclusion brought out the following answers:

1. Disapproval of borders on walls.
2. No moldings.
3. No more than 7 picures in a room.
4. Approval of wall mirrors.

A tour of the Rose Gardens, of Conard Pyle Co., Westover, Pa., will be made Wednesday, September 16. The party will leave from the home of Mrs. Rebecca Speicher at 10 A. M. on that date and the tour is open to anyone interested in roses. Everyone is to take their own lunch.

LOCAL ARTIST EXHIBITS AT FLOWER SHOW

CHESTERTOWN RESIDENT SKETCHES LOCAL SCENES

The exhibition of crayon sketches entitled, 'Things Seen by Ammel,' which is a feature of the Flower Show being staged at the Washington College Gymnasium has aroused quite a bit of interest since the artist is a native of this county and his subjects are all familiar scenes in Chestertown.

J. E. Ammel, the artist, served in the World War and was seriously injured. Until recently his health was so badly affected he was unable to do work of any kind.

He has done quite a bit of poster work beside his sketches. He voluntarily gave his service at Fairlee school teaching art for several years. Quite of bit of his work is still at the school.

The drawings shown at the Flower Show are the following: Scott's Point, Circus Day, 'The Abby' Garden Gate, 'Little Charlie' unloading cargo foot of High street, Christ M. P. Church, North Doorway Reid Hall, The Australia, Wharf foot of High Street, Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chester River Yacht and Country Club 7th Green, Tomato Boats, 'Gateway' Washington Colige, M. E. ## STAGE SAFETY DRIVING DEMONSTRATION HERE

Cliff Bergere, famous automobile racing driver of the Minneapolis Speedway gave spectators a thrill in a safety demonstration at the corner of High and Cross streets on Wednesday of this week.

The demonstration was staged under the auspices of the Maryland State Police and Bergere's part was to show how not to drive. He swung around the corner, both right and left turns at a speed of about 50 miles an hour with all four tires screaming. His demonstration was followed by Officer Crew who showed the proper way to drive. The demonstration was very appropriate at this time as it followed five serious accidents over the past week-end.

HELD ON COLORED GIRL'S DEATH

ACCIDENT NEAR TOLCHESTER MONDAY NIGHT

As a result of an automobile accident near Tolchester Monday night in which Christine Cann, 17 year old colored girl, was killed, John Johnson, driver of the car is being held at the Kent County jail for the action of the Grand Jury at the October term of Court.

According to evidence at the Coroner's inquest conducted by Dr. Frank Smith with Mr. James G. Beck as foreman, the car turned over 3 times on the road near the entrance to Tolchester Lane; that the Cann girl was thrown out and the car rolled over on her crushing her head.

Deputy Sheriffs John Bennett and Earl Pinder, investigating the case found Johnson at his home in Sandy Bottom where he and other occupants of the car, Addie Wickes and William Mason had taken the Cann girl before taking her to a doctor. Officer Blackiston, who later with Deputies Bennett and Pinder, arrested Johnson, stated that Johnson admitted he was driving the car, that the steering apparatus was out or order and that he had taken two drinks on the excursions boat before docking at Tolchester and one more after landing on the wharf.

The verdict of the Coroner's Jury was that Christine Cann came to her death due to negligant driving on the part of John Johnson.

MILDRED COLEMAN KILLED IN AUTO UPSET

EDWIN SEWARD IN CRITICAL CONDITION AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

In an automoble accident near the Julian Jones farm on the Kennedyville-Chestertown highway at 11.30 o'clock Sunday night 17 year old Mildred Coleman died instantly from a broken neck and Edwin Seward is in a critical condition at the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital. Two other occupants of the car, Frances Turner, of Queen Anne's and Norville Patton, of Church Hill and New York received minor cuts and bruises and are suffering from shock. According to testimony at the Coroner's inquest conducted by Dr. Frank Smith, Mr. Bennie Nickerson's car was parked at the side of the road facing toward Chestertown, having run out of gasoline.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Reynolds were returning to their home at Goose Hill; the car in which Miss Coleman was riding and driven by Patton was enroute toward Chestertown from Betterton. The two moving automobiles arrived alongside the parked Nickerson car at the same time and Patton, in attempting to pass the parked car hit it turning over in a half somersault landing bottom up. When it landed the rear of it hit the Reynolds car which Dr. Reynolds had driven in the ditch on the right hand side of the road trying to avoid the accident.

Mildred Coleman and Edwin Seward, who were riding in the rumble seat, were thrown about fifteen feet down the highway and Frances Turner and Norville Patton were pinned under the car. Miss Coleman was killed instantly having received a broken neck and Mr. Seward is suffering with head and internal injuries. Miss Turner who is a nurse at Easton hospital, and Mr. Patton received only minor injuries, and were released from under the car by Dr. Reynolds and Mr. Nickerson.

Officer Blackiston, of the State Police, stated that Norville Patton admitted to him at the hospital that he was driving the car and that he had never owned driver's license. The officer also stated that the Georgia tags on the car were not issued to that car.

Mr. Charles Squares testified that he followed the Patton car all the way from Betterton and that it was traveling at the rate of approximately 35 miles an hour all the way. He arrived at the scene a few seconds after the accident.

The Coroner's Jury did not arrise at any verdict but was continued pending the testimony of Miss Francis Turner, an occupant of the automobile. Miss Turner was unable to attend the inquest this week.

ROTARY CLUB MAKES DONATION TO HOSPITAL

$200 OFFERED FOR FUEL BURNER

Thhe Chestertown Rotary Club this week offered a donation of $200.00 to the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital for the purpose of installing an automatic fuel burner in the heating equipment.

This donation was the result of an investigation which revealed the fact that it is a very needed addition. Under the present system it is necessary for the nurses on duty at night, to tend the furnace during the absence of the janitor. The noise of firing the furnace has also been disturbing to sick patients.

The donation of the Rotary Club will only partly pay for the equipment and the hospital is now looking for funds to make up the difference.

BUSINESS PLACE RENTED HERE

Mr. Burgess, of Wilmington, Del., a sheet metal worker is contemplating locating in Chestertown. He has made arrangements to rent the store room in the Cahall building, owned by Mr. J. F. Thompson.
