WOMAN'S COLUMN

LADY JANE GREY

The movies have brought her sad story to our remembrance; the little sixteen year old girl, who was queen of England for ten days and then ended her short life on the block.

Never was there one less willing to be queen, but when she found that her young cousin, Edward VI had left that she must succeed him, she only accepted it though the persuasions of her powerful father in law.

When the Lords came to her and saluted her as queen she fainted and in recovering she said she knew that she was unfit to ge queen, but if she must she prayed God to direct her how to rule.

She hated to give up her old life for she was very intelligent and found her life most interesting. Furthermore she was married to young Dudley and she hated to exchange the congenial home life for the uncertain life of a queen.

And then they took her to the Tower where she must remain until she was crowned queen. And that was where she spent the ten days when she was ruler of England.

Mary, the oldest daughter of Henry VIII knew that she had the first right to the throne and so when Edward VI died she entered London and claimed the crown.

Then it was that all who were powerful in the last reign were seized and put in prison, The Duke of Northumberland being among them.

Then Lady Jane resigned after ten days dream of royalty and gladly went back to her old home and to her books and domestic duties

Then her friends tried to persuade her to accept the religion of the Queen, but she steadfastl refused, so she and her young husband were taken again to the Tower. On the moring of her execution, she was looking out of the window and saw the body of her husband being carried away in a cart. Then she was led down to execution. She showed the greatest calmness. She said that she knew she had done wrong in taking what was Queen Mary's right, but that she had done it with no bad intention and that she died an humble christian.

And so the short lived queen died in her innocence, the victim of ambitions unscrupulous men. And her memory still rises as a sweet smelling favor. As the psalmist says, 'The righteous will be had in everlasting remembrance.'

Queen Maid of Norway is the aunt of the present king of England. When the king of Norway came to England seeking a wife he told her that he would buy an estate in England, and that she might spend a month there every year. Therofre Queen Maud leaves the Kingdom of her husband every year and sojourns in her beloved England for a month of each year.

Man has always been the inventor, put him to cleaning a house, very soon the vacuum cleaner is invented if it is his task to wash dishes he invents the dish washer electrical machines, and many other contrivances for house hold work.

But to women belong that most important function that of clothing and of interior decoration.

From the clothing of husband and children to the furnishings of houses and the accoutrements of automobiles is but a step for the fashion-conscious American woman. Even so practical a realist as Henry Ford had to scrap the mechanically perfect model T car when America wanted beauty and style. Furniture manufacturers and house designers, architects of office buildings, anyone who makes to sell for profit anything that the modern woman uses or wears, looks to fashion research divisions for guidance. And the fashion analyst, far from trying or wishing to advance this style or that, looks for the answer to the women themselves and to recorded charts of what their most conspicuous representatives have worn and used for the past two years. The purpose of the fashion director is not to show the store how to sell what the manufacturer has made, but rather to show the store how to buy what the public will demand.

When little Victor Emanueul chose for his queen, the princess of Monle Negro, a handsome woman but several inches above her husband, the king looked very insignificant, but his handsome son is much taller than his parent, and when he and his father are together it looks as though he would have to bend down considerably to speak to him. The queen his mother, it is said has never slept on a pillow and is as straight as a die.

Early Strikes in America

The first recorded strike in America took place in 1741, when New York bakers quit work as a protest against a municipal ordinance regulating the price of bread. The earliest known strike for higher wages took place in 1786, when the Philadelphia printers ceased work as a means of enforcing their demand for a minimum weekly wage of $6. The first organized strike in America took place in 1799, when the shoemakers belonging to the Federal Society of Journeymen Cordwainers, were compelled to lay down their tools in order to aid the bootmakers who were seeking an increase in wages.

Prisoner of Chillon

Francois de Bonnevard, forty, the prisoner of Chillon, who was to be made famous by Byron's poetic fable, was freed from a dungeon in Chillon (She-yon') castle, on Lake Geneva, Switzerland, in 1536, after having been imprisoned for six years by his political rival, the duke of Savoy. Legend has it that he was imprisoned for beating his wife. She eventually was thrown into the Rhone, sewn in a sack, for infidelity.

NOW AND THEN

NOW AND THEN

The Moon And Dawn

Although the moon may hide in maze tonight,
Though dark clouds cover in a ghostly shroud;
It revels in its splendor, the pale moonlight
Will soon disperse the gloom-beam through that cloud.
Your magic wands of soft ethereal light
Bewitchingly transfrom the woodland lane;
This subterfuge for dawn not near so bright
Casting upon the eaves a silver stain.
Vain moon! You try to rival Godless Dawn,
Suffusing a soft glow, artistic grace;
At times so bright you nearly rival Dawn
Mischievously deceive! There is no trace—
In banners of light unfuried Dawn cometh nigh
The sun, her silver charlot against the sky.

Baltimore, Arthur F. Bradley

Moonlight and Dawn, both lovely in their turn. Dawn sheds a rosy light varied with many colors while the moon light is ever silvery white. The preparation that the sunrise makes as it starts on its journey through the sky is a sight well worth rising early to see, while moonlight is ever beautiful.

'To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die.' There are so many who though they have passed away are ever present with those who love and admire.

In reading of the life of George Peabody, successful banker that he was he had never the time to make friends of those around him.

It was only in his later age that it was suggested to him, to use his money for others. And so he began; he endowed libraries, museums and gave to Baltimore the Peabody Institute,' which has made Baltimore famous for its love of music.

And now the name of George Peabody is held in grateful remembrance, and he will not be forgotten by prosterity. Rockfelter, who was once known as a money getter, was little thought of, but now his name will be held in reverance by the many that he has helped in his latter life. Age will not be sad if people can look back on a well spent life.

Just because the Flower Show is still in the minds of our flower lovers this paper is copying from the contestants for the $5,000 prize offered by the Atlantic Monthly, to be given to the most poetical six line verse with 'chysantheum' ending the second line.

The prize winning verse has already been copied by this Paper but this is one that is mentioned among the 7000 different verses sent apropos of the season:

AUTUMN

When melancholy days are here
We pluck the last chrysanthemum.
With thrifty thought for winter cheer
We pickle peach, we can the plum,
We tear the last grape from the vine
And, what to me seems very silly,
We make them into awful wine,
Tomatoes into sauce that's chili,
And golden quinces into honey.
Now though to you I may seem dumb
I'll let who will save all this money.
I'll pluck the last chrysanthemum.

Mary Warner

MODEST SARAH

Miss Willing—Sarah, if Mr. Simple calls while I'm out, hold him until I return.

Sarah—Oh, miss, sure I wouldn't like to do that.

More Convenient

Woman—No, I tell you I object to giving money at the door!

Tramp—Well, ma'am, perhaps you'll hand it out of the window. I'm not particular. — Pearson's Weekly.

Tit for Tat

"This pound of butter you sold me is three ounces short."

"Well, I mislaid the pound weight, so I had to weigh it by the pound of steak you sold me yesterday."—London Answers Magazine.

Law and Authority

"Do you think women should study law?"

"No," said Miss Cayenne. "Men can look after the law. All a clever woman needs to do is to supervise the authority."

The Main Requisite

"Do you have to have talent to make a living at writing jokes?" asked the fair one.

"No," returned the humorist; "all you need is a steady income from some other source."

Coming Up

"How would you like your egg served, sir?"

"Is there any difference in price?"

"None whatever, sir."

"Then serve it on a thick slice of ham."

Waits for the Empty Space

I was warning my little neighbor about being careful crossing streets. "Oh, don't worry," the child assured me. "I always wait for the empty space to come by."—Royal Arcanum.

AT THE MOVIES NEXT WEEK

TEXAS RANGER

Fred MacMurray and Jack Oakie as they appear, first as banidts and then as peace officers, in the film epic 'The Texas Rangers,' coming on Friday and Saturday, September 25 and 26, to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Not one but four young, handsome and romantic leading men score with Joan Crawford in her new picture, 'The Gorgeous Hussy,' dramatic romance of the nation's capital in the early nineteenth century, which comes to the New Lyceum on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, September 21, 22, 23.

Co-starred with Miss Crawford along with Lionel Barrymore, is the sensational Robert Taylor, the most talked-about 'discovery' since Clark Gable. Taylor, in a brilliant performance, appears as 'Bow' Timberlake, officer on the U. S. S. Constitution and the first husband of tempestuous Peggy O'Neal, daughter of a tavern-keeper who rose to an amazing career as the First Lady of Democracy.

Franchot Tone, making his first appearance with Miss Crawford since their marriage, checks up another sterling portrayal as John Eaton, Minister to Spain, who ultimately saves Peggy O'Neal from the scandal spreading tongues of Washington society.

Others who add to a picture remarkable for its superb acting are Melvyn Douglas as John Randolph of Virginia, the man with whom Peggy O'Neal first fall in love; and James Stewart as the fictional character of 'Rowdy' Dow-dashing Wahsington newspaperman, who also offers his hand and heart to the flirtatious Peggy.

Throughout the story of 'The Gorgeous Hussy' stalk such colorful characters as Andrew Jackson, Dolly Madison, Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, Martin Van Buren, John Calhoun and a host of other famous figures in American politics one hundred and twenty-five years ago.

The production bears all the earmarks of the directorial genius of Clarence-Brown, the man who has produced such hits at 'Ah, Wilderness!' 'Anna Karenina' and 'A Free Soul.' In 'The Gorgeous Hussy' he shares honors with the stars in creating one of the major photoplay triumphs of the year.

A glimpse of the world in which your great-great-grandchildren will live can be seen in 'Things To Come,' H. G. Wells' amazing prediction of the future, which shows at the New Lyceum on Thursday, September 24.

This breath-taking Alexander Korda production shows the annihilation of our present civilization by the next world war and the reconstruction of the world by a group of scientists.

In this marvelous Utopia of 2036, according to Mr. Wells, life will be lived almost entirely in wonderful, spotless underground cities, flooded with artificial sunlight, and ventilated by air conditioning appartus. Houses will be made entirely of glass, and clothing, furniture and architecture will reach the ultimate in beauty, simplicity and utility.

Mammoth machines will do man's work, life will be leisurely and culture will flower Science will expand its scope and young people will seek adventure as passengers in a gigantic projectile shot from a space gun to the moon.

Raymond Massey, Ralph Richardson, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Pearl Argyle, Margarette Scott and Patricia Hilliard head a cast of 20,000 in this marvelous film which the distinguished William Cameron Menzies directed. Georges Perinal is credited with the photography, Ned Mann with the special effects and Harry Zech with the trick photograph. The magnificent sets were designed by Vincent Korda, with the aid of Frank Wells, son of the author, and Arthur Bliss created the imposing musical background. 'Things To Come' is a London film and is released thrugh Artists.

Fred MacMurray, Jack Oakie and Jean Parker have leading roles in King Vidor"s history-making epic of the early days of the Lone Star State, 'The Texas Rangers,' booked to show at the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, September 25 and 26.

Setting a moving, romantic story against a background of action, 'The Texas Rangers' recreates scenes of early Texan history, showing for the first time the vast job undertaken by the state Rangers when they swore to drive out Indians, kill bandits, and make Texas a reasonably safe place in which to live.

Both MacMurray and Oakie join the feareless band of peace-officers in the picture, first simply in order to gain an easy living and then, inspired by the ideal of the Ranger organization, with real intent to carry out the oath.

Action-filled, dramatic, and reflecting an accurate historic background, 'The Texas Rangers' is liberally rounded out with comedy, provided by the irrepressible Oakie, and with romance, centering around MacMurray and Miss Parker.

Chief supporting roles in the film are carried by Lloyd Nolan, Edward Ellis, Bennie Bartlett, and other outstanding movie personalities.

The screen play for the picture was written by Vidor and Louis Stevens, San FRrancisco newspaperman whose 'Here Come Pancho Vila' and ' All the King's Horses' were immediate best-sellrs. Months of research into the history of Texas and the Rangers went into making of the film.

Camel Family in Africa

Of the two wild species of the camel family found in South Africa, the Guanaco is the larger, and both the llama and alpaca are domesticated varieties of these creatures. The alpaca is not employed as a beast of burden. It was produced by using the domesticated llama in artificial breeding with reference to its improvement in the coat of wool.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1935, an Act was passed, to wit: Chapter 426 proposing an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," subtitle "Part III-Circuit Courts" providing for an additional Judge in the Sixth Judicial Circuit of Maryland, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection; and

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1935, an Act was passed, to wit: Chapter 584 proposing an amendment to Section 13 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," providing for the appointment of persons by the Governor to fill vacancies in the House of Delegates or in the Senate of the General Assembly of Maryland and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection; and

WHEREAS, at the Extraordinary session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1936, an Act was passed, to wit: Chapter 151 proposing an amendment to Section 39 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," so as to strike out the provision therein to the effect that the General Assembly shall grant no charter for banking purposes, nor renew any banking corporation now in existence, except upon the condition that the stockholders shall be liable to the amount of their respective share or shares of stock in such banking institution, for all its debts and liabilities upon note, bill or otherwise; and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection; in words and figures as follows:

CHAPTER 426

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III-Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of this State, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two houses concurring, that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III-Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth and the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided, and for the third circuit and for the sixth circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the time for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion, the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit herein provided for (shall be elected by the qualified voters of Baltimore and Harford Counties, at the first election that shall be held in said counties subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, and the judge so elected) shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same terms of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for shall be elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the first election that shall be held in said counties subsequent to the adoption of this amendment and none shall be appointed before that time. The judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said County and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1936, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Easy Pleasant Way To LOSE FAT

How would you like to lose 15 pounds of fat in a month and at the same time increase your energy and improve your health?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent hips and abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

Get on the scale to-day and see how much you weigh—then get a bottle of Kruschen Salts that costs next to nothing and which will last you 4 weeks. Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water in the morning—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends, "One bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money."

But refuse imitations—safeguard your health—you loose fat SAFELY the Kruschen way.

NOTE—Many people find that the only diet change necessary while taking Kruschen regularly is TO EAT LESS.

FOR THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibility rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.

Funeral Director.
