CHURCH NOTES

RADIANT LIVING

A Little Friend of Mine

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville

Across the street I have a little friend whose radiant brightness has cheered me through many a dark night. Although he is only that little street light up on the pole, yet in those sleepless midnight hours he pours his cheery radiance into my bedroom as though he were bidding me to forget the haunting problems of the day. Often he seems to say to me: "Go to sleep and forget your troubles; I will watch over you through the night."

During the warm summer evening when the leaves of the closeby maple are dancing in his mellow radiance like so many frolicking nymphs, my little friend would now and then peak through their merry masses and send their shadows scampering about upon my bedroom wall.

And on those rainy nights too, when a steady drizzle was falling and the autos went slowly slouching by, or now and then, some dark figure half hidden under a lowheld umbrella would for the moment emerge out of the dark mists of the drizzle and pass through the little area lit by his feeble rays, my optimistic little friend, with evrey ounce of his energy, would struggle to light the belated travelor on his way.

One night my little friend ceased to shine. Need I tell you how dark it was—and how lonesome. And as I kept missing him, I began to wonder if any one had ever bee made a little more cheerful, a little brighter, a little less lonesome because of what small radiancy of cheer might be mine to give.

I resolved that I would more brightly shine.

At dinner that evening they told me that some men had come that day to fix the street light across the way. My heart leaped!

As I thrust up my bedroom curtain in anticipation of greeting again my llittle friend, there he was beaming with what seemed to be a thousand fold having won me to a little more faithful n't ccontain himself for the joy of brghter glow, as though he just couldshining.

Morning Worship at 11:00 Mrs. Robert Shallcross, organist. Special singing arranged by the choir directed by Mrs. Frances Taylor. Sermon by the pastor, subject: "Faith." At the church we meet friends in the pleasant hush of the House of God. This is part of the important social side of church-going. Did you ever stop to think that there never has been devised any means of making and maintaining human contacts so generally workable and satisfactory as church-going? Some social relationships we must have, or lead lonely, unnatural, hermit lives. The gathering together in the bond of a common belief is far different from the week-day elbow rubbing with our fellows. For at church we are joined in a community of worship, swayed by the same solemn rhythm of faith. Be sure and attend the church of your choice next Sunday.

7:00 P. M.—League and Young People's Service. This is an inspiring and uplifting service and everybody should attend.

7:30 P. M.—Evening Worship beginning with song service. Special music by the choir. Preaching by "the boy preacher" Charles Schaffer. Don't fail to hear God's message through him.

YOU ANSWER

Under Republican Rule at Washington:

1. The Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act was passed causing farm and industrial producers of the United States to lose four billion dollars worth of foreign orders for U. S. goods.
2. More than twelve million of our people were unemployed.
3. There was an average of 900 bank failures a year from 1921 to 1932.
4. The National Debt was increased by six and one half billion dollars.
5. 900,000 farms went under the auctioneer's hammer.
6. Fourteen and one half billion dollars were sent to foreign governments in loans, much of which is in default or lost.
7. Trade restrictions all over the world were established, thus driving one country after another off the gold standard and making depreciated currencies an international byword.

Should this same Republican Party be entrusted with the management of our national goverment during the next four years?
