SHOREMEN TO FACE HOPKINS FRIDAY NIGHT

Badly battered in holding the powerful Upsala College eleven to a 7-7 tie on Saturday Washington College may face Hopkins at Homewood on Friday night with its small squad riddled by injuries to outstanding players. Monday's light drill found Cain, Huffman, Wilmot and Zebrowski on the injured list, and the hurts were of such a nature that the slightest aggravation might keep them on the bench.

Washington, with its squad at top strength, would be favored over the Blue Jays. But Hopkins will prove no setup. Against Lehigh last Saturday they did better than even their fondest supporter had hoped and against Washington will be primed for a battle to stay out of the depths in Maryland collegiate football.

George Ekaitis, Washington mentor, is hopeful but not optimistic over Friday night's fray. He knows his squad was battered against Upsala, he knows some of his players are not in shape and he can look for a letdown after such a fine display as that in the last game.

Ekaitis is especially pleased with the way the line performed against Upsala. The vaunted running attack of the visitors could never get started. The Washington line, Kilby in particular, was smashing through on practically every play to get the runner behind or at the line of scrimmage or breaking up the interference.

A victory over Hopkins Friday evening would put the Shoremen in a fine spot for the Homecoming game with Susquehanna here on October 24 and the contest should draw a great crowd of football fans from all sections of the peninsula.

WORTON

Whereas now under Roosevelt hogs sell for ten cents a pound; wheat $1.17 a bushel; corn $1.16 a bushel.

Furthermore four out of every ten persons employed in industry owe their jobs to Farm Recovery.
