HI SPOTS FROM THE HI SCHOOL

By EMORY M. HINES, JR.

This past week, November 9 to 15, was set aside by the whole nation as National Education Week. In conjunction with the observance of that occasion, the faculty and pupils of C. H. S. opened the building to all parents who were interested to visit htem and see them at work, any time from nine till three. The idea was promoted primarily to increase the interest between parent and school, which, sad to relate, has declined dreadfully in the past few years. Several persons took advantage of the invitation, and we thank them for their interest.

The REFLECTOR, monthly student publication, finding the need of another typpist, has recently appointed to act and work with Merritt Robinson and Martha Wessell.

Interested universally, the economics class under the guidance of Miss Riches, is planning a trip to the assembly plant of the Ford Motor Company in Chester, Pa. The student members of the P. A. D. group will make the journey supposedly on this coming Wednesday, the twentieth, using private cars to transport them. It is of particular significance to see the plant at this time for the class is studying the topic of mass production and factory conditions.

The DRAGON staff is now deep in the production of the Senior's yearbook, and articles and write-ups are already being written. Subscription blanks for the annual book were distributed this week as part of the November drive for sales. Each month a certain quota of funds must be raised and the amount needed by November thirtieth is $65.25. Awarding of the contract has not been established but the "Funny" to figure bids on is completed.

The wires that carry the electricity from battries to bells to warn classes and tell them when to change have been in the hospital for the past week. Reason: age, one wonders how many years old they really are, crept up on them, causing one of them to die. And did he leave an incomplete connection! Wel, it all boils down to the fact that a compplete tracing of the whole system has been done by local electricians wh odo doubt have remedied the ailing by the time you read this. (I bet the bells will be twice as large Monday.)

Last Friday, November sixth, the soccer and fieldball season was brought to a close by an optimisic meet with Galena. The boys' two worthwhile goals bringing the score out to 6-0; while the girls had unfortunate luck and lost, 18-7. Even though the local booter didn't take any county championship (And by the way, we congratulate Rock Hall on their victory, and are sorry they lost to Centreville) we all feel that they did their best. And so, lower classmen, carry on next year!

Of the most active of clubs in the school, the Debate Club probably comes first from the standpoint of nws values. In their last meeting they decided that they would begin to reach towards their primary ambition, interscholastic debating. Accordingly, over fourteen schools are being written to, each questioned as to whether they are interested or not. When replies are received, we'll let YOU know what the next plans are.

At the last meeting of the Dramatic Club, the various committees to take charge of production of the play were appointed by the president, Miss Kitty Bringman. They follow:

Advertising committee: Emory Hines, Betty Lewis, Frances Kreeger and Nina Ford.

Candy committee: Jeanette Sutton, Elizabeth Lusby, Maria Petry and Laurar Greenwood.

Music: Joe Weer and Sara Spiecher.

Propertes committee: Louis Anthony, Ellen Bordley ,Ruth McVean and Mary Tucker Lusby.

Ushers: Frances Kreeger, Nina Ford, Ruth McVean, Mary Landon Russell, Helen Westcott, Catherine Lusby, Josephine Hastings and Harriett Coleman.

Prompter: Charlotte Russell.

Tickets for "Campus Quarantine" can be bought from any high school student, and because of the low admission price, twenty-five cents, there will not be any reserved seats. So come early on November 23 and be ready for the eight-fifteen curtain.

It is at this time of the year that those familiar phrases come forth from most students, "It's quarterly exam time." During the latter part of this month the first tests of the year are given. So now you now why all the sudden work is coming forth.

A new sport on the athletic field, is the start of field hockey, under the direction of Miss Bryan and Miss Elizabeth Brown.

The girls are going in for strenuous practice and hope to schedule several nearby teams in competition Good luck!

To pay for food in food is the new system now able to be used in the cafeteria. In other words, bartering, an old method of doing business is just as effective now. Anyone, say, who brings in a dozen eggs will be able to receive the egg's market price worth of current food. It is felt tha tthis method will provide better resources for both the cafe teria under Mrs. Comegys direction, and the student supplying the material.
