THE SUCCESSFUL EFFORTS on the part of a group of farmers in Kent County to rehabilitate one farmer who had completely lost all of his stock through fire is an example that should be of interest to the various Federal Agencies. This particular farmer lost all immediate means of supporting a large family and a group of friends and neighbors will replace his stock through county-wide donations. In this particular case there is no expense to the plan, no red tape or nuemrous regulations. It is just a question of helping one who has suffered a loss through no fault of his own. Another outstanding point of this recently inaugurated plan is that it will not work unless the subject is worthy, it is not a case of getting something for nothing by sitting down and complaining about ones troubles. It is merely a case of meeting a situation that needed to be met and meeting it in a common sense way. The statement was made when the sales tax was passed for relief that Kent County will take care of its own; this is an example of it provided it is worthy and who knows the worth better than friends and neighbors.

Governor Asks Solons To Present None But Security

A special session of the Legislature, if called to enact a State unemployment insurance law, should confine its activities to that question only, Governor Nice said yesterday as he prepared for a conference today on the proposed legislation.

Under the Social Security Act, States which have no unemployment insurance laws by December 31 will lose all claim to their share of the one per cent. payroll tax due in January on 1936 payroll. The possible loss to Maryland in the absence of such a law on the State's books would amount to approximately $3,250,000.

"Firm" In Belief

Governor Nice also said that he was "firm in my belief that such a special session should not continue for more than three days," and that the business of passing a State unemployment bill could be finished in that time.

The Governor explained he has hesitated in calling a special session because of the cost to the taxpayers. In order that he may have the best possible advice, he has invited the entire Congressional delegation from Maryland to join the conference today. Invitations were sent to Senators Tydings and Radcliffe and Representatives Cole, Goldsborough, Palmisano, Kennedy, Gambrill and Lewis.

"Because the next general session of the Legislature will begin within a fw days aftre a special session would be convened, it is obligatory that only matters pertaining to the bill in question be considered,'

Resolutions of Respect

The death of Howard Turner, a fellow director of the Kent County Savings Bank, was announced at the meeting of the Board of Directors, Wednesday, November 18th, 1936. It was received with general regret, and at this meeting of the Board, one week later, the following memorial was offered and action taken to spread same upon the minutes of the bank, to send a copy to the family and publish same.

Howard Turner succeeded his father as director of the Bank and was a constant booster of its success. He was a regular attendant upon the meetings of the Board of Directors and his cheerful manner attracted each one to him. He was an indefatigable worker in business and in every undertaking of his career. He took upon himself a responsibility which spurred him on to do everything possible for the best interest of the bank.

He was held in the highest esteem by his fellow directors, not only because of his indomitable energy in all his undertaking in the Bank, but also for his many sterling qualities.

His loss is deeply regretted by this Bank, by the town of Betterton and by the people of Kent County. His influence was felt in business, civil and social circles and it is with sincere sorrow we note Mr. Turner's passing and dedicate this tribute to his memory. He was faithful to every trust and steadfast in the things that make life worthwhile.

To the bereaved family we tender assurance of the profound regard in which he will ever be held in the memory of our directors and extend to them our warmest sympathy in the hour of their deep sorrow.

Resolved, that the foregoing be spread upon the minutes of this Bank, a copy sent to the family and to the local press.

Respectfully submitted,
FREDERICK G. USILTON,
JEFFERSON D. BACCHUS,
CHAS. N. SATTERFIELD.
