RADIANT LIVING

The City of God

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

The sixteenth chapter of Isaiah is one of the most glowing prophecies of the restoration of the old city of Jerusalem that is to be found in the Holy Scriptures.

Having its origin lost in the haze of antiquity, Jerusalem was never captured but remained a strong Jebusite stronghold until it was taken by David. Four hundred and twenty years later it was captured by Nebuchadnezzar after which it was for a long number of years but an insignificant group of miserable ruins.

Later, Isaiah, with a glowing prophecy, declared that the old ruins shall become a glorious city. "The Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended!" he predicted.

Have you ever thought of your inner being, the mind, as a "city"? As with a metropolis, so it is with the mind; it has a multiplicity of interests, enterprises and industries. Bunyon, in speaking of this inner city, calls it the City of Mansoul.

In Isaiah's prophecy, the grim old city of Jerusalem, the scene of strife and bloodshed and ruin, to become glorified by the presence of God. It was to be Mt. Zion, the place of God's abode.

Today the Zion City of God is an inner city composed of a pure mind and a sanctified heart, made glorious radiant by His divine Presence.

HIGH SPOTS FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL

By EMORY M. HINES, JR.

Last Thursday night of December 17th the annual soccer-fieldball banquet took the limelight as being tops in the weeks news. Very appropriately trimmed and decorated in the traditional Chrismtas colors of red and green. Attractive place cards on vited to their seats, while a most tempting dinner was served. The menu follows: fruit cup, first course; Turkey and dressing, sweet potatoes, macaroni, cranberries, peas, pickles and olives, celery and cole slaw, and rolls and butter, second course; and ice cream, with chocolate sauce and cake with coffee, mints, and nuts, making up the last course. What more could have been asked for, let alone eaten?

From the running around of the two class editors of the DRAGON in search of material and facts to compose their article on the history of our old alma mater, some sort of indebtedness ought to be established. For Nellie Bexley and Harry Hendrickson have scoured the town in their search for historical material that might concern anything about the school before 1915. So, readers, if you happen by memory, or by other means, know something of our past, just give either of the two a ring and I am sure that they would be more than grateful.

That the journalism class is now a newspaper office with piles of copy around is of no question if one just takes one peek into Miss Riches's home room which is now being used as the staff's office. Into journalistic coils are they thrown for the last week as Charlotte Russell, editor, keeps pushing the work on in a fast pcae in order to make publication date. To picture the actual periods that have occured would take too much space, but the humor and variety of questions and sentences which the ten editing seniors have would more than fill a book. Anxiously now, we await the January issue. And from all the publicity the class is receiving, it certainly ought to be a masterpiece or two!

Last Friday, the 18th, those home rooms that were all paid up in their activity dues were given a treat by the school—a dixie cup to each member of the classes. At the time this column is going to press, the actual winners can not be announced, but Mr. Pool's and Mr. Hall's home rooms seem to be the most likely ones to win. Appropriate indeed is the proverb, "To the victor belong the spoils."

Hi-Spots this week include: students eagerly decorating rooms for Christmas . . . . and then hurridly untriming trees at 3:00 P. M. on Friday . . . . the quick acceptance of the free dixies by those lucky ones elegable for them . . . . the shedding of the "whodeadums" in Miss Riches's room . . . . the mixed harmony from the home room programs . . . . the grins and laughter of those who attended the Freshmen-Sophomore Dramatics Club play . . . . tiresome advertising that intercepts the radio programs from the assembly table model . . . . the withdrawal of former King Edward and Mrs. Simpson from the news discussions . . . . equal excitement and restlessness of the teachers with students to start their Christmas vacation . . . . the complete absence of mirrors anywhere to reflect one's image . . . . the mixup in economics class whether Chiang captured Chang or Chang captured Chiang in the Chinese situation . . . . the muddy trouble anyone can get into if he steps from the sidewalks connecting the driveway and school entrance . . . . the snow that has been supposed to come for all this month . . . . and last but not least, your correspondent's great bog, (maybe I'd better say it in terms of Hollywood descriptions as "tremendous, gigantic, etc.) wish for a joyous Christmas and a happy New Year. And I'll see you again in '37.

Serve Cinnamon Cup Cakes At Your Party

Cup cakes! Children's and grown ups' favorites. But when they're cinnamon ones they become almost "party" cakes.

CINNAMON CUP CAKES
½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1¾ cups flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon cinnamon
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream butter and sugar together. Add the eggs and beat thoroughly. Mix together and sift all dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk to the creamed mixture. Add vanilla extract. Pour into greased muffin tins. Bake in oven of 375 F. for about 25 minutes. Frost with boiled icing.

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless ittle acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.
